GOVERNOR ROOSEVELT WINS OVER MURRAY IN RECORD NORTH DAKOTA DEMOCRATIC VOTE

Democratic Group Decides To Bolt Against Sales Tax

ACTION IS TAKEN AT SECRET SESSION

House Agrees To Conclude General Debate on Measure After Special Meeting Tonight.

BY CECIL B. DICKSON.

WASHINGTON, March 16.—(AP)—Approximately 50 democrats from southern and midwestern states tonight at a secret session decided to bolt the party leadership and join the republican independents in an attempt to defeat the sales tax in the new revenue bill.

The move, tantamount to an open revolt, was the first of its sort since the democrats assumed control of the house and elected Speaker Garner. It came shortly after the republican independents at another closed session decided to ignore the republican leadership on the bi-partisan legislation designed to balance the federal budget.

The chairman of the democratic group, Representative Doughton, of North Carolina, a member of the ways and means committee that drafted the $1,096,000,000 bill, announced:

"It is apparent an overwhelming majority of the democrats in the house are opposed to the bill and we believe we will beat it."

Sales Provision Protested.

Although he did not specify, the chief objection of the group is to the sales provision designed to bring in nearly $600,000,000.

He said "ways and means were discussed to defeat it" but he did not divulge the plan of campaign.

At the suggestion of Acting Chairman Crisp, of the ways and means committee, the house agreed today to conclude general debate on the revenue measure after a special meeting tomorrow night. On Friday the big battle of the session will open when reading of the bill for amendment begins. The final vote will not come until late next week.

A group of 26 republicans and democratic independents, headed by Representative LaGuardia, republican, New York, and terming themselves "allied progressives," made plans at their meeting to fight the 2.25 per cent sales levy, but decided on no substitute plans.

Definite decision of the big New York democratic delegation of 23 members to support the sales tax was made known to the leaders of both parties.

MISSISSIPPIANS MARCH ON CAPITOL IN PROTESTING TAX

All-Day Demonstration Climaxed by Invasion of Ante Chamber of Governor's Office.

JACKSON, Miss., March 16.—(AP)—An all-day demonstration here today against the administration's proposed 3 per cent retail sales tax was climaxed this afternoon with a march on the state capitol building where protesters sought to force an entrance into Governor Sennett Conner's office.

Friends of the governor who filled the ante chamber of the executive chambers informed them that the governor was at a downtown hotel.

Near panic reigned at the governor's door when Representative Sam Lumpkin, of Tupelo, who was carrying an unfinished walking stick in his hand, spoke sharply to the group pressing nearest the entrance with a warning not to attempt a forced entrance, and an unidentified man in the crowd drew a pistol.

The man was hustled away into the crowd after Miss Lena Brock, private secretary to the governor, who refused to move from the door during the demonstration, screamed "Don't do that."

The wife and mother of Governor Conner, who were in the outer office, witnessed the scene.

PINCHOT CLAIMS NEEDY STARVING

Pennsylvania Governor Only Executive Reporting Extreme of Want.

WASHINGTON, March 16.—(AP)—Telegrams from 40 governors asserting—with a single exception—that they know of no starvation in their states were exhibited in the senate today by Senator Bingham, republican, Connecticut, in opposing the democratic road construction relief bill.

From Pennsylvania's governor, Gifford Pinchot, came the lone affirmative reply to Bingham's inquiry as to whether people are actually starving.

"We know starvation is widespread, but no one has enumerated the starving," said Pinchot in a fiery message assailing "standpat democrats and republicans" for "refusal to give relief to suffering people."

The replies of some of the governors—notably Albert C. Ritchie, of Maryland—not only denied most emphatically that any of their people were starving, but indicated resentment that such a question should even be asked.

Two governors estimated unemployment in their states at 1,000,000 or more. They were Pinchot and Louis L. Emmerson, of Illinois.

On the basis of the replies received Bingham estimated the total number of jobless in the nation at 6,000,000.

Arguing against the $132,000,000 emergency highway construction bill passed by the democratic house, he said the number of unemployed had been greatly exaggerated in the senate

GEORGIA TO SAVE $25,000 INTEREST ON SCHOOL LOAN

Russell Negotiates With Banks, Borrows $2,000,000 at 5 1-4 Per Cent; Matures in January.

By an agreement between a group of Georgia banks all over the state and Governor Russell, reached Wednesday afternoon, the state will be able to borrow $2,000,000 for the public schools at a saving of "more than $25,000," under the 6 1-4 interest rate bid last Saturday on two loans of $1,400,000 and $750,000. The rate agreed on is 5 1-4 per cent.

The law requires that money borrowed for the schools, to the limit of $3,500,000, shall be paid back out of taxes collected for the year in which the loan was made. The money borrowed Wednesday must be paid out of taxes assessed for 1932 and the entire loan matures in January, 1933.

The new rate, the governor's formal statement said, "is considerably lower than that being charged at the present time on short-time loans to a large majority of the states of the Union," and is lower than the rate paid by the state on a $3,500,000 loan made in 1929.

The proceeds of the loan will go to the payment of part of the state's appropriations annually to the support of the public schools throughout the state.

In addition to Atlanta institutions participating in the syndicate, banks at Augusta, Columbus, Macon, Rome, Savannah, Albany and LaGrange form a part of the group. Atlanta banks and banking firms were the First National, Citizens & Southern National, Trust Company of Georgia, Fulton National bank, J. H. Hilsman & Company, Inc., and Courts & Company.

Out-of-Atlanta banks were the National Exchange, Augusta; Fourth National, Columbus; First National Bank & Trust Company, Macon; First National, Rome; Liberty National Bank & Trust Company, Savannah; Albany Exchange National bank and the LaGrange National bank.

Officials interested in the loan said that as a result of Wednesday's trade "baby loans" would not be floated at this time and probably not at all. If an issue is offered, it is understood, it will be for a comparatively short time and a small sum.

The official statement of Governor Russell said:

"Through the co-operation of a group of Georgia bankers the state of Georgia has been able to borrow the sum of $2,000,000 for payment to

'Red' Foster Shot Dead After Wounding Bandit

Popular Member of Police Force, Off Duty, Gives Life in Effort To Stop North Boulevard Robbery; Negro Dying.

Detective Frank C. (Red) Foster, one of the aces of the police department and the trusted investigator of Chief of Police James L. Beavers, was shot and killed by one of four members of a negro bandit gang shortly after 11 o'clock Wednesday night in an attempted robbery of the Boulevard Delicatessen, North Boulevard and Boulevard place.

One of the negroes, Harold White, 16 years old, was probably fatally wounded by Foster, who shot after he had been wounded near the heart and was falling to the floor. The negro, who was carried to Grady hospital, was unable to make a statement to the police.

Foster, who had just gone off duty and had stopped at the lunchroom for a cup of coffee, was one of three white men in the store when the bandits entered. The others were T. N. Routson and Chris Stevens, employes of the delicatessen.

Foster was accustomed to stop almost nightly at the place for a lunch before going home. He was sitting in the rear of the establishment with Routson when the four negroes entered. Stevens was in the front of the store.

The negroes separated, two heading toward that section where Foster and Routson were sitting and the others approaching Stevens.

"Look out, it's a holdup!" Stevens cried.

White and one of his companions who were heading toward the rear of the store jumped behind a counter and immediately opened fire on Foster, who had risen and was drawing his pistol from a shoulder holster.

The first bullet fired by the young negro struck the detective near the heart and he fell to the floor. In falling he fired three times, two of the bullets striking White. The negro fired once more as Foster was falling, the second bullet striking the detective in the head.

The other negroes who had "covered" Stevens ran from the place and by the time White's companion reached them they had their small automobile started and had fled, leaving White in a dying condition. Stevens and Routson called the police

PROTOCOL DISPUTE CONFUSES SENATE

Stimson Called Upon to Explain New Formula for Court Adherence.

BY FRANCIS M. STEPHENSON.

WASHINGTON, March 16.—(AP)—The revised plan for American adherence to the world court was buried deeper in the senate foreign relations committee today under a confusion of views on its interpretation.

The committee is at odds on whether the court, under the new protocol, will have advisory jurisdiction over the United States—an authority which was banned by the senate in voting adherence six years ago.

After another round of argument, the committee called Secretary Stimson to give his ideas on the new formula for American adherence. He will be heard next week, probably in open session.

Friends of the court themselves are divided on the controversy and so ensnarled has the whole issue become that leaders are expressing much doubt that the senate will vote on the issue this session.

Senator Pittman, democrat, Nevada, proposed at today's committee meeting a resolution stipulating the president shall ascertain through diplomatic correspondence before adherence is voted on if the other nations agree that the revised protocol protects America's ban on advisory opinions.

Senator Pittman said Secretary Stimson "conveys the opinion that the court would have jurisdiction under said protocol to render advisory opinions touching any question in which the United States has an interest which has not reached the point of a dispute between the United States and some other government, without the consent of the United States and even against its expressed refusal to agree thereto, and that the only remedy available to our government in such a case would be withdrawal from adherence to the court."

4 Iowa Bank Bandits Are Given Life Terms

CLINTON, Iowa, March 16.—(AP)—Swiftly moving justice today wrote the closing chapter in Iowa's most spectacular bank robbery of recent years when four men were sentenced to life imprisonment for yesterday's $106,000 robbery of the City National bank.

The men, Clifford Edwards, 22, of Clinton, and Guy Edward Morris, 19; Earl Jeffries, 19, and Lester Stanley, 28, all of Louisville, Ky., pleaded guilty before Judge A. P. Barker.

Within eight hours after the robbery, they had been captured and confessed.

Late today they were taken to the state reformatory at Anamosa to begin serving their terms.

LOBBYING CHARGE FILED ON BARRETT

Georgian Sought To Influence War Relief Body, Says Wilbur.

WASHINGTON, March 16.—(AP)—Charles S. Barrett, former president of the Farmers' Union, today was accused by Secretary Wilbur of lobbying against the interior department appropriation bill in the senate "to influence" the war relief commission.

Wilbur spoke in a letter put into the Congressional Record by Senator Smoot, republican, Utah. It was an answer to an article by Barrett urging abolition of the department, which was put into the Record yesterday by Robinson, of Arkansas, the democratic leader.

Starting with the remark, "An effort is being made by a lobby conducted by Charles S. Barrett" against the interior bill, Wilbur's letter asserted it was "to influence the administration and quasi-judicial functions of the war relief commission."

Answers Critics.

It was the second time in a week the secretary had answered critics with the declaration they were lobbyists. The first was a reply to an attack in the senate upon the Indian bureau which he said was supplied fuel by John Collier, secretary of the American Indian Defense Association.

About a week ago, Wilbur's letter continued, as his first contact with the department for years, Barrett "injected himself into the adjudication of a war minerals relief claim involving $622,000, filed by the Chestatee Pyrites & Chemical Corporation (of Atlanta), now before the department."

Barrett, Wilbur said, asked on March 10 about the status of the claim and demanded "payment of the $622,000 that afternoon." He left the department after being referred to an assistant secretary, Wilbur said, continuing:

"An hour later he called a representative of my office on the 'phone and with considerable vituperation, announced that he was 'going to get the interior department' for not having settled the claim."

Break Officials.

Barrett told the departmental representative, Wilbur added, that he had seen 16 senators; stopped consideration of the bill on the floor; could break officials in the department; that "skullduggery existed in it, and that everybody knew we could not stand the light of day."

This Wilbur looked up as "threats to unduly influence the adjudication of this case."

Terming Barrett's recommendation to abolish the department "irresponsible," Wilbur said he would not consider it "worthy of answer except that it is damaging to the reputation of the officials of this department."

State Leader Dies

W. CECIL NEILL.

SENATE PRESIDENT, CECIL NEILL, DIES OF SINUS TROUBLE

Leader in Political Affairs in Georgia Succumbs at Columbus After Brief Illness.

COLUMBUS, Ga., March 16.—(AP)—W. Cecil Neill, president of the state senate and long prominent in Georgia politics, died at his home here today from an infection following several operations for sinus trouble.

President Neill's death came at 2:30 p. m. central tme, at his home. He had been ill nine days and last night physicians reported improvement in his condition.

Funeral services for Mr. Neill will be held on Friday morning at 11 o'clock from the First Presbyterian church. Dr. Robert A. Boyd, pastor, will be in charge of the services.

Mr. Neill would have been 52 years old March 26. He was a native of Muscogee county and had represented this county or senatorial district in the general assembly ever since 1915. He is survived by his widow and four children.

President Pro Tem. Guy B. Jackson, of the state senate, and Speaker Arlie D. Tucker, of the house of representatives Wednesday night announced members of an honorary legislative escort to attend the funeral. The senators appointed by Mr. Jackson are:

Roy V. Harris, Louisville; A. C. Alexander, Waverly Hall; Joseph H. Cheatham, Griffin; Alpha Fowler, Douglasville; H. G. Langford, Meansville; Hamilton McWhorter, Lexington; Elmer E. Dekle, Valdosta; N. M. North, Newnan; Fred Hand, Pelham; Ed L. Reagan, McDonough; Buell Stark, Dalton; W. H. Duckworth, Cairo, and John T. Boifeuillet, secretary of the senate.

The representatives named by Speaker Tucker are: Willis Battle, C. J. Meredith and Columbus Roberts, Columbus; Luther Still, Atlanta; D. G. Bland, Lumpkin; Dr. Charles Howard, Cusseta; Ernest M. Davis, Camilla; J. Wesley Culpepper, Fayetteville; Emry Wood, Athens; John C. Beasley, Glennville; Shelby Myrick, Savannah, and Ralph Rosser, Lafayette, and Andrew J. Kingery, clerk of the house.

A number of state officials and department heads also are expected to attend the funeral.

The first prominent position of a political nature held by Mr. Neill, who was an attorney, was in 1902 when he became secretary of the Muscogee county democratic executive committee. He retained this place until 1908, when he became chairman and served until 1914.

Mr. Neill was a member of the state democratic executive committee from 1910 to 1912. During the World War period he was chairman of the speakers' bureau in this county in Liberty Loan and Y. M. C. A. drives.

He went to the state legislature as

VOTING IN DAKOTA TYPICAL OF TREND IN NATION—DILL

Roosevelt's Victory Strengthens Predictions of Nomination on First Ballot, Asserts Senator.

BY GLADSTONE WILLIAMS.

WASHINGTON, March 16.—Moving a thousand miles west as measured in the distance between New Hampshire and North Dakota, Governor Franklin D. Roosevelt by capturing the delegates from the latter state in today's preferential primary has gone steadily forward in his role as leading contender for the democratic presidential nomination.

The victory of the New York governor over Governor Alfalfa Bill Murray, of Oklahoma, coming closely on the heels of his recent impressive victory over former Governor Alfred E. Smith in New Hampshire, was made the occasion of further predictions by his supporters in congress that he will be the first ballot choice of his party for the presidency.

The net effect of the North-Dakota primary is to emphasize the popularity of Governor Roosevelt over the country generally and to bear out previous statements of his friends that he is by far the most available candidate for the nomination.

Senator C. C. Dill, of Washington, one of the Roosevelt leaders on the Pacific coast, declared that the North Dakota vote indicates clearly that the independent voters of the nation are in favor of the New York governor's nomination.

"I believe," said Senator Dill, "that outside of Iowa, which is chronically

With 1,350 of 2,235 Precincts Reported, Democrats Already Are 39,000 Ahead of Previous High Mark of 13,000.

SPLIT IS FORESEEN IN RANKS OF G. O. P.

Republicans Outstripped in Total Votes as Roosevelt Drives Past Western Foe in First Test.

FARGO, N. D., March 16.—(AP)—Franklin D. Roosevelt won the North Dakota democratic presidential preference contest in Tuesday's primary on the face of returns tabulated by the Associated Press election bureau tonight from more than one-half of the state's 2,235 precincts.

In 1,350 precincts Roosevelt maintained a nearly two-to-one lead, receiving 33,660 votes, while his opponent, Governor William H. Murray, of Oklahoma, polled 19,431.

With 48 of the state's 53 counties reporting partial returns, Roosevelt held a lead in 40, while the others gave Murray the margin.

Incoming returns added to the Roosevelt lead, which has run close to two to one throughout the tabulations.

Former Senator J. I. France, of Maryland, in the republican presidential preference contest led "General" Jacob S. Coxey, of Ohio, in returns from 1,311 precincts, 22,063 to 15,643.

The democratic votes tabulated already exceeded greatly the record party vote cast in primaries in the state's history. The previous highest democratic total was 13,000 in 1924.

In addition to designating presidential preferences voters picked delegates to the national party conventions. Tabulation of results as to delegates, who need not be bound by the preference balloting outcome unless they so choose, had not begun.

Roosevelt and Murray had pledged democratic candidates for delegates in the race. President Hoover, whose name did not appear on the preference ballot, had a pledged state of republican delegates.

A second republican slate was uninstructed as to individuals, but was told by its nonpartisan league sponsors to support a "progressive." Nonpartisan leaders said its representatives would not support Hoover. France and Coxey had no delegate candidates.

A split delegation for each party was considered possible because candidates were listed alphabetically and without other than party designation.

The state will have 10 votes at the democratic national convention and 11 at the republican.

The primary was the second in the nation this year and found counting of national issue ballots delayed by a large number of local and state issues whose votes received first attention from judges.

It brought Roosevelt, who already has 48 pledged national convention delegates, and Murray, who has 22,

GOTHAM OFFICIAL BLAMED IN SUICIDE

Husband Says Persecution by Flynn Caused Wife To End Life.

NEW YORK, March 16.—(AP)—William J. Flynn, commissioner of public works in the Bronx, was accused before the Hofstadter investigating committee today of persecuting a businessman until his wife committed suicide and the man himself attempted to take his own life.

Louis H. Willard, building contractor, injected tenseness into the session and brought the spectators to tears by testifying that Flynn caused Mrs. Willard to kill herself and him to take poison as the result of five years of badgering over his attempts to build a public garage on a piece of Bronx property.

"I lost everything—my investment and everything I held dear," he said with his voice breaking." Mrs. Willard, my wife, on this account took it so much to heart that she said 'Here, you can't beat that dirty dog' and she committed suicide, and the one who brought that about, that state of affairs, is that yellow dog sitting over there."

Flynn, suave and collected, sat with his derby hat in his hand. After an hour of Willard's testimony he took the stand and denied he had used his political power or public position to

Beautician Kisses Girl Customer; 'Moment of Weakness' Costs $20

A "moment of weakness" was the excuse offered in police court Wednesday afternoon by a beauty shop operator charged with forcibly kissing a 17-year-old girl customer. The proprietor was fined $20 and costs, which was in addition to a resounding slap in the face previously dealt by Mrs. J. E. Andrews, Atlanta social worker and reformer, who revealed that only a lack of horse-whips in Atlanta prevented that punishment being meted to the offender.

One of the central figures in the case was 17-year-old Nellie Mobley, who lives at the Martha Candler Home on Capitol Square. The other was Mackey Klein, of 501 North Boulevard, who operates a downtown beauty shop.

The girl told Judge A. W. Callaway that while she was receiving a beauty "freatment" at the Klein establishment a week ago, the proprietor suddenly stooped over a drying board on which she was lying, and kissed her. She was otherwise annoyed she testified.

Klein, on the stand, admitted he had kissed the girl, saying she was "so pretty that I lost my head in a moment of weakness."

Mrs. Andrews explained her connection in the case as "a citizen of Atlanta and of the United States." She learned of the alleged indignity, she said, from Mrs. C. A. Parker, an aunt of the girl.

Wednesday morning Mrs. Andrews and Mrs. Parker went to the Klein Beauty Shop and confronted the operator. Mrs. Andrews slapped the man's face, she said, adding that she would have lashed him "if I had been able to find a strong enough whip in Atlanta."

Judge Callaway first decided to bind Klein over to a higher court, but on the recommendation of Mrs. Parker and Mrs. Andrews he gave the defendant the alternative of paying a $20 fine.

Greater Atlanta Day Event Is Coming on Next Monday

Greater Atlanta Day, the observance of which last November was such a decided success, will be observed again next Monday, when the merchants will co-operate with The Constitution, as they did last time, by offering unusual values in merchandise of all types.

The height of the season, only a week remaining before Easter, will mark the second Constitution's Greater Atlanta Day. Signs in the various merchants' windows will designate their co-operation in this big buying event.

In next Sunday's Constitution the merchants in their advertising will tell the public what they may expect in buying opportunities on next Monday.

The advertising offerings will be timely, and will consist of the most attractive Easter things at a most unusual price. The public will read these advertisements which will offer profitable and attractive things to shop for.

The observance of Greater Atlanta Day will be two fold in effect. The buyers will have an opportunity to buy cheaply especially selected merchandise, and the whole city will profit through the circulation of money through these retail channels.

The observance last November was one of the most successful sales events ever staged in Atlanta. Indications now point to a repetition of this success next Monday.

St. Patrick's Rout of 'Snakes' Seen as Theological Symbol

BY A. J. PHILPOTT.

(Copyright, 1932, by the North American Newspaper Alliance, Inc.)

BOSTON, March 16.—"How could St. Patrick drive snakes out of Ireland when there were no snakes in Ireland—and never have been?"

That question was put to Professor Sidney Gunn, Boston University, who knows a lot more about what has come to be known as the "St. Patrick Legend," and about Gaelic culture generally than you will find in the books.

One of his greatest hobbies has been Gaelic culture and the part Irish scholarship played in that culture for nearly two centuries after the death of St. Patrick in 461.

"In the first place," said Professor Gunn, "there is unquestionably much in the legend of St. Patrick which may be wrong in a strictly literal sense, but I am sure it isn't wrong when it comes to that part played by Ireland in western Europe during the 100 years following the death of St. Patrick.

"He must have been the cause of a cultural as well as a religious reformation in Ireland, the influence of which must have been very great at a time when Great Britain and Europe as a whole were in almost total eclipse as far as culture was concerned.

"Ireland was about the only spot in Europe that had not been brought under the Roman Dominion—the spot in which the ancient Gaelic culture had been retained—the culture that preceded the Roman and even the Greek cultures.

"These ancient Gaels who occupied pretty much the whole of western Europe at one time, were a people with many strange kinds of gods which they worshiped. And among them was the snake god—showing that originally they must have come from the

HOUSE, SENATE SPLIT ON 'YELLOW DOG' BILL

Representatives Send Anti-Injunction Measure Back to Conference.

WASHINGTON, March 16.—(AP)—The house today sent the Norris-LaGuardia anti-injunction bill back to the senate-house conference committee for revision.

The bill is designed to prevent the use of federal injunctions in labor disputes and outlaws "yellow dog" contracts.

Under existing law, injunctions may be obtained from federal courts to restrain labor in disputes with capital.

As passed by the house the bill provided injunctions could be issued by federal courts after hearings, but the conference report, following the senate bill, would prevent the issuance of restraining orders even after hearings.

Efforts are to be made by the house conferees to strike out this section.

Girl Linked in Theft Of Father's Motor Car

Freed on bond after remaining in DeKalb county jail 10 days on charges preferred by her father, Mrs. Pearl Johnson, 22, of Canton, N. C., will go on trial with Cecil Hawkins, 18, of Chattahoochee, Ga., during the April term of DeKalb superior court, it was announced Wednesday following transference of her case to that term of court. The young woman and Hawkins are alleged to have stolen the automobile of T. A. Long, her father, on February 29.

Following the alleged theft, the father caused a radio station to broadcast a "lookout" for the couple, who were arrested at Griffin the same day and returned to DeKalb county.

MIXED CARLOAD PLAN BENEFITS RAILROADS

Western Lines Adopt New Service To Meet Truck Competition.

BY PHILIP GUNDERMANN.
(Copyright, 1932, by the North American Newspaper Alliance, Inc.)

CHICAGO, March 16.—Western railroads centering here report a moderate increase in freight business resulting from the "mixed-carload" experiment they inaugurated Tuesday in an effort to meet truck competition.

Officials feel highly satisfied with the early gains caused by reduced rates and are more confident than ever that a substantial amount of business lost to trucks will be regained.

As far as the railroads are concerned there has been a depression in less-than-carload freight since 1920. Each year has recorded a large drop in merchandise tonnage, with a proportionate increase in trucking operations. Even in 1929, when tonnage of all freight was more than 80,000,000 tons larger than in 1920, less-than-carload tonnage was 17,159,000 tons smaller.

The Van Sweringen lines in the east have had a similar arrangement of low rates to meet trucking competition since the early part of the year. Quite a bit of business has been transacted under the new tariff and as soon as shippers' contracts with trucks have expired the carriers expect to regain more business.

Of course, the process of winning back tonnage will be slow. The railways have been gradually losing the traffic for 12 years. They could not be expected to regain it at one stroke. The fight against highway competition, which really was begun earnestly only since the depression set in and earnings fell to dangerously low levels, has been extremely difficult. Unregulated, with a most flexible means of transportation, the trucker has been able to underbid the railroad, with some added advantages in service.

Minister Now Charged With 'Shiner's Murder

PALATKA, Fla., March 16.—(AP) Rev. Earl H. McGaha, crusading minister here, was indicted today for first degree murder, for the slaying of John W. Malone, reputed moonshiner, during a raid on a liquor still last Christmas Day.

The court previously had reduced the charge against the pastor to manslaughter, but the grand jury made the indictment read murder.

McGaha is alleged to have fired the shot which killed Malone as the preacher and deputies surrounded a still in the Lake Hewitt neighborhood, several miles from here.

McGaha claimed at an inquest that he tripped and fell, his shotgun being accidentally fired as he and the officers closed in at a given signal.

Since his arrest the minister has been held in jail in default of $5,000 bail.

CYLINDER OF RADIUM STOLEN DURING LECTURE

MEMPHIS, Tenn., March 16.—(AP) Three milligrams of radium encased in a lead-lined cylinder are missing here. The radium was stolen while a large audience heard Dr. Luther S. H. Gable lecture here last night on the mysteries of the precious element.

Dr. Gable, former head of the department of radium and heliology of the Detroit Institute of Technology, did not estimate the value of the missing radium, but local authorities valued it at $70 a milligram, or $210 for the lot.

Death of Neill, Widely Popular, Shock to State Capitol Officials

BY R. E. POWELL.

News of the death of W. Cecil Neill came as a shock to officials and scores of friends at the Georgia statehouse Wednesday afternoon. Probably no political figure in the state boasted so many friends, ranging from the governor down to the oldest and the newest janitor.

In a formal statement, Governor Russell said: "I doubt that any man in the history of the state has been so highly honored by the general assembly of Georgia and none could have deserved it more." Pending advices as to the hour of the funeral, announcement of the closing of the statehouse was held in abeyance.

"The sad news of the death of Honorable Cecil Neill comes as a shock to me and his thousands of personal friends throughout the state of Georgia," Governor Russell said.

"I doubt that any man in the history of this state has been so highly honored by the general assembly of Georgia, and none could have deserved it more. For three consecutive terms he served as speaker of the house of repesentatives, and for two consecutive terms he presided as president of the senate, which office he held at the time of his death.

"Cecil Neill possessed the absolute confidence of all with whom he came in contact, and there are thousands of Georgians, who knew him during his long legislative career, who will feel a distinct personal loss in his passing. He was a splendid parliamentarian, whose rulings were always clear and fair, and was never overruled during his long career as a presiding officer. He was also a profound student of the constitution of this state.

"He has left upon the statute books of this state many progressive laws that will be an enduring monument to his life, character, and service to his people. His public career had given promise of even greater service to the people of Georgia in the future, and in these trying times the state can ill afford to lose such a statesman."

Secretary of State John B. Wilson said:

"I am greatly shocked to learn of the sudden death of Hon. W. Cecil Neill, Columbus, Ga., president of the senate. For the past eight years, since I have been in public life, I have never known a more loyal, devoted friend nor a more aggressive, able and conscientious public servant than Mr. Neill. His services to Georgia for a long number of years, both as speaker of the house and as president of the senate, stand out as a monument to him. In his passing this state loses one of its outstanding public officials."

Eugene Talmadge, commissioner of agriculture, in a telegram to Mrs. Neill, said:

"I am shocked and profoundly grieved to learn of the death of your distinguished husband. I have known Cecil 15 years and to know him was to love him. I will always remember his cheerful disposition and winning smile. Deepest sympathy to you and members of the family."

Comptroller General William B. Harrison said: "Mr. Neill was one of Georgia's outstanding public servants of this generation. He was intensely devoted to the welfare of his state, a gifted and impartial parliamentarian and a splendid, loyal and lovable character."

Attorney-General Napier said: "I am shocked to hear of Mr. Neill's passing. He was not only a thoroughly able man but a very, very likeable one. It is a great pity that his career has been terminated in this untimely manner. I deeply deplore his loss and greatly regret that the state will be deprived of the fine future of which he gave so much promise."

James A. Perry, chairman of the Georgia public service commission, said:

"The death of Cecil Neill cuts all too short the life of a lorable, loyal and able public servant. Few men have enjoyed the almost universal affection of a wide circle of Georgians as he did."

HOWELL AND PAGE VOICE EXPRESSIONS OF REGRET

By the Associated Press.

Expressions of regret over the death at Columbus Wednesday of President W. Cecil Neill, of the state senate, were voiced here by Clark Howell, editor and general manager of The Atlanta Constitution, and W. E. Page, president of the R. W. Page Corporation, Columbus.

Mr. Page's concern owns the Ledger and Enquirer-Sun, Columbus, morning and afternoon newspapers.

Mr. Howell, in commenting, said:

"Cecil Neill's death is a great loss to the state. For years he has ranked among the foremost of our legislative leaders and he will be missed more than anywhere else in that capacity.

"Probably no other Georgian ever exercised as great an influence in shaping the legislation of the state as he did."

Mr. Page, in Atlanta as the personal representative of Governor Roosevelt and conducting his campaign for Georgia's votes in the national democratic convention in the coming preferential primary, said he was "shocked beyond words" at the news of Mr. Neill's death.

"Because of his long service in the legislature," Mr. Page said, "Muscogee county had come to look upon him as their representative in the lawmaking of Georgia.

"I am confident that he had fewer political enemies than any other politician in Georgia. Time and again he was sent to the legislature without opposition and when any opposition did develop those who opposed him continued as his friends.

"Georgia has sustained a great loss in her legislative halls in Mr. Neill's death and Columbus has sustained an even greater loss, both in the city's social and cultural life and in the legislature.

"He was a personal friend and I feel his death keenly."

PLANS BEING MADE FOR HORSE SHOW HERE ON MAY 20-21

Herbert Oliver, recently elected president of the Atlanta Horse Show Association, announced Wednesday that plans were being made for an unusually interesting show at Piedmont park on May 20-21.

Officers were elected at a meeting of the executive committee two weeks ago. Mr. Oliver succeeded Hunt Chipley, who declined re-election. Robert W. Woodruff was re-elected vice president, and Walter T. Candler was elected secretary to succeed Mr. Oliver. Captain Theodore Goulsby was re-elected treasurer, and Major General E. L. King was made chairman of the executive committee to succeed Major General Frank McCoy, who was transferred from Atlanta. Colonel Fitzhugh Lee was re-elected executive manager.

The executive committee is composed of the following: General King, J. K. Ottley, Robert F. Maddox, Brigadier General George H. Estes, James L. Dickey, Major Trammell Scott, Hunt Chipley and W. Eugene Harrington. The officers are ex-officio members.

JACK SPIERS NAMED ALEXANDER MANAGER

Jack Spiers has been appointed sales manager of the W. D. Alexander Company, state distributors of G. E. refrigerators and Hot Point ranges, it was announced on Wednesday. For the past four years he had been engaged in the selling of G. E. refrigerators in South Carolina.

Prior to that time he was a resident of Atlanta, serving as district representative for G. E. refrigerators. He spent two years at the G. E. factory, at Schenectady, N. Y. During his connection with the General Electric Company he has witnessed the growth in sales of G. E. refrigerators from 400 the first year to a production of 300,000 a year.

While many industries have been effected by a general falling off in the market, the electric refrigerator industry, Mr. Alexander pointed out, has been increasing production, and this year is expected to pass all records of former years. Only recently the W. D. Alexander Company was appointed distributors of Hot Point ranges in Georgia, in addition to their regular line of G. E. refrigerators.

$100,000 SUIT IS FILED AGAINST SPORTSMAN

MIAMI, Fla., March 16.—(AP)—Sailing Baruch, New York and Miami Beach sportsman, was named defendant in a $100,000 suit filed with the clerk of circuit court today by Mrs. Josephine Firman for her daughter, Dorothy, 18.

Only preliminary papers were filed. The clerk's office reported that service in the suit was obtained on Baruch at his winter home at Miami Beach last night.

Mrs. Firman was said by her attorneys to be a nurse. Her daughter, the attorneys said, was graduated from Miami High school last year.

Negro Gets 12 Months.

Sam Jordan, negro, charged with receiving jewelry stolen from the home of Mrs. W. D. Manley, was found guilty by a jury before Judge Edgar E. Pomeroy in Fulton superior court Wednesday and given a sentence of 12 months. The case was treated as if it were a misdemeanor.

FLEETWOOD

FIBER OF BEAUTY

The most beloved order in all architecture is the chaste and classic Doric. It is the oldest of the Greek forms, cherished through countless generations of builders for the subtle grace of its beauty. One learns, then, with surprise, of the sturdy fiber of this beauty . . . for the practical character of Doric architecture is extreme strength and great solidity.

We shall, if we may, point to an analogy in Fleetwood coachcraft. As products of the studios and shops of one of the world's most famous custom coachbuilders—created in the closest possible accord with the new Cadillac chassis design—Fleetwood custom bodies suggest only a consummate expression of beauty and luxury. Yet their polished grace and finished charm conceal great strength—strength of a vital, fatigueless, lithe quality, to defeat alike the wear of strain and the ravages of time. Consequently, when one travels in this superb coachwork, the journey is made completely enjoyable by faultless comfort, restful quiet and a sense of the utmost personal security.

The latest expressions of Fleetwood custom coachcraft are presented on the new Cadillacs—V-8, V-12 and V-16. When you see them, recall that beneath their faultless lines and finish is body strength without parallel.

Luther's Bible Comes to America

By Betty Browning

Carrying beautifully colored pages picturing the sixteenth century conception of the Creation portrayed by a woodcut in this old Bible which, after being preserved in the vaults of a princely German family for nearly four centuries, has been brought to this country. The color illustration on the cover page of the magazine shows Adam and Eve in the Garden of Eden, while from the unknown outer firmament God looks down upon his handiwork. Another page carries color illustrations taken from the Bible.

By John A. Menaugh

Is a story of guilded playboys of the Orient, proud and rich, but shorn of powers—human peacocks on puppet thrones, who help Great Britain hold a vast country.

Rum Row and St. Pierre

By Frederic Babcock

"Capital of Bootleggia," fed by mystery ships, rises off the shores of Newfoundland; dense fog of the Grand Banks and a denser fog of hush, hide booze buccaneers.

How the Persian Shah Had to Sock the High Priest Because the Lovely Queen Went Modern

By Eckandar Khan Nazar Mirza

Is a double-page illustrated story of the fantastic serio-comedy caused by the Liberal monarch's desire to free his countrywomen from the ancestral insistence on veils, with a fascinating first-hand pen portrait of the ruler himself, by the first man ever permitted to take photos within the walls of Teheran.

A Poor Loser

By Owen C. Holleran, Captain R. A. F.

In this story, Captain Holleran, who made an enviable record in the Royal Air Force during the World War, paints a word picture of a soldier, the poorest loser ever, who had a streak of active cruelty in his make-up, by which nothing was too low for him to do when faced with defeat.

WARM SPRINGS SEEKS $1,000 IMPROVEMENT

More Space in Reception Annex Essential, Foundation Committee States.

WARM SPRINGS, Ga., March 16. Need for additional space to adequately care for patients arriving at the Georgia Warm Springs Foundation who require hospitalization has prompted the national patient's committee to institute a drive for the raising of $1,000 to remodel an annex for use as an addition to the present infirmary here.

The present infirmary has proven too small for arthritis and poliomyelitis cases who require hospital treatment. Although the drive has just started several hundred dollars has already been subscribed to the fund. It is planned, it was stated, to construct private rooms as well as one or two-ward rooms to increase the reception facilities for these early cases.

Mrs. M. K. Moore, of Cleveland, has been appointed chairman of a subcommittee of the national patient's group for the purpose. William K. Lyons, of Chicago, is president of the national patient's committee.

JUDGE A. G. HARRIS STARTS 86TH YEAR

Two Savannah Firemen Hurt as Ladder Slips

SAVANNAH, Ga., March 16.—(AP)—Two firemen were injured when a ladder slipped as they fought a fire in the old regimental armory here early Wednesday.

The blaze damaged the battery room of the Irish Jasper Greens, batery E, 118th field artillery of the national guard, but loaded shells on the first floor of the building were carried from the structure and saved from destruction.

Fireman Fred Smith received a broken arm and Fireman Branch McGrady possible internal injuries when the ladder on which they were climbing to an upper floor slipped from under them.

KIDNAPERS OF CHIEF SENTENCED TO PRISON

College Park Youths Enter Guilty Pleas in Lamar Court.

BARNESVILLE, Ga., March 16.—Albert T. Wheeless and J. W. Wilson, 18-year-old College Park youths, Wednesday pleaded guilty to charges of assault with intent to murder, carrying concealed weapons and robbery of an automobile, and were sentenced to serve five to ten years on the first charge, 12 months on each of the other two, the sentences to run consecutively, by Judge Ogden Persons in Lamar county superior court in Barnesville Wednesday. The charges resulted from a sensational escapade about a month ago, during which the youths kidnaped Chief of Police W. S. Riviere, of Barnesville, when he tried to arrest them and later threw him from a speeding automobile.

Frank B. Willingham, of Forsyth, solicitor general, handled the prosecution, and defense attorneys were E. O. Dobbs and Harvey Kennedy, appointed by the court.

Mothers of both boys were present, with other members of their families, and both women pleaded for mercy for their sons. The Rev. Pruitt, pastor of a Baptist church in Marietta, and H. S. Smith, keeper of the grounds at the state capitol, made statements as to the character of Wilson and his family. Wilson's father, for years, was an engineer at the capitol.

Chief Scott Riviere described his experiences with the young men on the morning of February 4, when he arrested them on the highway between Barnesville and Forsyth, and was afterwards assaulted and thrown from the car in which he was bringing them into town. Roy Cato, who was with Riviere at the time of the arrest, also testified. Gus Hickman, member of the posse which chased the boys, and T. J. Bailey, who captured the boys, were other witnesses.

Wheeless had been convicted twice formerly on charges of burglary and robbery, and was out on parole after serving six months of a 12-month sentence when his latest offense was committed.

Judge Persons, in sentencing the boys, expressed deepest regret on account of their youth, and admonished them as to their future conduct. He also expressed his sympathy to the mothers of the boys.

WAYCROSS LIONS PLAN ROAD WELCOME SIGNS

WAYCROSS, Ga., March 16.—Under the leadership of the Lions Club here six large welcome signs are to be placed on the six paved highways leading into the city.

The Hotel Ware is donating two of the signs and one each is being given by the J. C. Penney Company, the Federal Clothing Company, Churchwell's, and the Georgia Hide and Fur Company. The posts are being donated by the Hiers Planing Mill and the posts will be creosoted and painted by the P. N. Harley Hardware Company.

The signs are being ordered immediately and will be placed within the next few weeks. Each sign is of rustproof steel and 27 inches high and 23 inches wide.

BROOKS PRIMARY RETURNS INCUMBENTS

QUITMAN, Ga., March 16.—(AP)—Brooks county citizens today polled the largest vote in the county's history in the democratic primary. All incumbents offering for re-election were victorious. Unoffiical returns late tonight showed:

Spencer Sennet won from T. A. Edmondson for city court judge; George Lilly won over W. A. Hassell for solicitor city court; W. A. May beat W. M. Leverett for ordinary; W. R. Knight won from W. M. English and J. M. Hubert for superior court clerk. T. E. Clanton won from H. W. Garris for sheriff; W. L. Johnson was elected over Lee Patrick for tax receiver; W. J. Cooey won from J. H. Carswell for superintendent of schools; Z. R. Hutchinson defeated W. H. O'Neal for surveyor; Frank Groover and Roy Lawson defeated W. H. Strickland and F. D. Walker, respectively, for county commissioners. John F. Whipple for tax collector and S. E. McGowan for coroner were unopposed.

Landscape School.

ELBERTON, Ga., March 16.—Dr. T. H. McHatton, head of the horticultural division, State College of Agriculture, has just closed a landscape school in Elbert county. Sixty-four country women enrolled in this school and made plans to beautify their home grounds. Dr. McHatton outlined landscape principles so that the women were able to make these plans themselves.

Floyd County Auditor.

ROME, Ga., March 16.—The Floyd county board of roads and revenue Wednesday morning by a vote of 3-2 reappointed H. C. Carson, of Atlanta, to the position of county auditor for the current year. The choice was made by Chairman W. A. Knowles, who broke the tie vote on the question.

Shoots Negro Burglar.

CEDARTOWN, Ga., March 16.—Bunyan Garner, who was decorated for bravery in action while overseas with the A. E. F. during the World War, on Tuesday night heard a burglar in his store here. He took his gun as he went to investigate and shot and slightly wounded Lloyd Wallace, negro, escaped convict from the Polk county gang. The negro is now in jail here.

Republicans Meet.

MATTHEWS, Ga., March 16.—Republicans of Jefferson county met at Norton's mills Friday night and enjoyed a barbecue supper. The purpose of the meeting was to organize for the work in the new sixth district and to discuss issues of the republican administration. Frank Moxley, of Wadley, acted as chairman of the meeting and he urged every republican in Jefferson county to be loyal to the party.

Agent Loses Post.

WARM SPRINGS, Ga., March 16. J. F. Adams, station agent here for the past 20 years, has been relieved of his post due to the seniority of C. A. Pless, of Stockbridge, Ga., who was sent here to replace him.

THREE RUN-OVERS IN LINCOLN PRIMARY

WASHINGTON, Ga., March 16.—The primary for county officers in Lincoln county Tuesday was not decisive, and a run-over will be necessary for three offices.

Dr. T. P. Mitchell, former representative, was eliminated from the triangular legislative race by L. C. Groves and R. L. Colvin, who will be in the run-over. C. C. Henderson and J. A. Strother were trailers in the race for sheriff. W. J. Hammond, incumbent, and T. E. Cartledge will continue the contest in the second primary.

M. E. Smith, incumbent, was put out of the running by H. D. Bentley and G. C. Leverett, who will stand in the run-over for the office of tax receiver.

Homer Legg, ordinary; T. L. Perryman, county superintendent of schools, and J. M. Hogan, tax collector, were re-elected by substantial majorities. James H. Boykin was nominated for state senator without opposition; while W. T. Dunaway, clerk of superior court; T. B. Steed, treasurer; Guy Moss, coroner, and W. A. Blackwell, surveyor, were renamed without opposition.

BARTOW COUNTY PRIMARY RESULTS

CARTERSVILLE, Ga., March 16. In the primary election held in Bartow county Wednesday, with a record vote cast, W. B. Moss defeated W. C. Walton, incumbent, for clerk of court by vote of 682 to 604, and P. W. Bernard defeated S. E. Hamrick, incumbent, superintendent county schools, by vote of 852 to 721. Carey Nelson, the other candidate in this race polled 777. Arthur Neal, incumbent county commissioner, defeated Robert Stiles with a vote of 1,792 to 1,509. John Haney, incumbent, tax collector, with a vote of 1,609 won over Lester Holden, J. A. Ingram and Q. R. Hester. George Gaddis, for sheriff; R. M. Gaines for ordinary; Smith Mansfield for tax receiver; G. W. Hendricks for coroner, and W. W. Phillips for surveyor, were without opposition.

NINE SEEK ELECTION AS CLERK IN TERRELL

DAWSON, Ga., March 16.—With the closing of entries Tuesday night, 15 days prior to the special election on March 30, as required by law, the following have declared themselves candidates for the office of clerk of Terrell county superior court for the unexpired term of the late Walter S. Dozier, who died here on March 3, a few hours after he had been declared nominee for the office for the fortieth consecutive year:

Louise Bolton, who for the past 12 years has served as deputy clerk; Levi C. Hoyl, son of the late Ordinary Lee C. Hoyl; Jim C. Dozier, son of the late clerk; J. O. Fussell, former tax collector; Henry Williams, well-known Bronwood citizen; Thornton Lee, Parrott business man and planter; A. E. Joiner Sr., Dawson business man; J. W. Bell, farmer of western part of county; D. W. Oxford, Dawson.

SPALDING COUNTY PRIMARY RESULTS

GRIFFIN, Ga., March 16.—Spalding county voters elected officers Wednesday in the county-wide primary in which about 3,200 votes were cast out of a total registration of 4,300.

In the race for solicitor of city court Chester Byars defeated T. J. Purdy with 1,807 to 1,262. Harry Johnson won the race for tax receiver over Albert Swint with 1,794 to 1,409.

In the three-cornered race for county commissioner, J. A. Burnett nosed out J. W. Low with 1,455 votes to 1,388, while F. F. Goodman was low man in the race with 343.

W. J. Morrow won for coroner with 1,964 to W. G. Milam's total of 1,196. For superintendent of county schools J. P. Manley secured 854 votes to 714 for W. L. Harris.

The following were renominated without opposition: A. K. Maddox, judge of the city court; Frank Lindsey, clerk of superior court; S. B. Wallace, ordinary; H. J. McWilliam, sheriff; G. C. Padgett, tax collector, and J. H. Laney, county surveyor.

COUNTY OFFICERS RE-ELECTED IN POLK

CEDARTOWN, Ga., March 16.—All county officers were re-elected in the primary held in Polk county today.

Sheriff T. P. Lyon, who first took office on the same day that Sheriff Lowry, of Fulton, began his long service, defeated W. T. York, A. L. Bridges and Daniel M. Hopkins. For tax receiver, J. Walter Hunt defeated C. L. Sloan and J. Walls Randall. In the races for county commissioner, W. Wallis Brumby defeated J. E. Brooks in the first district. The incumbent in this district was not a candidate. In the second district D. K. Woodward was elected without opposition, and in the third district T. E. McBryde defeated G. E. Gurley.

G. L. Cambron was winner of the race for county treasurer, defeating J. P. Billingsley, W. H. Payne and W. M. Raper. For coroner, B. H. Leonard won over P. A. Duke, E. W. Brook, C. R. Morris and Aubrey Williams.

The following were re-elected without opposition: Ordinary L. H. Smith, Clerk of Court George W. Howard, Tax Collector T. W. Schliestett, Superintendent of Schools Miss Anne Brumby and County Surveyor R. C. Knight.

WHEELER COUNTY PRIMARY RETURNS

ALAMO, Ga., March 16.—(AP)—With five precincts out of six reported, all incumbents except the county school superintendent, who must take part in a run-over race, appeared to have been re-elected in the Wheeler county primary today. Alamo precinct had not reported.

The results were: For ordinary, H. L. Sears, 980; C. S. Hartley, 408; for sheriff, H. N. Sears, 713; J. F. Wright, 583; for tax receiver, W. T. Browning, 777; L. E. Daniel, 489; for treasurer, Joe Bell Clark, 826; Samuel Achord, 433; for county commissioner, James McRae, 977; R. G. Perdue, 327. In the race for school superintendent Harvey Kent received 633 votes, R. A. Eakes 539, and O. C. Kibbler, 112. The two highest candidates will take part in a run-over.

J. A. Pope, clerk of superior court, and J. L. Sumner, tax collector, were unopposed.

UNOFFICIAL RETURNS IN LOWNDES PRIMARY

VALDOSTA, Ga., March 16.—Unofficial returns from Lowndes county precincts show that Tom Converse Jr. won for clerk of the superior court by an approximate plurality of 300 votes, defeating B. G. Lastinger, the present incumbent and Jack Staten and G. R. Williams. Williams ran second, with Lastinger and Staten in the order named.

For sheriff, J. L. Spivey, the present incumbent, won by approximately 1,000 over S. M. Gornto, Ralph Mydleton and L. S. Roberts.

Figures for county school superintendent are not available, though in a field of five candidates, the race seems to be between E. H. Beck, present superintendent, and G. T. Register.

LAMPKIN ELECTED HEAD OF COLUMBIA BOARD

HARLEM, Ga., March 16.—(AP)—G. B. Lampkin was elected chairman of the Columbia county commissioners in Tuesday's primary, defeating P. B. Mundy. Mundy and J. E. Blanchard were elected as the other two members of the commission. Glenn Phillips was re-elected ordinary and Sheriff P. A. Crawford and G. B. Pollard, clerk of court, also were re-elected. The tax collector, the tax receiver and the school commissioner were re-elected without opposition.

N. Y. RATE EXPERT SUES AUGUSTA FOR $10,000

AUGUSTA, Ga., March 16.—(AP)—John Bauer, New York rate expert, Wednesday filed suit in federal court here for $10,000 compensation for services rendered the Augusta city council in a rate controversy with the local gas company.

Hypnotism Substituted For Surgical Anaethesia

CHICAGO, March 16.—(AP)—Dr. A. F. Lanzen, of the Cook county hospital, today reported that he had operated on Miss Ruth Morrison, 29, for removal of her tonsils while she was under a hypnotic trance.

Miss Morrison, who was hypnotized at the hospital yesterday by Dr. Louis Shapiro, said that she felt no pain during the operation.

TOBACCO PRODUCTION DECREASE IS FORESEEN

Recent Freeze, Attacks by Mold, Prove Disastrous to Plants.

THOMASVILLE, Ga., March 16.—There will scarcely be a tobacco crop in Thomas county in 1932. This is the opinion expressed here by Cliff White, prominent county citizen. It is based on his personal observations and reports heard from tobacco growers of his locality. The cold weather of last Thursday, when the mercury dropped to 22 degrees above zero, put the finishing touches on tobacco plants that had previously been either severely injured or destroyed by an unknown mold that attacked the plants several weeks ago.

50 PER CENT LOSS IN WAYCROSS AREA

WAYCROSS, Ga., March 16.—The tobacco plant loss in the territory immediately surrounding Waycross is estimated at about 50 per cent by Dr. R. J. Heyde, Ware county agent.

The loss is attributed to the extremely cold weather of the past week as well as to the blue mold ravages.

The loss will not be as heavy as was feared several days ago, a number of plant beds showing a tendency to recover from their wilting state brought about by the freeze, farmers reported.

In several sections of the county, where farmers had a good grade of cloth over their plant beds, and in some localities where the cold was not as destructive as in others, the loss will not be more than 20 to 25 per cent, it is estimated.

Farmers already had begun setting plants in the field, and with the lifting of the cold weather planting operations are expected to continue late this week.

TRUCK DRIVER HELD ON MURDER CHARGE

CAIRO, Ga., March 16.—(AP)—T. W. Rakestraw, a resident of Bradfordville, Fla., formerly of Grady county, was in jail here tonight charged with murder in connection with the death Tuesday night of Hazel Myrick, a 14-year-old student of the Calvary school, who sustained fatal injuries early Monday when a log truck driven by Rakestraw collided with and overturned the Calvary school bus at a crossroad 10 miles south of Cairo.

Fifteen of the 25 other students on the bus were cut and bruised. Two negroes riding with Rakestraw were injured but Rakestraw escaped unhurt.

TWO WARE ENTRIES IN TON-LITTER CLASS

WAYCROSS, Ga., March 16.—George Hendricks, route 2, Waycross, and H. M. Woodard, route 5, Waycross, are the first Ware county entries in the state ton-litter contest, it is revealed by Dr. R. J. Heyde, Ware county agent.

Mr. Hendricks has a litter of pure bred Duroc Jersey pigs numbering 17. There were 19 pigs, but two of them died. Mr. Woodward has a litter of 12 spotted Poland Chinas, one of which died.

CLUB FOR ROOSEVELT IS FORMED IN PUTNAM

EATONTON, Ga., March 16.—A Frank D. Roosevelt Club was organized in Putnam county Wednesday afternoon. John D. Watterson was elected president, Percy Rossee and Dr. Clodfelter vice presidents and J. H. Webster, treasurer. Two hundred members subscribed.

Thursday at the school auditorium, W. T. Anderson and William Dunwoody, of Macon, will address the citizens of Putnam on baby bonds. Later they will be guests of the Kiwanis Club at which time Dr. Abercrombie, of Atlanta, will make an address on underprivileged children.

State Deaths And Funerals

OPAL CHASTAIN.

THOMASVILLE, Ga., March 16.—Rev. T. F. Callaway, pastor of the Thomasville First Baptist church, conducted funeral services from the family residence here Tuesday afternoon for Miss Opal Chastain, 20, who died Monday at Archbold Memorial hospital. She was buried in Moultrie, beside her mother, who died when the daughter was only two years old.

Miss Chastain spent most of her life in Thomasville and was a graduate of the local high school. She was a member of the First Baptist church and took an active part in the work of that congregation. She is survived by her father, E. A. Chastain, and two brothers.

HENRY CLAY KENNEDY.

DAWSON, Ga., March 16.—Funeral services for Henry Clay Kennedy, 86, native of Terrell county and a Confederate veteran, were held at the Parrott Methodist church Tuesday morning. Rev. W. W. Hill, pastor of the Parrott church, conducted the last rites and interment was in the Parrott cemetery.

Mr. Kennedy at the age of 17, in 1863, enlisted in the Confederate service, Company H, sixty-fourth infantry.

Surviving are his wife, who before her marraige was Miss Mary Jennings; a daughter, Mrs. Riley Hannah, and five sons, Clyde, William, Lambe, Elmore and Arthur Kennedy, all of Terrell county.

DAN A. ROSSER.

McDONOUGH, Ga., March 16.—Funeral services for Dan A. Rosser, 83, were held from County Line Baptist church on Monday afternoon. Rev. Gordon L. Brooks, pastor of the McDonough Baptist church, conducted the service and interment was in the churchyard. The grandsons were the pallbearers.

Mr. Rosser had been a lifelong resident of Henry county and had made his home in Beersheba district for many years. He is survived by his wife, three daughters, Mrs. Leo Shaw and Mrs. I. B. Davies, of McDonough; Mrs. Emory Jeffries, of Atlanta; four sons, Tom Rosser, of McDonough; Omer Rosser, of Cairo, Ga.; Steve Rosser, of Oxford, Ga., and Austin Rosser, of Cordele, Ga., and a number of grandchildren.

MRS. J. H. DODSON.

UNION CITY, Ga., March 16.—Mrs. J. H. Dodson, wife of a prominent merchant of Union City, died Monday afternoon at her home. Her son, Roy, a student at Georgia Tech, arrived home about 2 o'clock and found his mother lying on the floor of her room. He summoned Dr. A. J. Green, who stated Mrs. Dodson had been dead for an hour or more.

Mrs. Dodson was formerly Miss Mary Flynn, and she had many relatives throughout this part of Fulton county. Besides her husband she is survived by one son, Roy; five sisters and two brothers. She was a member of the Church of Christ.

Defeated Candidate Lists Debits, Credits

DALTON, Ga., March 16.—(AP)—Carl Spann, defeated candidate for school superintendent in the recent Whitfield county primary Wednesday issued a recapitulation of his debits and credits.

On the red side of his ledger he listed the kissing of 139 babies; 121 pails of water carried for prospective voters; his asisstance in killing 10 hogs; the gift of 90 pounds of candy to fair members of the electorate; and a sore thumb from his work in aiding a farmer roof a barn.

The sole credit item is 1,397 votes—which was not enough to win the nomination. Spann said, however, that he enjoyed the contest.

TERMINALS FOR BUSES ORDERED IN SAVANNAH

SAVANNAH, Ga., March 16.—(AP) Jacksonville and Winston-Salem officials of bus companies operating in Savannah are expected to arrive here this week to consider compliance with the new ordinance, effective today, requiring the establishment of drive-in terminal stations and prohibiting the loading and unloading of passengers, baggage or freight on the streets of Savannah.

Commissioner of Police John E. Foy today served notice on the Florida Motor Lines, Greyhound Lines, Colonial stages and other bus companies that "if the ordinance is not immediately complied with, docket cases will be made."

The original ordinance was amended, prior to its adoption by the city council on February 10, by eliminating the word "trucks," so that persons to whom freight is consigned may have it delivered at their homes instead of having to call for it at the bus station.

LOUISVILLE KIWANIANS HEAR NEGRO EDUCATOR

LOUISVILLE, Ga., March 16.—A speech was delivered here before the Kiwanis Club this week by Ben Hubert, president of the Georgia Industrial School for Negroes, Savannah. He was brought here by County School Superintendent M. R. Little Jr., and his address concerned industrial education for negroes. His advice and good logic appealed to the Kiwanis Club and others who composed the audience.

CHICAGO COUPLE SUED IN COACH-CAR WRECK

Greyhound Bus Company Seeks $5,000; Injured Passenger Files for $5,000.

VALDOSTA, Ga., March 18.—Suits aggregating $10,000 have been filed against H. W. Miller and his wife, of Chicago, for alleged damages caused when their automobile skidded last Saturday morning and collided with a Greyhound coach north of here.

The Greyhound company sues for $5,000 damages to the coach which, it is alleged, was knocked into the ditch when it was struck by the Miller car, said to have been driven by Mrs. Miller.

Another suit for $5,000 was filed against the Millers by Mrs. Alice Temple, of Rocky Creek, Ohio, one of the seven passengers on the coach when it was wrecked. Mrs. Temple sues for alleged personal injuries. Mrs. Temple was the only one of the Greyhound passengers injured in the crash.

Key Wins by 5,545 Votes; Enemies Submit to Verdict

28,293 Ballots Cast, Official Tabulation Shows; Mayor Going to Florida Today for Week's Rest.

Mayor James L. Key defeated the coalition of Federation of Trades officials and John A. Manget, president of the Greater Atlanta Prohibition and Law Enforcement Club, to oust him as Atlanta's chief executive, by a vote of 17,234 to 11,689, receiving a margin of 5,545 votes, according to official tabulations made at noon Wednesday. The figures showed a total of 28,923 votes cast.

Immediately following announcement of the official vote, A. Steve Nance, president of the federation, and Dr. Charles O. Jones, superintendent of the Anti-Saloon League of Georgia and one of those who sought to recall Key, issued statements accepting the verdict of the people and expressing the hope that no bitterness would be left from the heated campaign.

Luke Arnold, secretary to Mayor Key, said Wednesday night that the mayor was not considering making a race for a state office. Statements of friends of the mayor published during the day said that Key planned to seek some state office. The mayor was not even considering it, Arnold said.

The mayor; V. P. Warren, chairman of the committee of citizens who successfully fought the ouster effort; J. P. Womack, manager of Key's campaign in his mayoralty race in the 1930 primary and staunch supporter, and Luke S. Arnold, Key's executive secretary, will leave this morning for a week's rest.

The party will go to Florida and spend a week fishing. Key declined to disclose his whereabouts, saying, "I just want to get away for a few days and rest."

Official Tabulation.

Ward—	For Recall	Against Recall
First	91	454
Second	667	1,122
Third	1,530	1,548
Fourth	458	1,591
Fifth	1,100	502
Sixth	284	715
Seventh	1,615	1,666
Eighth	978	2,801
Ninth	1,072	2,155
Tenth	1,188	1,187
Eleventh	1,180	822
Twelfth	679	704
Thirteenth	847	1,967
Totals	11,689	17,234

Congratulations in Advance.

Among the letters of encouragement received by Mayor Key was one from P. C. McDuffie, president P. C. McDuffie Company, of Atlanta, who, being fully satisfied early in the afternoon of the election that Mayor Key had won, wrote him a congratulatory letter, saying:

"There will be in the outcome abundant satisfaction for you personally. You have stood without flinching for principles that will make for a greater Atlanta. In the task you have had the support, not only of the newspapers who have at heart the best interest of the city, but also thousands of fair-minded men and women including, I trust school teachers, city employes and laborers who realize that the days of high salaries, easy money, waste and extravagance in the conduct of the public business is a thing of the past. In today's undertaking you will win regardless of the count—your monument will be more enduring than the title."

Nance's Statement.

Nance's statement follows:

"The people have spoken. We attempted to present the facts as we understood them in a clean manner, and while more than 40 per cent of the largest vote in the history of our city agreed with us, we, of course, accept the views of the majority, notwithstanding the many innovations injected into the election.

"In view of all the conditions surrounding the recent controversy, the vote of 12,000 citizens is very gratifying, and the welfare of Atlanta should be kept in mind by every citizen as the paramount consideration for all of us.

"If the major portion of the interest in civic affairs evidenced by this election can be maintained in the future, it will be of real service to the community.

Jones Buries Hatchet.

"The Georgia Anti-Saloon League opposed Mayor Key and favored his recall because of his anti-prohibition views, but a majority of the good citizens of Atlanta having voted to retain the mayor all should do their best to make his administration a success for the sake of our city," Dr. Jones said.

"Mayor Key's anti-prohibition views do not meet the approval of many, but a majority having voted to retain him, every citizen should now do his best to make Mayor Key's administration a big success.

"It is to be hoped that there will be no personal animosities and no hatreds left over from the recall election. Let us bury any hard feelings that may have been aroused by the contest and all pull together to make Atlanta the great and prosperous city that she should be."

Rain To Fall Today; Cold Weather Over

Rain is slated to follow the cold spell which held Atlanta in its grip until Wednesday morning, according to C. F. von Herrmann, meteorologist. The rain, with still warmer temperatures than those of Wednesday, will reach Atlanta today, but will be of short duration.

If the light showers reach here this morning they will cease by nightfall but if they do not arrive until the afternoon they will continue over until Friday. Atlanta came back to normal Wednesday, from the temperature angle, with a range of 42 to 61 degrees, and today's reading are slated to range between 50 and 58 degrees.

AIMEE McPHERSON IS RESTING QUIETLY

LOS ANGELES, March 16.—(UP) Aimee Semple McPherson Hutton, evangelist, was resting comfortably tonight after a blood transfusion. Her condition, according to her husband, David Hutton, had been weakened by overwork in her religious and charitable activities. She collapsed in her pulpit Sunday.

DEATH OF HEIRESS REMAINS MYSTERY

GIBRALTAR, March 16.—(UP) A coroner's jury investigating the death of Miss Elizabeth Cook, of Boston, who died several weeks ago aboard the S. S. Chunese Prince, today reported there was insufficient evidence to determine the cause of death.

Miss Cook's death was surrounded with mystery due to the fact that she had received a telegram falsely announcing the death of her fiance.

The analysis of doctors who performed an autopsy showed the condition of the stomach normal.

BELGIAN KING PARDONS YOUNG ANTI-FASCIST

BRUSSELS, March 16.—(AP)—King Albert today pardoned Fernando De Rosa, a student who attempted to assassinate Crown Prince Humbert of Italy when the crown prince was in Brussels October 25, 1929, prior to his marriage to the Belgian princess, Marie Jose.

De Rosa was sentenced to serve five years.

The defense offered at his trial was that he was an emotional and patriotic youth opposed to fascism.

SON IS EXONERATED IN DEATH OF FATHER

NEWARK, Ark., March 16.—(AP)—Burl Beemen, 30, shot and killed his father, John Beemen, 55, on the latter's houseboat on Black river near here last night and today was exonerated at a preliminary hearing on his plea of self-defense.

Swedish King Seeks To Bring Peace in Family

NICE, France, March 16.—(AP)—King Gustav, of Sweden, emerged today as a possible mediator between his son, Prince Wilhelm, and his grandson, Prince Lennart, who recently surrendered royal prerogatives in order to marry Miss Karin Nissvandt, a commoner.

It was reliably learned that the king, who has purchased an expensive gift of jewelry for the bride, hopes to effect a reconciliation. Prince Lennart is the son of Prince Wilhelm.

Lennart and his bride are expected to arrive here Easter Monday to visit the king. Prince Wilhelm already is on the Riveria and when his son and the commoner were married in London March 11 he remarked, "I will have nothing to do with that wedding."

Yo Yo Brings Entertainment To Scottish Rite Hospital

Yo-Yo took the Scottish Rite hospital children by storm.

It isn't a new oxygen tent, neither is it a vitamin, nor is it a peculiar kind of entertainer from the Metropolitan Opera Company. Once lay your hands on Yo-Yo and it becomes a struggle to part with it; however fiercely you might hurl it from you it will not abandon you but, like an unpaid bill, tirelessly returns.

What is Yo-Yo? What, then, is it that whizzes from you and yet is with you, taps on the floor yet has neither feet nor hands, flies and spins and curves like a Schneider Cup plane, yet has no engine. Yo-Yo.

Yo-Yo was born 300 years ago in the Philippine Islands and the people, in high station and low, cherished it to their bosom, as it were. It received the affection of the populace, pleasingly distracted them from domestic politics, and became a national institution. The passing of years saw it prosper without loss of its pristine freshness, and now, this 20th century, it has crossed seas and lands to make new friends in Atlanta. And Yo-Yo has come to stay. That was evident by the joyful reception it received from the little inmates and their nurses in the Scottish Rite hospital.

Like Trained Bird.

For Yo-Yo, you must know, is a toy—a fascinating toy. It derives its name from the Philippine expression for "come back, you're welcome." Made of wood, the size and shape of a tangerine, Yo-Yo is in reality an air-top. Wound round its middle is a short length of string, the end of which is held by the middle finger of the right hand together with the top itself. When Yo-Yo, the top proper, is released, it flies down and hops back again to the hand. With practice, it spins, dances on the floor, zooms and swings and twirls, and again returns like a trained bird to the hand.

And where else could such a bright, busy, joyful thing be better introduced to Atlanta than in the Scottish Rite hospital? Forgetting pain, little boys and girls who had been confined to their beds for months, struggled keenly to outwit Yo-Yo.

Yo-Yo is not only a child's toy. The adult is provided with a different string attachment which gives greater freedom of manipulation and exercises one's skill and dexterity. No adult need be ashamed of Yo-Yoing. It will shortly be the smart thing to do.

It is an art not to be learned in a moment's rehearsal, but for perfection requires practice and diligence for hours, days or months according to the status of one's mentality. For in truth, it taxes the average intelligence.

A Victim's Story.

"Last night," without faltering, one man told his story. "I Yo-Yoed for a few hours. I could make it go to and from my hand, but——" (here with feeling), "I couldn't make it spin. My small son wanted to play with it, but I persevered. I hit myself on the head, so I let my son have it. After a few minutes he wanted another Yo-Yo, one for each hand."

BETTY BRONSON WEDS CAROLINIAN ON COAST

SANTA BARBARA, Cal., March 16.—(AP)—Betty Bronson, former motion picture star, and Ludwig Lauerhause, of Asheville, N. C., were married here late today by Superior Judge A. B. Bigler, in his chambers at the county courthouse.

The couple left immediately by motor for the north, refusing to disclose their honeymoon itinerary.

When they applied for a marriage license here a few days ago, Miss Bronson gave her age as 22 and Lauerhaus said he was 27.

She enacted the original role of "Peter Pan" in the movies several years ago.

Rowing Scrubwoman Again Turns North

NEW ORLEANS, March 16.—(AP) — Randi Lerohl, 48-year-old scrubwoman of Superior, Wis., who started rowing alone the 2,000 miles down the Mississippi river to the Gulf of Mexico, where she dreamed of basking in a tropical sun and curing her backache, changed her mind just 14 miles from her destination and is coming back.

News that she was returning was brought here by Captain D. Dantin, skipper of the little mail boat which runs from here to Barataria bay and the old pirate country. He said he saw her and her skiff in Bayou St. Dennis, and that she was heading for New Orleans. But why she has changed her mind, he said he did not know.

Brother-in-Law Accuses Apache Of Murdering Young White Woman

GLOBE, Ariz., March 16.—(AP)—Robert Gatewood, Apache brother-in-law of Mac (Golney) Seymour, testified today in the Indian's murder trial that Seymour told him late on the night of July 18 "I killed a white woman."

Seymour is on trial for the slaying of Henrietta Schmerler, Columbia University student of anthropology.

Seymour, Gatewood declared in sputtering Apache through an interpreter, said he had been intimate with the white woman and she threatened to make trouble, so he killed her.

Gatewood said Seymour washed blood from his hands and told him, "If you say anything about this I will do same to you."

The testimony of Gatewood followed evidence offered by the government in an effort to prove that the body found near Fort Apache in July was that of Miss Schmerler.

John P. Dougherty, Seymour's attorney, had contended "there is nothing here yet to show the dead woman" was Miss Schmerler.

William Maupin, special officer, testified he believed a suitcase he found in a canyon on the east fork of the White river belonged to Miss Schmerler, and that the body he saw in the ravine was the body of the girl he met as Miss Schmerler.

Jack Perry, Apache, told of seeing Seymour and Gatewood at the cabin of the woman on the afternoon of July 18, the day she was killed.

The Columbia University co-ed was killed while visiting the Apache Indian reservation to obtain material for a thesis for a master's degree in anthropology. She was found beaten to death not far from the lonely cabin she occupied.

SEVENTEEN FISHERMEN RESCUED ON ICE FLOE

BUFFALO, N. Y., March 16.—(AP) Seventeen fishermen adrift for more than four hours on a huge ice floe in Lake Erie were rescued by coast guardsmen shortly before 2 o'clock today.

The rescue was effected only after the coast guardsmen had pushed their boats through three-quarters of a mile of ice-clogged water and then rowed a quarter of a mile of open water to the edge of the drifting floe.

Florida Girl Lost.

HAVANA, March 16.—(AP)—The English-speaking section of the Havana police today received a letter from Mrs. James K. Meadows, of Dade City, Fla., asking that a search be conducted for her daughter, Ida Lee, who came to Havana with one of the American college crews on a world tour."

Roswell-Fulton Merger Approved by Cobb Jurors

Annexation Plan Is One Step Nearer; Final Details Expected To Be Completed Within Month.

With the sanction of the Cobb county March term grand jury Wednesday of the relinquishment of the Roswell militia district of that county for annexation to Fulton, the first step toward completion of a plan to connect Fulton and a large section of the newly-acquired Milton county territory was inaugurated.

From assertions made by members of the various bodies before which the matter must pass before it can be placed into effect, the ultimate consummation of the merger should be made by the middle of April. With the Cobb county grand jury's stamp of approval there now remain but three steps to be taken before the merger can be carried out. The remaining steps are sanction of the Cobb county commission, the Fulton grand jury, and the Fulton county commission.

Interviews with members of both road commissions reveal that no obstacles stand in the way and that if the Fulton grand jury approves, the annexation of the Roswell district, containing the city of Roswell, will take place.

According to C. P. Vaughn, mayor of Roswell, and the principal signer of the petition asking for the annexation which has been filed in both Fulton and Cobb counties, he was notified at 11 o'clock Wednesday morning that the Cobb grand jury had passed on the matter favorably and that the annexation would be made a part of the jury's formal presentments to be presented to Judge J. H. Hawkins at the end of the present term of court.

It was learned that the presentments probably would be returned on Tuesday of next week.

That the Cobb road commission will pass on the annexation favorably seems assured, according to J. M. Stone, who forms the one-man commission of Cobb county. He said Wednesday night that an advisory commission composed of H. P. Carpenter, clerk of the superior court, and J. M. Gann, county ordinary, acts with him in all important matters. The body will not be able to meet for two more weeks, he said, because Mr. Carpenter will be detained by his court duties.

The Fulton grand jury for the March term is in regular session and, it has been stated, will act on the annexation just as soon as it can be presented. It has been indicated that a recommendation may be contained in a special presentment in order to speed up matters.

The Fulton county board of commissioners is to meet for its monthly meeting on the first Wednesday in April and it is predicted that the annexation will come before it for ratification at that time if the intermediate steps are taken on schedule and the Fulton grand jury passes on it favorably. Three of the commissioners, constituting a deciding vote, said Wednesday night they were in favor of the annexation. The other two could not be reached for a statement.

Chairman Paul S. Etheridge said, "I am heartily in favor of it. It is a shame that to reach old Milton county, due to the arrangements of bridges over the river, we have to pass either through Gwinnett or Cobb county." Dr. W. L. Gilbert and Walter C. Hendrix also said they were heartily in favor of the move.

SENATE PRESIDENT, CECIL NEILL, DIES OF SINUS TROUBLE

a representative from Muscogee county in 1915, serving in consecutive legislatures through the session of 1927. He was speaker of the house in 1921 through the second extra session of 1926.

When Mr. Neill went to the state senate from this district in 1929 he was elected president, because of his unusual understanding of parliamentary law and was re-elected to that position by the 1931 legislature.

His education was secured in the public schools of this city.

Mr. Neill married Miss Martha Louise Cocke, June 27, 1905. She was the daughter of Charles H. Cocke, founder of Hollins College, Hollins, Va. Her mother was Mrs. Ella Kirven Cocke, of the prominent Kirven family of Columbus.

Their four children are: Mrs. Otis De Vaughn, of New York; Miss Elizabeth Lindsay Neill and W. Cecil Neill Jr., of Columbus, and Charles H. Neill, of Atlanta, who only recently returned from South America.

Two brothers, Lindsay and Douglas Neill, and a sister, Mrs. William H. Young, all of Columbus, also survive.

After attending the public schools here Mr. Neill read law in the office of the late Louis Garrard. He was admitted to the bar in 1901.

At the time of his death he was a director of the Columbus Bank & Trust Co., the Muscogee Bank & Trust Co. and the Provident Loan & Insurance Co. He was also attorney for several large corporations.

He was a member of the Presbyterian church, Knights Templars, Shrine, the Elks and Knights of Pythias.

His parents, who came to Columbus from Alabama, were pioneer residents of this city, and Mr. Neill was prominent in the religious, cultural and social life of Columbus.

While Mr. Neill had been ill for several days he was not confined to bed and the trouble only became serious early in the day when complications set in from sinus trouble.

During his long legislative career Mr. Neill took an outstanding part in the formation of some of the state's important laws.

Perhaps the most oustanding piece of legislation he fathered was the Neill primary law. This act, which has been in force for several years, gave Georgia a unique primary system.

The Neill law gave the state the county unit vote system. Under this act a person running for state office is considered as having the county's unit vote when he has secured the majority of the popular vote. His right to the office is conceded when he has a majority of the county unit votes in the state and not popular votes.

Mr. Neill was also the author of the state law which makes it mandatory on all state officers to place their collections, whether from taxes or fees, into the state treasury from which funds as are appropriated by the legislature may be removed only on warrant of the governor.

He was also the author of a constitutional amendment to be voted on in t' general elections this fall which would change the terms of office of all state officials from June to January and have the legislature meet for a 10-day session in January to receive bills and a 60-day session in June for their enactment.

He was known among legislators for his support of the common schools and many pieces of legislation for the benefit of these instituions bear his name, either as author or co-author.

Guy D. Jackson, Cochran merchant and senator from the fourteenth district, embracing the counties of Bleckley, Dooly and Pulaski, is president pro tem. of the senate and would preside should there be need of an extra session before 1933.

Under provisions of the constitution the president of the senate would become governor in event of the death of the chief executive.

It is further provided that if the president of the senate dies before the expiration of his term, the speaker of the house would become governor should the latter be taken by death.

This same constitutional provision makes it mandatory on whoever succeeds the governor after his death shall call an election within 60 days for the selection of a new governor.

SEED LOANS FRAUD DENIED BY DEFENSE

DOTHAN, Ala., March 16.—(AP)—Evidence contradicting government testimony was placed in the records today by defense witnesses called in the trial of 11 persons charged with conspiracy to obstruct justice and defraud the United States in obtaining seed loans.

A directed verdict of acquittal for J. W. Croom was ordered by Judge C. B. Kennamer, presiding when the government rested shortly after the noon recess. Judge Kennamer overruled similar motions for the other 10 defendants.

The defense moved rapidly in presenting its case, calling nine witnesses within the first hour, many of whom were not cross-examined by Arthur V. Chilton, United States district attorney.

W. W. Rollins, a defendant, was the first defense witness and testified he paid a 1930 loan in December of that year, paying cash to Thomas L. Hutchings, of Sumter, S. C., former seed loan collector and supervisor for this section, who entered pleas of guilty to charges of conspiracy and embezzlement.

Rollins was subjected to rigid cross-examination by Chilton and could not recall the definite date of paying $705.90 due on the loan. Rollins, however, told how he raised the money. The government contends that Rollins entered into a conspiracy by accepting a receipt, allegedly bogus, issued by Hutchings after he left the service of the seed loan division.

Dr. C. C. McIntyre and O. B. Kirkland, of Columbia, Ala., testified that Rollins showed them his report early in August, 1931, while the government contends it was written after the investigation began September 3 that year.

District Attorney Chilton spent considerable time in cross-examination of Shell Traywick, another defendant, who testified he paid a 1930 loan with six bales of cotton and $100 in cash.

"I tried to get Hutchins down to $75, but he wouldn't do it," Traywick testified. His receipt for six bales of cotton delivered to Alabama farm bureau was admitted into evidence with his receipt for $100 in cash. The government contends the receipt was one of those "bogus" receipts issued by Hutchings after the investigation began.

Traywick testified that C. B. Winstead, a federal agent, was abusive when he interviewed him last September, saying "he called me a damn liar when I told him I had paid my loan." Traywick admitted on cross-examination there were discrepancies in loan applications in 1929, 1930 and 1931.

The government rested its case after presenting testimony of a woman applicant and government investigators in an effort to show a conspiracy existed.

The government sought through testimony of Mrs. Berta Walls to show the part it charges J. Norton Mullins, circuit solicitor, played in the alleged conspiracy.

She testified her age as given in her application was wrong and that some of the questions of the application she did not answer "as Mr. Mullins knew."

Mrs. Walls said that she is now 19 and that she was only 18 and not 28 when she applied for the loan. She testified she did not tell anyone she had three sons more than 12 years old and four sons and daughters under 12. She said she did not farm in 1929.

Through testimony of Louis Dentte, special investigator for the department of justice in charge of the investigation, and other agents the government brought into the testimony names of practically all the defendants.

3 Louisiana Banks Reopen for Business

LAFAYETTE, La., March 16.—(UP)—Three banks in this section, the First National of Abbeville, the Bank of Abbeville & Trust Company, and the Breaux Bridge Bank & Trust Company, of St. Martin parish, were reopened today.

The reopened firms assumed the assets and deposits of three other banks of the vicinity and announced depositors would be paid off in yearly installments of 20 per cent.

PINCHOT CLAIMS NEEDY STARVING

by some of his colleagues who placed the total at 10,000,000.

Taking issue with him, Senator Bratton, democrat, New Mexico, said: "Despite the figures given by the senator from Connecticut, I reaffirm the belief that there are 10,000,000 out of employment, and it does present a very serious problem to the thinking people of the country."

The highway construction bill was not up for consideration today and no action was taken on it. Bingham advocated amending it to provide for distribution of the funds on the basis of population rather tha of area and highway needs. He said he would vote aginst the bill even if his proposal were adopted.

He contended it is too great an expense to undertake at a time of a heavy treasury deficit, and argued that in its present form a relatively small share of the fund would go to the industrial states which have the largest number of unemployed.

No replies were received from Iowa, Kentucky, Louisiana, Mississippi, North Carolina, Rhode Island, Washington or New Jersey, while New York, Alabama and others reported accurate statistics were not available.

DE VALERA SEEKS TO UNITE IRELAND

Removal of Oath of Allegiance to King George Also Sought.

DUBLIN, Irish Free State, March 16.—(AP)—A merger of northern and southern Ireland was one aim outlined tonight by Eamon De Valera, new president of the Irish Free State, in a four-point program for his administration.

The other three objectives:

(1). Removal of the oath of allegiance to King George at the next session of the dail, an act which he said would probably mean that the Irish republican army will no longer have reason for existence.

(2). An end to payments of land annuities to Great Britain and a claim against the British government for restoration of 30,000,000 pounds annuities already paid.

Suspend Safety Act.

(3). Suspension of the public safety act at the next session of the executive council. The public safety act set up military courts with powers of summary jurisdiction for maintaining law and order.

"I hope to see the unnatural boundaries between north and south Ireland broken down," the president said in explaining his merger plan.

He said he hoped in time to merge the office of governor-general of Ireland into the office of president of the Irish republic.

The present situation cannot continue to exist, he said, if only on the grounds of economy. "Ireland has to support two prime ministers—indeed two of every minister. Apart from great inconvenience because of the customs, we must have an united Ireland."

De Valera had this to say about the oath of allegiance:

To Remove Oath.

"One of the first acts in the next session of the dail will be to remove the oath. The oath is not obligatory in the treaty (the treaty creating the Irish Free State signed with Great Britain 10 years ago). The form of words in the treaty is not mandatory.

"The form of words used is: 'The oath to be taken shall be—' Thus it follows that no other form of oath is possible, but this should not necessarily mean that the oath is obligatory."

The president said the next installment on the land annuities would be withheld under his program to stop payment.

"It is our intention," he said, "not to make another payment to Great Britain, and until any negotiations can take place the onus is on the British government to present their case for land annuities."

Loew's Grand Today Has 'The Guardsman'

"The Guardsman," the brilliant and long-awaited talking picture with Alfred Lunt and Lynn Fontanne in the star roles, will open its Atlanta engagement at Loew's Grand theater this morning. It is booked for three days' showing this week.

It is, without doubt, one of the cleverest and finest things the movies have yet achieved. The humor, sophisticated and sparkling, is the sort to bring the delights of quiet chuckles throughout and the acting is nothing less than superb. In the supporting cast is Roland Young, Zasu Pitts and Maude Eberne.

It is the story of an actor who, suspicious of his actress wife, decides to test her fidelity by disguising himself and trying to win her as another man. He succeeds but, at the close, the great question is "Did she, or did she not, know it was her husband all the time?" It is a question that every member of the audience will answer according to their own temperament.

The Atlanta board of review, of which Mrs. Alonzo Richardson is secretary, has recommended the picture and urges everyone to see it. In a letter to Lewis White, manager of Loew's Grand, Mrs. Richardson says: "I learn with much pleasure that you are to have Lynn Fontanne and Alfred Lunt in 'The Guardsman' at your theater. It is a rare treat for Atlanta to have the opportunity to see and hear these splendid artists. The play itself has a tremendous mass appeal. Those who have had the opportunity of hearing these artists in New York in this delightful play will gladly avail themselves of the opportunity to see and hear them again." —RALPH T. JONES.

COMMITTEE FAVORS SHERRILL SELECTION

WASHINGTON, March 16.—(AP)—The nomination of Charles H. Sherrill, of New York, to be ambassador to turkey, succeeding Joseph C. Grew, was reported favorably today by the foreign relations committee.

$150 Election Banned To Conserve Funds

LAMAR, Col., March 16.—(UP) The citizens of Wiley, Col., have decided to dispense with a spring municipal election to conserve town funds.

A mass meeting of citizens agreed to forego the election next month, and allow the same municipal officers to continue at their posts for another year.

Mayor W. E. Carlin said a conservative estimate of the election cost was $150.

Irish Will Wear Shamrock Today In Honor of Revered Saint Patrick

"All praise to St. Patrick who brought to our mountains . . . All hail to the Shepherd who showed us the fountains . . ."

Irish men and women in Atlanta today celebrate St. Patrick's Day in a more reverent manner, perhaps, than is usual, for 1932 is the fifteenth centenary of the famous saint who "established a light to burn through eternity."

Wherever the Irish may be on March 17, each year they pay honor to the saint, usually in the wearing of green raiment and the singing of folk songs of the Emerald Isle. In Atlanta Roman Catholic churches today there will be special masses said and the Knights of Columbus will give a card party and dance at the Columbian Club.

In honor of the fifteenth centenary of St. Patrick, special sermons were preached last Sunday. Father Michael J. Larkin, assistant rector of Sacred Heart church, after extensive research, sketched the history of the saint from the time he was kidnaped by brigands and forced to serve as a shepherd lad and on through his service to Ireland.

One interesting point brought out by Father Larkin was the fact that no snakes ever lived on Irish soil, thereby blasting the famous myth that St. Patrick expelled the reptiles from Ireland. Geologists assert that no snake ever lived on the green isle.

However, St. Patrick's Day is a day of joy and happiness and the church services will be featured with the singing of old Irish tunes and an ever-recurrent pledging of loyalty to the traditions of Ireland. Every son and daughter of the Ould Sod will wear the green and the shamrock will be the honored plant of the day.

Father Larkin explained that in Ireland, his native home, the observance of St. Patrick's Day takes a more serious note than is noticeable here in America. The day is regarded as holy and the same reverance that is paid on Sunday is given by Catholics.

Al Capone Must File Income Tax for '31

CHICAGO, March 16.—(AP)—The 11-year prison sentence facing Al Capone would be no bar to further prosecution in event the gangster failed to file an income tax return for 1931, United States District Attorney George E. Q. Johnson said tonight.

Commenting on an article published in a local paper quoting jail companions of Capone as saying he had not filed a return because action would be outlawed by the statute of limitations by the time his sentence was completed, Mr. Johnson said:

"Capone could be removed from prison to stand trial for further violations at any time and additional penalties inflicted."

Ohio Governor Hissed At W. C. T. U. Meeting

COLUMBUS, Ohio, March 16.—(AP)—Governor George White, of Ohio, was hissed tonight at the regional banquet of the Women's Christian Temperance Union when he told the exponents of the prohibition laws that they erred when they opposed a referendum on the eighteenth amendment.

Speaking out in public for the first time on his stand on the question of a referendum, the governor heard a chorus of "nays" and some hisses when he said that the prohibition question should be resubmitted to the people, if for no other reason than to refute wet charges that the law was forced through when hundreds of thousands of American citizens were on the battle line in France.

2 KILLED, MANY HURT IN POLISH DISORDERS

WARSAW, Poland, March 16.—(AP) Two persons were killed today and many injured in disorders attending a general strike of some 26,000 workers throughout Poland.

Labor unions proclaimed the walkout in protest against labor bills recently passed by the sejm, and although Warsaw was not seriously affected, various points in the provinces had disturbances.

16 Students Hurt.

SALISBURY, N. C., March 16.—(AP)—Sixteen high school students were burned, cut and bruised today as they broke windows and escaped from a school bus which caught fire.

ECONOMIC GROUP TO GATHER TODAY

Business Problems Will Be Discussed at Two-Day Meeting Here.

Business leaders and executives from all sections of the south will assemble at the meeting of the committee of 500 of the Southeastern Economic Council at the Biltmore hotel at 9 o'clock this morning for an informal study of problems related to business and economic progress.

Beginning with a "get-acquainted" breakfast this morning the meeting will continue with registrations until 10 o'clock when Hugh McRae, president of the council, of Wilmington, N. C., will call the first business session. Until noon representatives of each southern state will make five-minute talks and reports covering views relating to specific interests of the group.

At 12 o'clock committees will be formed with each state being represented and at 1:30 o'clock a "speechless" luncheon will be held. The business session will reassemble at 3 o'clock when reports and opinions of vice-presidents and other officers will be given and at 4 o'clock the meeting will adjourn.

The group dinner will be held at 6:30 o'clock, followed by reports of the committees to be formed earlier this afternoon.

The final session will convene at 9 o'clock Friday morning and end at noon, followed by a meeting of the executive committee.

Members of the council began arriving in Atlanta last night, headed by Mr. McRae, who arrived from Wilmington Wednesday morning. He said the keynote of the meeting will be "The Logical Development of Mutual Interests."

EQUIPMENT SHOW ATTRACTS CROWDS

The second day of the parts and equipment show which was opened on Tuesday at the Palais Peachtree by local jobbers saw increased attendance Wednesday and much enthusiasm on the part of those inspecting the exhibits. This show will continue through Friday.

The show is sponsored by seven jobbers of automotive parts, equipment, and accessories in Atlanta. These are the Alexander-Sewald Company, American Gear Company, Automobile Piston Company, Beck & Gregg Hardware Company, Genuine Parts Company, King Hardware Company, and the Southern Bearing nd Parts Company.

Jobbers of other states were invited to attend, as well as customers of automobile dealers. Displays were made by 137 factories making the various products.

FULLER ADDRESSES REAL ESTATE MEN ON TRUSTEESHIPS

Suggestions to real estate men on how they might induce trustees of estates to invest their funds in real estate were made to members of the Atlanta Real Estate Board at its semi-monthly luncheon meeting at the Piedmont hotel on Wednesday by W. A. Fuller, attorney.

To begin with there are certain legal formalities to be complied with, Mr. Fuller said. In some cases, he added, real estate should be the form of investment.

The trustee, however, is hampered by the fact that unless he has a court order, or is authorized by a board or committee, he is held responsible for his investments. If he invests in real estate he must go into an investigation of the property, and enter into negotiations, processes which take time. Or if he lets it be known he is in the market he will be pestered with a multitude of agents and proposals.

He suggested that the real estate board obtain from its members a selected list of parcels, make appraisals of them, as well as a complete analysis of their possibilities. This data, which would be in the form of a certified indorsement of the properties, could then be submitted to the trustees.

A. E. EVERETT HEADS PRIMARY COMMITTEE

Dr. Samuel Green, chairman of the city democratic executive committee, Wednesday announced the personnel of the 1932 subcommittee in preparation for the 1932 primary which probably will be staged within the next few months.

No announcement of a meeting of the committee could be made Wednesday, but Dr. Green intimated he will call the committee together within a few weeks to set a date for the primary.

Personnel of the subcommittee was announced as follows:

A. E. Everett, vice chairman of the executive committee; S. B. Winburn, secretary of the executive committee; W. R. Bentley, from the city at large; Paul R. Gentry, first ward; Holmes Joyner, second; Albert W. Gossett, third; A. W. Walker, who opposed Dr. Green for a place on the executive committee, fourth; S. W. Sharp, fifth; Tom Ball, sixth; C. S. Vittur, seventh; E. M. Rosier, eighth; Fred P. Gibbs, ninth; Tom C. Smith, tenth; W. P. Gresham, eleventh; L. Glenn Dewberry, twelfth, and Joe H. Bush, thirteenth.

ELKS GROUP TO MEET AND DISCUSS SESSION

Plans for the convention of the Georgia Elks Association in Waycross May 19 and 20 will be outlined at a meeting of the executive committee here Sunday, March 20.

R. E. Lee Reynolds, secretary, in announcing the meeting said the committee also would plan to obtain full representation for all Georgia lodges at the grand lodge convention in Birmingham the week of July 10.

Delegations from lodges in Atlanta, Columbus, Savannah, Augusta, Macon, Waycross, Brunswick, Albany, Americus, Milledgeville, Athens, Fitzgerald, LaGrange, Griffin and Douglas will attend, Reynolds said.

COUNTY POLICE FAIL TO FIND ATTACKERS

County police are "still working on" the question of the identity of the persons who last Sunday night severely beat Mrs. Agnes Wellborn, of East Point, and threw her from an automobile in the vicinity of Peachtree creek, it was said at headquarters Wednesday. Although furnished with information by the former owner of the automobile involved, and by the auto dealer in whose storage the car was supposed to remain at the time the incident occurred, the police said they have failed to locate the driver or occupants of the machine involved in the case.

ATLANTA, GA., MARCH 17, 1932.

THE RECALL RESULT.

It is fortunate that the result of Tuesday's recall election was so decisive as to clearly indicate the attitude of the people on the issues involved.

The majority of 5,545 votes against the recall of Mayor Key definitely vindicates his contentions that an American citizen, even though he should be the occupant of a public office, has the inalienable right to express his opinion on public topics, and that the city must be run within its income and on a strictly business basis.

The election is over, and the people having spoken thus plainly, the rancor and bitterness which developed should be put in the background, and all elements should unite with the mayor in working out the problems confronting the city.

A few of the most rampant leaders of the recall campaign sought, through radio talks and the last-minute circulation through the mails and at the polls of scurrilous circulars, to make The Constitution an issue in the election.

It is strange that The Constitution should have been thus singled out, because all three of the Atlanta newspapers opposed the recall on exactly the same ground—the threat involved to the honor and good name of the city.

But The Constitution is accustomed to such attacks. In every fight it has ever made for the betterment of conditions in Atlanta, it has been made the brunt of vicious and malicious attacks.

About two years ago The Constitution led in the attack on the open corruption in council, as a result of which many of those who had been false to their oaths of office were sent to the penitentiary, where they are now serving. For this public service, The Constitution was awarded the noted Pulitzer award for "the most meritorious service rendered by any American newspaper during the year," but this did not keep it from being lambasted by those whose illegal practices it had aided in uncovering.

No newspaper can fearlessly do its duty without being subjected to such attacks. They are a matter of profound indifference to The Constitution, and as shown in the result of the recall election, to the public.

The election a thing of the past, all elements, both in the city government and among our citizens, should buckle down to a harmonious effort to solve the serious problems which still face the municipality.

Atlanta's finances are in a deplorable condition; her sewers, waterworks, streets, schools and other civic enterprises are woefully insufficient; and the people are paying too high taxes for the service they are receiving.

If the city is to go forward as it should, we must put our differences behind us and willingly put our shoulders to the wheel in the effort to put the city on a sound financial basis.

The president of Harvard says that the return of prosperity depends upon a number of things.

Quite obviously—and the return of a number of things depend on prosperity.

The travel bureaus needn't list us as a prospective purchaser of a trip to Europe on the installment plan. We'd be afraid that they might park the ship in mid-ocean and refuse to proceed until we paid another installment.

The Mississippi legislature is considering taxing bachelors $10 a year. We didn't know it was constitutional to penalize liberty in this country.

ROOSEVELT'S LATEST SWEEP.

Reports from the North Dakota primary indicate another sweeping victory for Franklin D. Roosevelt in that state, despite the bitter contest waged against him.

Thus he already has the delegations of North Dakota, New Hampshire, Minnesota and Washington—and Georgia will come next when it holds its primary on March 23. These are the only states which have acted so far and each has gone overwhelmingly for Roosevelt.

The tremendous increase in the democratic vote, lends marked significance to the North Dakota result. It has reached an unprecedented figure, in fact, three times as large as the largest democratic vote ever polled in the state, which was 13,113 in the election of 1924. The final vote probably will reach between 60,000 and 70,000.

Thus is indicated the trend in the west. It becomes increasingly more certain, as The Constitution has frequently predicted, that Roosevelt, if nominated, will carry three-fourths of the states west of the Mississippi river, a section which has heretofore always been predominantly republican.

No other democratic candidate could approximate that strength in the west. On the other hand, the nomination of anybody else but Roosevelt would be an open invitation to the progressive elements among both the democrats and republicans in that section to organize a new party—which would spell the loss of many states to the democrats.

As each state acts, Roosevelt's strength becomes more apparent and the certainty of his nomination, and election, is emphasized.

SAFEGUARDS FOR RECALL LAW.

The expense involved to the city of Atlanta, and the threat to its good name, in the recall campaign which culminated in Tuesday's election—an election which should never have been called because of the invalidity of the recall petitions—contain a lesson well worthy of careful consideration.

No blame attaches to council for having authorized the election, notwithstanding the charges of perjury, forgery, misrepresentation and nonpayment of taxes. Under the mandatory ruling of the city attorney it had no right to purge the petition, and no other alternative than to call the election.

But it is now clearly up to council to take action looking to the prevention of any such scandals in future. The law specifically requires that in all recall or referendum efforts, except that involving the office of mayor, signatures shall be affixed to petitions in the city hall in the presence of the city clerk.

This should be made applicable to all recalls and all referendums and council should at once ask the legislature at its next session to make such revision of the law.

Recourse to the recall should not be made unless corruption or malfeasance in office is so willful and apparent as to arouse public indignation. Under such a condition the voters would have no objection to going to the clerk's office, taking the necessary oath and signing the recall petitions only after having been given full information as to their purport.

With such a restriction, the demoralizing monstrosities which developed during the recent recall movement would be eliminated.

It would put an end to the business of sending out professional canvassers to get signatures at 15 cents per capita—with the resultant danger of forgery, misrepresentation and other illegal acts. It is a pretty pass in civic affairs when those primarily responsible for taking advantage of the inefficiency of the recall law, in order to protect themselves, swear out warrants for some of their 15-cents-per-capita canvassers, upon whom no check was exercised, but who were permitted to turn in any and all kinds of lists.

The recall is all right when it is properly safeguarded, but the effort to recall Mayor Key has amply demonstrated that the present law is lacking in the necessary restrictions to prevent injustice and crookedness.

Well, we've made out our income tax blank and it's still blank.

THE WORLD'S WINDOW

BY PIERRE VAN PAASSEN.

Hitler's Risks.

Dorothy Thompson's book on Hitler is out. The New Yorker says that the publisher had been worried for fear Herr Hitler might be killed before the date of publication. This particular publisher, it is further said, was sufficiently worried, or sufficiently businesslike, to take out insurance on Hitler's life. He was turned down by several American companies, but finally got Lloyd's to sell him a $5,000 policy for the period of one month at a premium of $50. Fifty dollars, says the New Yorker further, is presumably not high, considering that two attempts have already been made on Hitler's life.

With all respects to the New Yorker we must remark that it is completely off. When did anybody try to kill Hitler, in the first place? In the beer-hall "Putsch," perhaps, or some other of his heroic stunts? Has the New Yorker ever seen Hitler go around? There is not much chance of anybody even taking a pot-shot at him. He is surrounded by a bodyguard of huskies who cluster around him like jam on a wet blanket. There is, of course, the possibility that Hitler is personally responsible for the yarn of two attacks on him. He is liable to say anything.

But it's all talk about that boy. He is a congenital coward. All he did so far is blow off a lot of hot air and order attacks on helpless old men and women leaving a place of worship and hounding liberals and liberal-minded people from their jobs. He is a disgrace to Germany and to the whole Teutonic race.

The redeeming feature about the Hitler business is that Germany produced Goethes as well as Attilas and Schillers as well as Hitlers.

American Speech.

What is the standard of American speech? Is it correctly spoken in Georgia or in Chicago? Both idioms are far removed from Oxford English, but whose example is one expected to follow, the Brooklyner or the San Franciscan? There seems to be as much difference here in English as there is in Germany between Bavarians and Berliners.

In New England they pipe it through the nose and larynx; in Georgia they drawl it until it sounds like softly gurgling brooks; the Louisianans croon their lingo, most dangerous procedure, for it has a most sensuous appeal.

It's a strange thing, but the sun seems to be mixed up in it, too. Ever notice the musical qualities of Provencal speech compared to the harsher north French? It becomes harsher the further north you go, until in Belgium it loses its lovely idiomatic flavor completely. Up there the consonants are rasped out, as in Arabic and Hebrew.

The same here in America. It's impossible for me to be charmed by the English they speak on the shores of Lake Michigan. But as to the south, I may not always understand them right away down there, but I have an ear for music and I bend mine ear.

Crime in England.

Carrying a gun during the commission of a crime in England automatically adds from 6 to 10 years to one's sentence, writes William White in the Herald-Tribune.

A housebreaker knows that if he is caught unarmed, he will receive two years' imprisonment, but if he carries a gun he will get 12 years; so he goes unarmed. Also, anyone wishing to purchase either gun or ammunition must apply to the police for a permit.

There has been some "bootlegging" in guns, but Scotland Yard knows where most of the guns in England are. This is something to ponder over for our legislators when they find time weighing heavily on their hands.

CLIFFORD JONES, Colonel, Coast Artillery Corps, General Staff Corps, U. S. Army, awarded the Distinguished Service Medal for especially meritorious and distinguished service. In the office of the executive assistant to the chief of staff, during the World War and the following demobilization period, his tactfullness and initiative in meeting the varied situations presented, and sound judgment in passing upon many matters of highest importance, contributed materially to the successful functioning of that office during the war.

During demobilization his conception and organization of the emergency discharge section of the office not only protected the war department form impositions, but served in a marked degree to preserve the morale of the civilian population during that trying period.

The First Step in Teaching Brotherly Love Is To Believe in It Yourself

—By Robert Quillen—

One of America's great industrialists said to his colleagues a few days ago: "America's great need today is the old-time religion."

That is true. It is true for reasons not apparent to the thoughtless and the superficial. But how can an ignorant man learn without a teacher?

Now, as always, the people hunger for religion. Now, as always, proof of their hunger is found in the too-eager gullibility that makes them easy prey for the charlatan and the faker.

If people now seem indifferent to religion, it is not because their hunger has grown less, but because they ask for bread and are given a stone.

Of what value to soul-hungry men and women is the moralizing of a prim and precise gentleman who regards them as social inferiors?

Religion has become a matter of magnificent buildings, comforting lectures, good music, nice clothes, proper behavior, a self-satisfied sense of superiority and a determination to rule by force of law—all of it regimented and organized in the manner of big business.

That isn't religion. It is merely complacent respectability that mistakes its own approval for the approval of God.

The religion people crave is not a code of morals.

Do the heart-hungry desire love? Indeed they do not. They hunger for some one to love. One who is loved by scores and yet unable to give love in return is heart-hungry still.

The soul-hungry desire a God to worship. They yearn for the blessed assurance of a father who knows and cares about their sorrows and delights in their love and trust.

Given an unquestioning belief in such a father, they can be content with their lot. They can find joy in unselfish service and believe in the brotherhood of man.

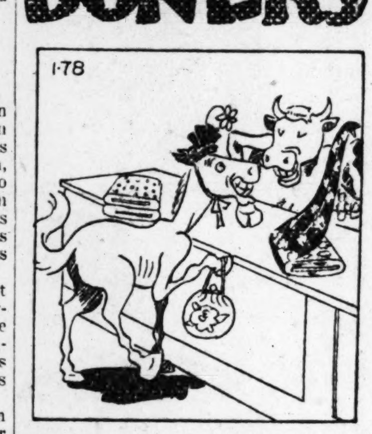

But the teacher who makes them believe must be an unselfish man who desires nothing for himself. He must devote his life to the doing of good. He must be humble, sincere and free of ambition.

Thousands of nominal Christians who know Gandhi only as a myth regard him as a messiah because their own religion has lost the virtues he seems to possess.

There is no lack of followers when a leader appears. A return to the old-time religion awaits only the coming of a teacher whose freedom from selfishness will prove his sincerity and whose love of man will prove his understanding.

Health Talks

BY DR. WILLIAM BRADY

CANCER OF THE LIP.

In a large majority of cases of cancer of the lip patients are excessive smokers. Pipe, cigar or cigaret smoking seems equally concerned, especially when the individual is much exposed to sun and wind. Lip cancer occurs chiefly in men beyond middle age; in 73 cases only four were in women, and three of these women were smokers.

Some cases begin with a "fever blister" or "cold sore" that persists over two weeks. Don't worry if you have such a "cold sore" or "herpes" longer than two weeks—just quit monkeying and consult your physician.

A few cases seem to develop upon some simple injury or the bite of an insect, or sunburn.

The best safety precaution for the general public is to seek proper medical advice whenever any sore on the lip persists longer than two weeks, especially if it shows scales, crusts, fissures or a warty thickening.

In a year there were 487 deaths from cancer of the lip reported in the United States. If (a) everyone with a sore on the lip followed the advice above given and (b) every physician treated such cases as he would be treated if he were the patient, there should be no deaths from cancer of the lip, for means now at our command will cure every case if applied reasonably early. Surely the wise course, if there is any doubt in the physician's mind when he examines the patient, is to assume the lesion is malignant, cancer, and to treat it is cancer.

The means of treatment that has proved most satisfactory consists of surgical excision of the cancer, preferably with diathermy (electro-coagulation) followed by high voltage X-ray treatment. Of course this is all painless treatment, and it is all safe treatment. Not by any stretch of imagination can this be said of any quack treatment by "Indian" herbs or mysterious oils or pastes or salves.

The danger of delay in such cases is that the cancer will be carried through the lymphatic channels to lymph nodes under the chin, back of the jaw and down in the neck, there to set up "metastases"—new cancers.

The use of that modern refinement in surgery—electro-coagulation, electro-desiccation, endothermy, diathermy, "radio knife," as it has been variously termed—has the advantage of immediately sealing open or cut surfaces so that the chance of such metastasis is reduced to a minimum. Besides, this modern method is practically bloodless and leaves rather less scar than ordinary surgery does.

As an ordinary family doctor I have cured cancer of the lip by simple surgical excision, under local anesthesia, in my office, but this is not feasible if the patient postpones treatment until lymph nodes under the chin or in the neck are involved. I have seen very extensive lip cancer with considerable involvement of lymph nodes completely and permanently cured by X-ray treatments alone, and that by a country doctor with a little old-fashioned X-ray machine. But if I had anything that looked at all like cancer of the lip I should want immediate electro-surgical removal or destruction of the lesion and immediately thereafter (the same or the next day) the first high voltage X-ray exposure.

This reassured the party leaders of their somewhat doubtful strength.

Although there may be some more breaks in the bi-partisan forces supporting the bill as a whole, Representative Snell, of New York, republican leader, is expected to muster enough votes to put the bill through for the democrats, whose lines are badly broken.

Representative Rainey, of Illinois, the democratic leader, has been virtually assured of 80 votes, while Snell hopes to muster at least 150, which will be more than enough to assure passage.

Substitute Plans Undecided.

At a conference with newspapermen after the closed meeting in the caucus room in the house office building, Doughton said the democratic opponents had not discussed any substitute plans.

While the meeting was in progress, Representative Gasque, of South Carolina, emerged and told newspapermen that he was bolting the meeting because the group refused to consider his motion to petition for a caucus of the democratic party to determine its position on the sales levy.

"I am a party man, and I want to follow my party," Gasque said, adding, however, that he was opposed to a sales tax as a matter of principle and because it imposed assessments "on a poor man's overalls and cotton socks."

Doughton said that reports from those present indicated that a majority of the democrats would vote against the bill, and that no other meeting of the group was planned.

Representative Rankin, of Mississippi, led the fight in the meeting against the sales provision, and Representative Howard, of Nebraska, read a letter from the republican independents suggesting a coalition to defeat it.

MISSISSIPPIANS MARCH ON CAPITOL IN PROTESTING TAX

mass meeting where resolutions condemning the sales tax were adopted, milled about the corridors outside the executive offices with cries of "We want Mike" (the governor's nickname) for an hour. They then dispersed after placing placards against the sales tax in the senate chamber and on the statehouse grounds.

The house, which was in session at the time, continued a routine session in spite of the din in the main rotunda of the capitol.

Shortly before the arrival of the protesters the senate finance committee held a meeting to take up the sales tax bill, already passed by the house, but took no action.

Ignoring the clamor of anti-sales tax demonstrators seeking an audience before Governor Sennett Conner within a stone's throw of the house chamber, the lower body worked steadily through a long afternoon session, passing a group of ways and means committee bills placing further economy restrictions on counties and municipalities.

House Business Suspended.

House business was suspended for reading of Governor Conner's written special message urging enactment of measures to "reshape the state's outstanding obligations, whether bonded or otherwise," to improve Mississippi's position with financiers when future financing is undertaken. The message was received by the senate during the morning.

With only one dissenting vote the senate ratified the "lame duck" amendment to the federal constitution, abolishing short sessions of congress and providing for inauguration of presidents and vice presidents on January 20 instead of March 4. The house previously had unanimously ratified the proposed change in the constitution.

into their first contest. Murray's name came directly before voters of the nation for the first time since he announced his candidacy.

A measure to increase the state's 3-cent gasoline tax to 4 cents and a proposal to move the state capital from Bismarck to Jamestown apparently were defeated by large margins.

SOCIALIST MAYOR WINS IN MILWAUKEE VOTING

MILWAUKEE, Wis., March 16.—(AP)—Complete returns from 388 precincts in yesterday's municipal primary election today gave the incumbent socialist mayor, Daniel W. Hoan, 71,515; Joseph P. Carney, non-partisan, 35,803, and Philip W. Westfahl, also non-partisan, 22,435. Hoan and Carney will oppose each other in the mayoralty election in May.

LABOR CANDIDATES WIN IN ST. PAUL ELECTION

ST. PAUL, March 16.—(AP)—Labor-indorsed office-seekers were predominant in the list of candidates nominated for city office in yesterday's municipal primary election.

William Mahoney, labor leader, and G. J. Bundlie, incumbent, were nominated for mayor and will oppose each other in the city election May 3. Each polled about 18,000 votes in a close race. Three other candidates trailed.

UTILITY LOBBYING CHARGED IN PROBE

$200,000 Said Spent Seeking Law To Allow Export of Surplus Power.

WASHINGTON, March 16.—(AP) Expenditures by the New England Public Service Company of approximately $200,000 in a campaign to secure a favorable vote on a law to permit export of surplus hydro-electric power from Maine was testified to today before the federal trade commission.

Frank Buckingham, a commission examiner, was the first to testify at the opening of hearings in an examination of the New England company's financial structure.

The company in 1929 spent approximately $200,000, he said, in a campaign to secure a favorable vote on a measure to permit power export.

Buckingham testified the money for the campaign was provided by profits from the sale of 3,000 shares of common stock of the Central & Southwestern Utilities Company. The Central stock was acquired in 1926 by the New England for $35 a share.

"It was sold at an average price of about $138 per share," Buckingham said, "leaving a profit after deduction of income tax, of $277,350."

The examiner explained that the company in reporting the expenditure to the stockholders had advised them that it considered the campaign necessary. The measure lost in the referendum by a small margin.

Buckingham testified he had gone over the company's finances at its office in Augusta, Maine, covering a period from the company's organization in 1925 to December 31, 1930.

Responding to a question by the commission's counsel, Robert E. Healy, the examiner, said the company was organized under Maine laws "by the Insull interests in August 27, 1925."

He then testified as to the company's connection with the National Electric Power Company, subsidiary of the Middle Western Utilities Corporation.

On December 31, 1931, the National Electric Power Company held 91.5 per cent of the New England Company's "voting stock," he said.

and summoned neighbors to the detective's aid, but he was dead when a physician reached his side.

Police Captain A. J. Holcombe, who was in charge of headquarters when news of Foster's fatal battle reached the office, personally conducted the investigation. Every detective on duty and four call officers were rushed to the scene to get details of the duel and to begin a search for the three negroes who had accompanied White to the place.

Investigation revealed that a few minutes before going to the place on Boulevard the four negroes had held up and robbed a drug store at Highland avenue and Glen Iris drive, obtaining $50 from J. R. Jackson, the proprietor. Jackson fired three shots from a rifle at the negroes as they fled in their small car and one of the negroes returned the fire with a pistol.

Almost simultaneous with the arrival of the ambulance bearing White at Grady hospital, the young negro's mother, Cora White, and his older brother, Robert, 18, appeared in the emergency room.

Captain Holcombe arrived there a minute or two later. He asked the woman and the boy how they knew Harold had been shot. They said they just "heard" it.

Believing that they knew more of the affair than they were telling, Captain Holcombe ordered them locked up for investigation.

Chief Beavers and Detective Lieutenant T. O. Sturdivant, under whom Foster worked, were notified of the shooting and both came to headquarters to direct and assist in the hunt for the three escaped negroes.

Both Beavers and Sturdivant were moved almost to tears by the death of their comrade and friend, the chief paying a high tribute to Foster's ability and daring.

"He was one of our best officers," Chief Beavers said. "He went out just like a gallant officer. He fell in the line of duty and every citizen of Atlanta owes respect to his memory. It will be a long time before the Atlanta police department has a better officer than 'Red' Foster."

Sturdivant, too, was warm in his praise for Detective Foster.

"I have worked with a large number of policemen," the veteran detective lieutenant said, "but 'Red' Foster ranks with them all. He knew no hours and he knew no danger. Whenever duty called 'Red' was there and he always did his job well."

On numerous occasions when either Beavers or Sturdivant had special assignments to take care of they were turned over to Foster and generally he delivered.

Foster, who had been on the department only six years, quickly established himself. After serving for a time as a beat man and cycle policeman he was put into plain clothes and assigned to the homicide squad. With the departure of the late John Lowe from the detective department two years ago Foster became one of the department's leading homicide investigators.

Foster, with Lieutenant Sturdivant, conducted the investigation two years ago into the death of Professor A. J. Johnson, of Hartwell, who was slain while on a visit to the convention of the National Education Association. He also was responsible for the arrest of Alvin E. Merritt, who was electrocuted for attacking a number of women and girls on the north side of the city, creating a reign of terror which lasted for several months before his capture.

Foster also was responsible for the arrest and conviction of a gang of safe blowers who had been operating in and around Atlanta for several years and was given a citation by Chief Beavers for his work in rounding up a gang of box car thieves two years ago.

Foster joined the department in February, 1926. After serving nearly three years as a motorcycle officer and beat man he was put into plain clothes. Last year he was made a regular member of the detective department.

He was a brother of Councilman Homer C. Foster, of the ninth ward.

Foster made his home at 310 Rocky Ford avenue.

HOOVER DELEGATES' NAMES FILED IN CALIFORNIA

LOS ANGELES, March 16.—(AP)—Petitions carrying signatures of 6,875 Los Angeles county republicans sponsoring candidacies of Hoover-pledged nominees for the California delegation to the republican national convention have been filed with William Kerr, registrar of voters.

republican, all states west of the Mississippi will be found in the Roosevelt democratic column on the second Tuesday in next November if the New York governor is nominated. There should be no doubt of his nomination after capturing the delegates from two such widely sparated states as North Dakota and New Hampshire.

Senator Dill added that he thought he was familiar with political sentiment in the west "as well as any of my conferees in congress."

"I am of the opinion," he continued, "that if Governor Roosevelt opposes President Hoover next November Mr. Hoover will be fortunate if he carries his own state of California and the state of Iowa. Recently I have talked with Governor Roosevelt and with many of his friends in Greater New York, but I have been unable to ascertain just why those opposing him are of that frame of mind. No outward fight has been waged against his candidacy and no prominent democrat has mentioned a candidate who can conceivably draw more support from independents as well as party regulars as he. His nomination now should be a foregone conclusion."

The North Dakota primaries were the first test of Roosevelt strength in the west. It was to the North Dakota state convention that Roosevelt first definitely declared himself a candidate for the presidential nomination, in reply to an invitation to permit his name to be used in the primary.

First in State.

He has had the democratic organization, such as it is in North Dakota, with him, and he was first in the field. Murray, although he entered late, has been in the state actively campaigning and drawing big crowds, while Roosevelt has had to depend upon his supporters entirely in the primary campaign. Senator Wheeler, of Montana, made a couple of speeches in the state for Roosevelt within the last few days.

Now that Roosevelt has turned out to be the winner in the North Dakota primary his chances for the nomination have materially increased, although the delegation from the state is small. It is another demonstration of the fact that Roosevelt is a vote-getter.

Under these circumstances the anti-Roosevelt movement among the democrats has suffered a blow. Murray has been regarded as a potent factor in the anti-Roosevelt lineup. He has been slated to take delegates away from Roosevelt in some of the western states, while Alfred E. Smith and Speaker Garner were turning the same trick in the north and the south. Roosevelt met the first Smith attack in New Hampshire more than a week ago and came through with flying colors. The North Dakota victory gives him a real boost in the race for the presidential nomination.

The next presidential preferential primary will be held in Georgia on March 23, when delegates to the state convention are chosen. Georgia democratic leaders have been strongly for Roosevelt, who has spent much time in the state in his efforts to regain his health following an attack of infantile paralysis. There is not the shadow of doubt that Roosevelt will have the Georgia delegation. However, some admirers of Speaker Garner have sought to get into the fight. The Garner managers, however, have sought to keep the speaker entirely out of that conflict.

Primary in April.

Wisconsin's presidential preferential primary is to take place April 5, and Illinois chooses its district delegates in a primary election April 12. Pennsylvania and Massachusetts both choose their delegates to the national convention in primaries to be held on April 26.

While Roosevelt will have opposition in Wisconsin, it is generally believed that the New York governor will win in that contest. There is a rather strong Roosevelt sentiment in the Badger state, according to members of congress from that state.

The democratic state committee in Illinois months ago declared its preference for Senator James Hamilton Lewis for the presidential nomination. It is expected, however, that the Roosevelt democrats will seek to line up many of Illinois' delegates for their candidate even if the delegates cast early votes for Senator Lewis.

Little will depend upon the outcome of the Roosevelt-Smith fights in Massachusetts and Pennsylvania. Today Smith appears to have a decided edge in Massachusetts and Roosevelt the edge in Pennsylvania. But the Massachusetts delegation will not go to Mr. Smith without a real struggle. Mayor James M. Curley, of Boston, is heading the list of candidates for Roosevelt delegates in Massachuetts, along with Governor Roosevelt's son, James Roosevelt. The complete list of Roosevelt candidates for delegates at large includes other prominent democratic leaders in the state, including Mrs. Nellie W. Sullivan, of Fall River, democratic national committeewoman. But on the Smith slate are Governor Ely, Senators David I. Walsh and Marcus A. Coolidge and the state chairman.

the common school teachers of the state, at an interest rate of 5 1-4 per cent per annum.

"This rate of interest is considerably lower than that being charged at the present time on short-time loans to a large majority of the states of the Union. It is also lower than the rate paid by the state on a $3,500,000 school loan made in 1929.

"As soon as the necessary details of the transaction can be cleared up the money will be forwarded to the proper authorities for payment to the school teachers."

prevent the builder from improving his investment.

Under urging of Samual Seabury, counsel to the committee investigating New York city government, Willard said he had purchased a plot of land in 1923 for $126,000 and applied to the board of standards and appeals for a permit to rezone the property so that he could build a two-story garage.

Flynn blocked his efforts at every step, he said, and explained his opposition by the statement that "whoever gets in will make a fortune." He lost his original investment at first, he added, and then his home was foreclosed as his resources dwindled.

Waiving immunity, the Bronx official said he had opposed Willard's operations before the board of standards and appeals in his capacity as a citizen and a resident of the neighborhood, not as commissioner.

Mr. Seabury brought out in his examination of Flynn that the commissioner later bought from the William Waldorf Astor estate property across the street from the Willard plot and built 91 single-car garages. He showed, too, that Flynn's objections to the Willard project were written on official borough stationery, of which Flynn claimed ignorance.

HUDDLESTON SEES ROOSEVELT SWEEP

First Ballot Nomination Forecast by Meriwether Representative.

Governor Roosevelt's sweep of North Dakota in Tuesday's primary "removed virtually all doubt" as to his nomination on the first ballot at the Chicago convention in June, Gus Huddleston, Meriwether member of the general assembly, said while visiting Roosevelt headquarters in Atlanta Wednesday.

"No one in our county, where the governor is a neighbor, ever doubted his nomination since the demand for him started. We plan to give him every democratic vote in the county in the primary and to let our republican friends also vote for him. Many have asked to participate in the primary."

W. E. Page, Roosevelt's personal representative, said the North Dakota vote was "splendid news," but, "as fine as the result is, it is small compared to the majority he will get in Georgia next Wednesday. He will then have met, successively, former Governor Smith, "Alfalfa Bill" Murray and, by what is now and then termed a proxy, Speaker Garner. We are confident."

Roosevelt representatives in four more Georgia counties Thursday advised Page they had been unable to find the Garner clubs advertised in the Atlanta Georgian, the only daily paper in the state boosting the candidacy of Judge G. H. Howard.

No Garner Clubs Found.

Louis Vickers, at Douglas, wired: "There is no Garner club that I can find."

"No Garner club organized here," wired W. E. Stone, Roosevelt club president in Jeff Davis county. "Don't think they can get a quorum here."

The situation in Randolph, a message from J. S. Sharley, secretary of the Roosevelt club, said: "Roosevelt strong in Randolph county. Have heard nothing of a Garner club here."

"There is no Garner club in Grady county and there has been no talk of one," a telegram Page received from J. Q. Smith, of Cairo, said.

The four counties in which reported Garner clubs could not be discovered followed reports of the non-existence of five others which had been claimed by Howard Atlanta headquarters.

Great Majority Seen.

Houston county, one of the first in which a Roosevelt-for-President club was organized, will give the New York governor "a great majority" in the primary, Robert E. Brown, president of the club, has advised headquarters.

"Mr. Roosevelt is today one of Georgia's biggest assets. He has helped to advertise the state more than any other living man. He has spent thousands of dollars in the state and caused hundreds of others to do likewise and his work along this line of benefit to our people has but just begun.

"It is inconceivazle that our people would withhold their support from a friend so true and at a time when he all but has the presidency of these United States within his grasp. We urge upon all our citizens to go to the polls on primary day, March 23, and give this great and good and deserving man a vote so overwhelmingly large that he might know, without question, we appreciate him and his ability."

E. Walter Tripp, of Atlanta, president of the Roosevelt-for-President Railroad Labor Clubs, announced Wednesday night that new clubs have been formed by his organization in Augusta, Thomasville and Waycross, Ga.; Columbia, S. C., and Asheville, N. C. Other new clubs will be formed throughout the country every day, Tripp stated.

Statement by Page.

In a statement issued Wednesday, Page said:

"Advices received at the Roosevelt headquarters in the Piedmont hotel indicate that polling places will be opened in practically every one of the 159 Georgia counties for the presidential preferential primary on March 23.

"Reports of the organization of 11 additional Roosevelt-for-President Clubs have been received at headquarters since Monday afternoon and the presidents of the clubs throughout the state have indicated their purpose to come to Atlanta for the luncheon meeting on Friday of this week, at 1 p. m., at the Piedmont hotel.

"The clubs throughout the state are planning enthusiastic rallies for Saturday, March 19, which is to be known as "Roosevelt Day" in Georgia. At these rallies arrangements are to be perfected for keeping the polls open in each county on the twenty-third, and getting the voters to come out and cast their ballots."

Contract Awarded.

WASHINGTON, March 16.—(AP)—Algernon Blair, Montgomery, Ala., today was awarded the contract for constructing the new postoffice and courthouse at Montgomery. He bid $736,650 and has 500 calendar days in which to complete the work.

J. C. SHANNON, 78, DIES AT HOSPITAL

Native of Ireland Was One of Developers of Capitol View Section.

J. C. Shannon, retired merchant and one of the developers of the Capitol View section, died Wednesday at the Georgia Baptist hospital. He was 78 years old.

Mr. Shannon was born in Ireland, coming to America when he was 18 years old. He came to Atlanta in 1871 and immediately became identified with the mercantile business. In 1876 he bought a farm in what is now the Capitol View section and with the growth of the city he developed his farm into a residential section.

Mr. Shannon was for 13 years superintendent of the Sunday school of Park Street Methodist church, but a number of years ago he assisted in founding the Capitol View Methodist church, of which he was a prominent member until stricken ill more than a year ago.

Mr. Shannon is survived by his wife, Mrs. Ida Shannon; a son, W. J. Shannon, of Atlanta; and two daughters, Mrs. Lillian Elder of Atlanta, and Mrs. D. A. Creen, of Smyrna.

The funeral will be held at 2:30 o'clock Friday afternoon at the Capitol View Methodist church. Burial will be in West View cemetery.

LAD CLINGS TO LIFE DESPITE OPERATION UNDER HANDICAP

SYRACUSE, N. Y., March 16.—(AP) The "gamest kid in America"—Clarence Hastings, 14, has been so termed—had a new handicap today in his fight for life, a struggle that has kept him in a respirator for nearly half a year.

The respirator yesterday afternoon became an adjunct to an operating table at the city hospital. Suffering infantile paralysis, Clarence was placed in the respirator September 20, last, 176 days ago. A few days ago an abdominal obstruction developed, increasing the odds against him.

Physicians feared that removal from the respirator for an operation might be fatal. But the need was desperate and nurses wheeled the respirator to the operating room. Twice during the operation the boy was replaced in it temporarily. The operation was completed, and considered successful.

FLIPPEN CASE VERDICT IS EXPECTED TODAY

A jury this morning is expected to return a verdict in the case of Mrs. J. C. Flippen, pretty 24-year-old defendant charged with violation of the Georgia prohibition law in connection with the recent seizure in DeKalb county of a 250-gallon still and several thousand gallons of contraband beverages. The jury in Judge John B. Hutcheson's court received the case at 3 o'clock Wednesday afternoon and went to their homes after court adjourned, with instructions to return a verdict this morning.

In her testimony, Mrs. Flippen said she was forced by her husband to remain in the house on Johnson road where the still was located. She identified her husband as O. B. Wright, but said she had met and married him under a different name. The defense described Mrs. Flippen as a "nice, quiet, home-loving woman," while Solicitor-General Claude C. Smith described her as "a gangster's moll."

Sash Cord Replaces Gun in Gangland

NEW YORK, March 16.—(UP) Gangland adopted the sash cord instead of the machine gun today to settle a feud, and police found two bodies on the roof of a dingy tenement in lower Manhattan. They had been strangled.

The victims, identified by fingerprints, were Gerald Vernotico and Anthony Lonza, both with criminal records of robbery, assault and larceny.

A trail of blood led to an unfurnished room below, where the two men evidently had been tortured before death.

Police believe Vernotico and Lonza had attempted to "muscle in" on an alcohol cooking racket.

senior at the Washington Seminary, who is chairman for the seminary in the contest.

Miss Hellmer announced that the prize money would be placed at the disposal of the school's fund for assisting worthy students through Young Harris College. The contest was thus given a new slant of usefulness. More than a score of churches and charities have shared in the prizes.

Second prize, $35, in the contest was won by the West End Baptist church, of which Mrs. J. J. Hemperley is chairman.

The third prize of $23 went to the Western Heights Baptist church, Mrs. F. R. Martin, chairman; and the fourth prize of $12 was won by Calvary Methodist church, Mrs. Augustus Byers, chairman.

CONFEDERATE FLAG OF GEORGIA CADETS PRESENTED STATE

With the son of the color guard who carried it making the presentation and with the two last survivors present to recount some of the battles it survived, the Confederate battle flag of the Georgia cadets Wednesday became the prized possession of the state.

Paul M. Coleman, of Atlanta, whose father, the late George C. Coleman, was cadet color guard during the fighting from the time the outfit was called from Marietta until after the surrender of both Lee and Johnston, made the presentation at exercises in the governor's office. Governor Russell accepted the flag.

"This flag never has surrendered," Frank Lofton, of Franklin, one of the survivors of the cadet unit, said. "The Georgia cadets disbanded at the city hall in Augusta and the color bearer wrapped our flag around his body, under his coat, daring anybody to touch it. It is a possession of which the state of Georgia should be proud.

Colonel H. H. Cabaniss, of Atlanta, the other survivor, briefly reviewed the historic Confederate company.

MILLS ON TRIAL TODAY IN DRY LAW VIOLATION

Marvin F. Mills, who was arrested on December 4 in a raid by federal prohibition agents on the Tenth Street garage, will be tried in federal district court today before Judge E. Marvin Underwood. The indictment, which charges possession and transportation of whisky, was redrawn and presented to the grand jury Wednesday so that a more detailed description of a confiscated automobile and the amount of liquor involved might be set out.

The Mills case received wide notice at the time of the raid, as ledgers containing notations of alleged liquor transactions were seized along with the automobile. Several attempts were made by the defendant's attorney to recover the books as well as the car from the hands of the prohibition agents, but failed.

Loss of Time Caused Witnesses Scored by Dr. Charles Boynton

Dr. Charles E. Boynton, prominent Atlanta physician, in a letter to The Constitution Wednesday attacked what he termed inconsiderate treatment of court witnesses for the state and defense engaged in trials of cases, accusing the lawyers of causing the witnesses considerable loss of time when loss of such time could be avoided.

Dr. Boynton was prompted to discuss the letter after he and between 200 and 300 persons had spent five or six hours at the courthouse Tuesday waiting to be called as witnesses in a case of William E. (Butch) Saunders, former councilman, who is serving time on the chain gang for grafting.

Saunders had been indicted on a charge of false swearing and the witnesses summoned in the case, which was called in the court of Judge John D. Humphries, included the grand jurors who investigated city hall graft and a number of citizens who contributed to a fund which financed the grand jury's inquiry.

Dr. Boynton pointed out that these witnesses wasted between five and six hours of their time without one being called upon to testify, because, after argument, Judge Humphries directed a verdict of acquittal.

The letter follows:

Editor Constitution: I am writing you to see if there isn't some way to give relief to citizens who have merely attempted to do their duty by the city.

"I understand that between 200 and 300 witnesses were subpenaed as witnesses in the case of the State vs. W. E. Saunders. Part of these men had served as grand jurors and the others had contributed toward a fund to investigate the graft and other irregularities which rumor said existed extensively in the city government at that time.

"I, together with a large number of other men, appeared at the courthouse promptly at 9 a. m. After the jury had been selected, all witnesses were requested to leave the courtroom and wait around until called. Then the jury was soon sent from the room and arguments begun. After standing around until 12:15 o'clock a court official told us he had consulted the lawyers on both sides and they had agreed to release us until 2 p. m. This official said he would be responsible up until 2 p. m. but not after. The case was finally settled before 2 p. m. and all witnesses dismissed without any of them being called.

"It seems to me that lawyers in a case of this kind, knowing the routine of the court, could get together in some way and arrange not to waste the time of witnesses when they know that certainly all of them would not be called upon to testify for at least two or three hours after the opening of court.

"As it was, over three hours' time was wasted for 200 or 300 men, making a total of 600 to 900 hours of uncomfortable and wasted time and the men had nothing to do except stand around in the corridors.

"This letter is prompted by a desire to see if something can be done about the above stated facts toward remedying this 'state of affairs.'

"If people who serve on the grand juries and those who feel it their duty to help investigate irregularities in their city government can be subpenaed and treated so inconsiderately it seems to me that instead of an honor, trying to serve our city is in reality an undeserved hardship."

NEGRO CHILD KILLED, TWO HURT BY AUTO

Three young colored school children were run down and one of them killed Wednesday afternoon when an automobile driven by William Sullivan, negro, ran wild and struck the children as they were walking on the sidewalk of Ashby street on their way home from school. Carrie May Scott, 9, of a Newport street residence, was instantly killed; Vivian Scott, 6, her sister, and Frankie Thomas, 6, were seriously injured.

Sullivan was arrested and charged with reckless driving. The accident occurred near Ashby street and Mayson-Turner road.

TEN IN TWO FAMILIES ARE KILLED BY GAS

Eight Others Suffering Effects of Near-Fatal Asphyxiation.

NEWBURGH, N. Y., March 16.—(AP)—A family of six persons were killed by gas as they slept in their home at New Windsor, N. Y., near here, early today.

In another house across the street, a father and his three sons were overcome by the fumes and were reported in serious condition.

The source of the escaping gas was not immediately determined. All mains in New Windsor were shut off when the tragedy became known.

KALAMAZOO, Mich., March 16.—(AP)—With four children dead and four other persons still in serious condition, investigators continued today their efforts to identify the gas which overcame nine members of the Claus K. Laning family in their home yesterday.

Belief was expressed that marsh gas may have seeped into the house through the basement.

STEEL PRICES TO JUMP $2 A TON ON APRIL 1

NEW YORK, March 16.—(AP)—Published reports here say finished steel prices in all districts will be increased $2 a ton on April 1.

Large producers say the general industry is committed to the advancement and that it will include sheets and bars, representing about half the industry's total tonnage of finished products and may include most other finished items.

The Inland Steel Company has taken the lead in the upward revision. It announced yesterday an increase of $2 a ton on steel sheet quotations for the second quarter.

TWO-POINT RECESSION NOTED IN STEEL ORDERS

NEW YORK, March 16.—(AP)—The slowness of Ford and other motor manufacturers to release substantial orders for steel has been a large factor in a two-point recession in the ingot output rate this week, according to Iron Age. Production is at 25 per cent of capacity for the country as a whole.

ARKANSAS RAILROAD WAGE DISPUTE AIRED

SHREVEPORT, La., March 16.—(AP)—Spokesmen for the Louisiana & Arkansas railroad in a wage dispute hearing here today before President Hoover's emergency board claimed decline of revenues as grounds for reduction while the railway workers' representatives took issue on this point and charged that the railroad should not trim the basic wage.

The board is seeking to solve the dispute, under terms of the railway labor act, over a 10 per cent basic wage reduction declared by the railroad on March 1 and affecting shop workers and transportation.

Mediation and arbitration efforts having failed, President Hoover appointed the emergency board with Justice Walter P. Stacey, of North Carolina, as chairman.

Married Women Rank As Superior Teachers

NEW YORK, March 16.—(AP)—Married women are superior to single ones as teachers, the teachers' college of Columbia University has concluded from a survey.

The experience of marriage and motherhood is of paramount value for a teacher with children in her care, investigators working under Dr. Thomas Alexander, director of the new school, experimental unit of the college, and Dr. Agnes Snyder, assistant professor, asserted.

They believe it is a mistake that a young woman should be made to feel she must choose between marriage and teaching.

BULGARIA WILL MEET INTEREST ON LOANS

SOFIA, Bulgaria, March 16.—(AP)—The cabinet decided today, after an all-night session, to meet the interest charges on Bulgaria's pre-war and post-war foreign debts due today.

It was announced that negotiations looking to a reduction of the interest payments and other alleviation will be continued but the plan for a moratorium will be shelved, at least temporarily.

The payments due total $266,000, which is almost one-third of the national bank's supply of foreign currencies.

GRAND JURY HEARS LYNCHING WITNESSES

SALISBURY, Md., March 16.—(AP)—The Wicomico county grand jury today heard 70 more witnesses in its inquiry into the lynching last September 4 of Matthew Williams, after he had killed his employer, Daniel J. Elliott, lumberman. State's Attorney Bailey said he hoped to have the inquiry completed late tomorrow.

The jury is investigating not only the lynching but the murder of Elliott and reports of communistic activity on the eastern shore in which it was alleged "forces were incited to revolt."

ATTORNEYS CHARGE BEATING IN DANVILLE

CHICAGO, March 16.—(AP)—Two Chicago attorneys said today they were kidnaped before the Danville (Ill.) courthouse, confined in a hall used by the American Legion and beaten and ordered out of town after they aided the defense of 12 alleged communists convicted of unlawful assembly.

The attorneys were Albert Goldman, counsel for the communist party of America, and Joseph B. Lofton, representative of the Chicago branch of the Civil Liberties Union. Goldman during the trial yesterday accused the Legion of instigating the arrest of the 12 several days ago after a demonstration and their prosecution.

Plaintiff Sips Whisky While He Testifies

LOS ANGELES, March 16.—(UP)—Chester M. Sutton, geologist, sipped whisky from his pocket flask while he testified in court Tuesday about his suit for divorce from Mrs. Rosa Sutton.

He took a number of swigs from his flask as he declared that Mrs. Sutton was not sincere in her declarations of love for him.

It was explained that he drank for his health; that he was under physician's orders to drink two ounces of whisky daily, and that the judge had given him permission to "take his medicine" while in court.

Pimples on Face. Was Ashamed to Go in Company. Cuticura Healed.

"My face turned red and burned and then broke out in tiny pimples. They were hard and red, and festered and scaled over. The pimples itched and burned and when I scratched them it caused eruptions. I could not sleep on account of the irritation, and my face was so disfigured that I was ashamed to go out in company. The trouble nearly drove me wild.

"I decided to try Cuticura Soap and Ointment and sent for a free sample of each. I purchased more and after using two cakes of Soap and two boxes of Ointment I was healed." (Signed) Miss Blanche Melton, Angelus, S. C.

Soap 25c. Ointment 25 and 50c. Talcum 25c. Sold everywhere. Sample each free. Address: "Cuticura Laboratories, Dept. H, Malden, Mass."

On the Air Today

Some of the best known artists in Ireland will be heard in a special program of national music arranged for St. Patrick's Day by the American School of the Air, which will be broadcast from Dublin, Ireland, through the WABC-Columbia network and WGST from 1:30 to 2 o'clock this afternoon.

Annie Fagin, one of the most noted Irish harpists; Patrick Kirwan, who ranks next to McCormack among the tenors of the Emerald Isle; Seamus MacAonghusa, playing the pipes; Seamus Clandillon, baritone, and the choirs of the Richmond Street schools will be heard during the broadcast.

Morton Downey's tenor voice will be heard in songs of Erin in an all-St. Patrick's Day program to be presented by the Camel Quarter-Hour over the WABC-Columbia network, and WGST tonight at 6:45 o'clock.

Downey will sing "An Irish Lullaby," "When Irish Eyes Are Smiling" and another song of Ireland, while Jacques Renard's orchestra will play a specially-grouped medley of Irish tunes.

This broadcast will originate at Cleveland, Ohio, where the Camel artists are appearing in vaudeville.

Two Atlanta young women, Miss Susie Ella Burnett, of Peachtree road, and Miss Helen Stevens, of 1384 Fairview road, sang this week in the first joint concert ever given by the glee clubs of Sweet Briar College and Washington and Lee University in the Sweet Briar chapel.

Herman Hupfeld, composer-vocalist, will offer "Along the Rocky Road to Dublin," as well as one of his own many compositions, "A Baby Like You," during the Zachry-Hart, Schaffner and Marx Trumpeters program over the WABC-Columbia network and WGST from 9 to 9:30 o'clock tonight. Edwin C. Hill, "The Man in the Front Row," will give another of his newsy and interesting chats based on experiences of his journalistic career, and the Trumpeters' orchestra will play "You've Got What Gets Me," "There's Something in Your Eyes," "My Song," from the "Scandals," and Jerome Kern's "Babes in the Wood" from "Very Good, Eddie."

The "Tuneful Twosome," mystery misses of the air waves will sing a program over station WGST tonight at 8:15 o'clock, offering "Keeping Out of Mischief," "Shine on Harvest Moon," and "Little Things in Life." As a concluding number they will sing "I Thank You Mr. Moon."

The music department of Erskine College will broadcast a program from WSB tonight at 6:45 o'clock.

5 ARE CONVICTED IN KIDNAP TRIAL

Wide Search for Lindbergh Baby Continues To Be Fruitless.

By the United Press.

While the world awaited developments in the two-week-old kidnaping of little Charles Augustus Lindbergh Jr., public demand for severe penalties in abduction cases resulted Wednesday in the sentencing of five kidnapers, in widely separated cities of the United States, to the longest prison terms that the law would allow.

Dowell Hargraves, one of the kidnapers of James Dejute, 12-year-old Niles (Ohio) school boy, was sentenced to life imprisonment.

Samuel Leffer, convicted in New York of kidnaping of a Brooklyn butcher, was sentenced to 50 years.

Ralph Sheldon, Louis Frank and Jesse Orsatti, who kidnaped an Agua Caliente race track official, were sentenced in Los Angeles to from 10 years to life, with the maximum term recommended.

"Kidnaping is the worst of all crimes. It is becoming too common. An example must be made to discourage such things," Judge [illegible]n B. Griffith, in court at Warren, Ohio, said in sentencing Hargraves to life imprisonment.

Hargraves, whose attorneys had pointed out that his victim was unharmed and eventually restored to his parents, and who had waived a jury trial, smiled when the verdict was handed down, and declined to reveal the names of "higher-ups" suspected of having instigated the crime.

Judge Charles C. Nott Jr., New York, fixed Samuel Leffer's penalty at 50 years' imprisonment in Sing Sing, for participating in the "snatching" of Sidney Mann, from whom he and two other men extorted $60 after holding him prisoner several days. Leon Golden and Max Lipsky, Leffer's co-conspirators, already had been sentenced to life imprisonment and 20 years, respectively.

Judge Charles S. Hurnell, in Los Angeles, recommended that Sheldon, Frank and Orsatti serve the maximum of their 10-years-to-life sentence. They were convicted of kidnaping "Zeke" Caress and his wife and holding them for ransom. Caress was an official at the Agua Caliente race track.

Another kidnaping was reported at Huntington Beach, Cal., when a young man wrested Orpha De Busk, 18-year-old beauty, from her escort and held her prisoner several hours.

Miss De Busk was driving with Clarence Double, 21, when the kidnaper stopped the car robbed Double and forced the girl to accompany him in a stolen automobile. She was freed, unharmed, in the Baldwin hills, north of Los Angeles, and told to "go on home." The kidnaper, she said, gave her $4 for car fare.

From her description of the kidnaper, police believe he is the same man who on the previous night held up five garages.

SEARCH IS WIDENED FOR LINDBERGH BABY

BY HOBERT J. CAVAGNARO.

HOPEWELL, N. J., March 16.—(AP)—From the shores of France, where a ship was searched, to a snowbound village in the Adirondacks, where a suitcase of baby's clothing was found, the weary hunt for the kidnaped Lindbergh heir was being pressed tonight, but it still was a futile one.

The fifteenth day since the abduction drew to an end with police tracking down vaguer clues than ever before — strange anonymous letters, stories of old kidnapings and wild rumors that would not remain silent.

But still no sign came from authorities of from the hilltop home of the famous flier that would indicate hope had been abandoned.

The most tangible lead was based on the story of Mr. and Mrs. Leandro Lightfoot, of Franklin Park, N. J., who told how their two German servants, a butler and a maid, took a long ride the night of the kidnaping and gave up their jobs the next day.

Story Investigated.

"Our investigators are checking the story," state police officials said. "But they have not reported results as yet to this office. There is a great deal of investigating to be done and we do not anticipate any report for a day or so."

The Lightfoots said they reported their suspicions to police the day after the kidnaping.

They said the butler and maid asked for the use of the family car, a green sedan, about 7:30 p. m. on March 1, the night of the kidnaping, and came back about 9:30 p. m. after having driven 60 miles, which is approximately the distance to the Lindbergh home and back.

Before the couple left, the Lightfoots said, they borrowed a flashlight.

The next day the Lightfoots went to New York. When they returned, they said, the butler asked if he could see the New York newspapers, a request he had never made before.

Half an hour later, Mrs. Lightfoot said, he told her he had received word his mother was dying in Germany and that he and his wife would have to leave at once.

Chisel, Crating Missing.

After they had left it was discovered that a chisel and some crating had disappeared from the estate. Later police reported a chisel had been found under the window of the Lindbergh baby's nursery.

The Lightfoots also said they discovered an army blanket in the garage rolled in a bundle and covered with mud.

The following Monday Mrs. Lightfoot received a telephone call from a man who said he was the butler, but whose accent, she explained, did not sound like the butler's. The man said he had received later word about his mother and asked if he could have his job back. He was informed the place had been filled.

The Lightfoots also recalled that while working for them the butler had built an extension ladder. The missing wood was North Carolina white pine, the same material of which the kidnapers' ladder was built.

The strange name, "Pete the Barber," cropped up again when state police received an anonymous message that a man known by that appelation was on his way to Albany, N. Y., with the Lindbergh boy. The information was forwarded to New York state police, who reported back the man had not entered Albany and that no one by that name was known there.

Early in the hunt, police surrounded a house in Albany on a tip the baby was held there by "Pete the Barber."

A New York police officer found the following note in the vestibule of an uptown house:

"Sorry, Mr. Lindbergh, your child is out of the city. We won't be able to deliver the child until tomorrow nite at 11 p. m."

Several house numbers followed and on the reverse side were the words:

"We want the money if it's O. K. to you."

An investigation at the addresses given was begun.

Another anonymous communication said a baby answering to the description of the Lindbergh child "might be located in Atlantic City." State police were working on that tip.

A home in Syracuse, N. Y., was searched without result on the strength of another unsigned note.

Two troopers were ploughing their way through 12-foot snowdrifts to investigate the reported discovery of a suitcase full of child's clothing beside a road at Duane, N. Y.

At Bristol, Pa., a man who police said had admitted writing two threatening letters to Colonel Lindbergh demanding $50,000 was held without bail.

A futile search of ocean liners continued, the Roma being the latest ship boarded by police as it touched a French port.

Baby Held in Iowa.

Authorities in Creston, Iowa, tonight wired to New Jersey a description of a baby said to resemble Charles A. Lindbergh Jr., found late today at a local hotel with a woman who gave her name as Mrs. Florence Bayn, of Arizona.

Police said the child, about 20 months old, answered closely the description of the Lindbergh heir and bore a birthmark, the nature of which was not disclosed.

Mrs. Bayn said she came here from Waterloo, Iowa, where she had been visiting an uncle and was working her way back to Arizona. She said the child was born January 31, 1931, presumably in Arizona, following her second husband's desertion.

She was held under technical arrest in her hotel room while police awaited an answer to their query to New Jersey authorities.

Mysterious telephone calls from Dallas, Texas, to Hopewell, N. J., in which a promise to return the kidnaped baby of Colonel Charles A. Lindbergh on payment of ransom was made, were investigated by police here tonight.

Officers said a call was placed from an isolated pay station several days ago, but a member of Colonel Lindbergh's household refused to accept it. The next night another call was placed from the same telephone, but charges were paid.

Each time the person making the call asked to talk to the colonel, but was told he must talk to the household spokesman. After some reluctance he finally stated his purpose.

He said that if Colonel Lindbergh would fly over a Dallas cemetery and drop a package containing $50,000 the baby would be returned safely to the Lindbergh home before Colonel Lindbergh could fly from Dallas to Hopewell.

Police believed the man was a crank.

LIFE TERM IS IMPOSED ON DEJUTE KIDNAPER

WARREN, Ohio, March 16.—(AP)—The maximum penalty of life imprisonment was meted out today to the first of two men tried for the kidnaping just two weeks ago of 11-year-old James DeJute Jr., son of a wealthy Niles contractor.

Branding kidnaping as "one of the most cruel and heartless crimes, Common Pleas Judge Lynn B. Griffith held Dowell Hargraves, 31, of Youngstown, guilty of participation in the abduction and declined to recommend mercy. Such a recommendation would have reduced the sentence to 10 to 30 years.

Next week John Demarko, also of Youngstown, is to be tried on the same charge as Hargraves—kidnaping with intent to extort.

TWO GET LIFE TERMS IN WEST COAST KIDNAPING

LOS ANGELES, March 16.—(AP)—With a recommendation that the state prison board fix the terms at "nothing less than life imprisonment," Ralph Sheldon, former Chicago gangster, Louis Frank and Jesse Orsatti, convicted of kidnaping, were sentenced today to the penitentiary by Superior Judge Charles Burnell.

Judge Burnell, in pronouncing sentences of 10 years to life on each prisoner for the abduction in December, 1930, of E. L. "Zeke" Caress, Tijuana betting commissioner, and his wife, denied motions for a new trial.

ILLINOIS PHYSICIAN IS BELIEVED KIDNAPED

PEORIA, Ill., March 16.—(AP)—Peoria authorities said today a fruitless search of more than 24 hours for the missing Dr. James W. Parker, 65-year-old physician, has convinced them he has been kidnaped. They awaited ransom demands, they said.

Dr. Parker's disappearance was noticed yesterday when his automobile was found abandoned at the city limits.

Dr. Parker was head of the Illinois Tax Securities Corporation and although once reputedly wealthy, was reported to have lost a large sum in the corporation.

SECOND MAN SENTENCED IN GOTHAM KIDNAPING

NEW YORK March 16.—(AP)—Samuel Lesser was sentenced today to 50 years in prison for kidnaping Sidney Mann, a meat market owner, last October.

Leon Golden, one of two men convicted with Lesser, had been previously sentenced to life as a fourth offender. Max Lipskey, the third defendant, was given 20 years.

PENNSYLVANIAN HELD WHEN EXTORTION FAILS

BRISTOL, Penna., March 16.—(AP) Charged with attempting to extort $50,000 from Colonel Charles A. Lindbergh, Oscar Seachrist, 38, was committed to the Bucks county jail without bail.

State police said Seachrist admitted writing two letters to Colonel Lindbergh, declaring he would deliver the aviator's kidnaped son if $50,000 ransom was left at a designated spot. Police said the letters threatened Colonel Lindbergh if he failed to comply. Seachrist, who is employed at a mission at Croydon, was arrested Monday.

Culbertsons Receive Kidnaping Threats

NEW YORK, March 16.—(AP)—The New York American says the two small children of Mr. and Mrs. Ely Culbertson, bridge experts, have been threatened with kidnaping and that the parents have surrounded them with unusual precautions.

Warning letters have been received over a period of two months, the paper said, and Culbertson cut short a hospital treatment in order to guard Fifi, 3, and Bruce, 2. He was said to have provided their nurse with a police whistle and to have moved into a room adjoining that of the children.

EXPERT EXPLAINS ST. PATRICK'S DEED

far east and from the Mediterranean countries.

"We know the snake god was worshiped among the Gaels in Scotland, who were the same peopple as those in Ireland. So there may be something in that snake legend of St. Patrick. What he did was to drive the snake worship out of Ireland and establish Christianity. That is my belief, and I think it explains this snake legend.

"But there is vastly more to St. Patrick than the snake legend. He must have been a wonderful man to make the impression he did in his own time, not only in Ireland, but in France and Rome, and in England.

"What interests me greatly in St. Patrick is what happened after his death. Up to that time Ireland had not been in any way a cultural influence. Then suddenly it becomes a great influence on the scholarship of western Europe.

"It seems as if St. Patrick had vitalized a culture in Ireland, already existent, which needed the genius of such a man to bring it to function.

"I feel that he must have organized an educational system in Ireland of which we now know nothing—that he must have organized several educational centers in Ireland from which scholarly influence radiated for the next 100 years of more.

"On this 1500th anniversary of St. Patrick I think it would be well to consider anew his accomplishments, and give some thought to the debt the world owes him, aside from his religious mission in Ireland. Of course, it was his passionate love of Christianity that made him the great missionary—the great preacher—but he should not lose sight of the other attributes of the man; his organizing power, his foresight in establishing educational centers and the fine sense of understanding of the Irish people as a whole which he displayed."

DR. CHARLES G. ABBOTT UNDERGOES OPERATION

CHARLOTTE, N. C., March 16.—(AP)—Dr. Charles G. Abbott, noted in the scientific world for his discoveries regarding the solar system and secretary of the Smithsonian Institution at Washington, was reported recovering in a hospital here today from an operation performed yesterday.

Ballot Box Auction Threatened by Auditor

MEMPHIS, Tenn., March 16.—(AP)—Public auction of eight Arkansas ballot boxes containing approximately 2,000 votes was threatened here today by Edgar Cheatham, a Memphis auditor.

The boxes, now held in a Memphis bank, were attached here yesterday by Cheatham, who says he has a $350 claim against Crittenden county for auditing work.

LOBBYING CHARGE MADE BY WILBUR AGAINST BARRETT

Barrett, whose home is in Union City, Ga., said he had headed the farm organization for about 25 years. Upon being shown Wilbur's letter, he declined to comment, asserting he probably would answer tomorrow.

In his article, Barrett said "a distinct service to the country will be rendered by abolishing this department," adding:

"Frankly, I shudder to think of the iniquities growing out of the interior department."

GRADY HIGHWAY BODY TO MEET IN COLUMBUS

CUTHBERT, Ga., March 16.—(AP) Columbus was elected for headquarters of the Henry Grady Highway Association at a meeting here today. It also was decided to hold the national meeting of the organization in Columbus in May.

Columbus Roberts, of Columbus, president of the association, will fix the date for the national meeting. A sectional meeting will be held in Franklin, Ga., in April.

A resolution was passed urging the counties and the state highway board to complete the Georgia section of the highway this spring and summer.

FIDDLERS OF GEORGIA HEADED FOR ATLANTA

The wool-hat boys from the mountains and valleys of Georgia and adjacent states are headed for Atlanta and the city auditorium. All of the old champion fiddlers who have in previous years competed for honors at the interstate fiddlers' convention are registered for the contests which will be held Friday and Saturday of this week.

Lew Manning will be heard at Saturday's matinee and night performances. He is known as the premier Irish fiddler, and will feature famous Irish melodies in his playing. Another special attraction is in the person of Daisy Ray, a niece of Mr. Manning, and a native of Fanning county.

The convention will open at 8 o'clock Friday night with a special song recital. A barn dance and old-fashioned breakdown will conclude the performance Saturday night.

JAPAN APPROVES PEACE PRINCIPLE

Japanese-Chinese Officials Will Discuss Details of Plan Again.

6,080 ESTIMATED KILLED IN WARFARE

SHANGHAI, March 16.—(UP) Municipal authorities here have estimated 6,080 persons were killed in the recent warfare between Chinese and Japanese.

The authorities placed the number of wounded at 2,000; the missing at 10,040 and property damage at $350,000,000. It was estimated that 160,000 families were affected.

TOKYO, March 16.—(AP)—A tentative agreement for peace at Shanghai, reached Monday at a conference between representatives of the two nations in the presence of envoys of the United States, Great Britain, France and Italy, was approved by the Japanese government today "in principle."

The government instructed Mamoru Shigemitsu, Japanese minister to China and its representative in the parleys, to confer again with Chinese spokesmen on the details of the plan, which was taken to be an agreement concerning withdrawal of troops from the Shanghai zone.

China's representative in the conferences was Kuo Tai-Chi, nationalist commissioner at Shanghai. The parleys were held at the British consulate.

Nelson T. Johnson, United States minister to China, sat in on the conferences.

BATTLE OF SHANGHAI SEEN IN SHAM ACTION

SHANGHAI, March 16.—(AP)—Japan's victorious army fought part of the battle of Shanghai all over again today, but this time it was a sham action.

The troops that drove the Chinese out of Miaochungchen with artillery shells, airplane bombs and rifle bullets routed an imaginary enemy for the benefit of Japanese military authorities and a few foreign observers.

Four thousand men of the Japanese 24th mixed brigade took part in another sham battle inland from Shanghai which commemorated the bravery of three engineers during the real fight a few weeks ago.

Impressive Performance Given By Fort Benning Dramatic Club

With the talent afforded by the Infantry School Dramatic Club of Fort Benning, theater-goers of Columbus should find no scarcity of entertainment, if the ability displayed in "This Thing Called Love" at the Atlanta Woman's Club Wednesday night may be accepted as a criterion. Edwin Burke's romantic comedy of that title, directed by Mrs. E. D. Patrick and Lieutenant R. V. Murphy, was one of the most agreeably received performances staged at the club this season.

Although an amateur organization, the Fort Benning players were impressive throughout the play by virtue of an almost total absence of exaggerated theatrics. Character and physiognomy were adeptly employed to lend to the cast a verisimilitude rarely met with in non-professional dramatic groupings, and the entire performance was enhanced by a smoothness of portrayal in itself a novelty.

Reviewing the presentation, it is difficult to indulge in a partiality, which is a critic's prerogative; yet while emphasizing that the entire 10 characters were admirably executed, it would not suffice to let it go at that. To Mrs. F. W. Sladen, as "Ann Marvin," must go the bouquet of the evening. From the middle of the first act the performance found its rapidly revolving developments—from the play itself—and its sustaining interest around the personal charm and stage ability of "Ann Marvin." Gifted with unusual theatrical talent, Mrs. Sladen was the outstanding feminine personality of the play. This in no wise should be construed, however, as a reflection on the portrayal of their respective roles by Mrs. J. A. Andrews, Mrs. J. B. Lindsey or Mrs. E. L. Brine.

Lieutenant R. L. Baughman, as the impetuous, scatter-brained philanderer, was as near perfect in that character as possible, while Major E. D. Patrick, as "Tice Collins," Lieutenant J. E. Raymond, Captain W. S. Paul and Lieutenant J. L. Whitlaw executed their roles superbly. Even in the minor character of butler, and in that of maid, Captain Paul and Mrs. J. E. Bowen did much to strengthen the play. It was a good show and Atlanta should be ready to welcome the Fort Benning players back again real soon—and with a better house.

UNION OF LIBERALS URGED BY GEORGE

69-Year-Old Party Leader Renews Attack on MacDonald Government.

BY FRANK H. KING.

LONDON, March 16.—(AP)—David Lloyd George re-entered the political arena today with a challenge to progressive men of all parties to rally round him and save Great Britain from what he declared would be four years of reactionary rule by the "sham" national government.

The 69-year-old liberal leader, who has been recuperating from an operation, signalled his return to activity by a slashing attack against the MacDonald government in a speech before the Junior Liberal Club.

"The national government is a sham—a naked sham—or, if not a naked sham, it wears but the meanest of loincloths," he declared.

The crowd jamming the Junior Liberal Club cheered lustily and there were cries of "Lead us! Lead us!"

Mr. Lloyd George taunted and flayed his party colleagues—Sir Herbert Samuel, Sir John Simon, Walter Runciman and Sir Donald Maclean, all cabinet members, on the score that they had betrayed the principles of free trade, electoral reform and national reconstruction up on which the liberal party platform was based when he was stricken with illness last summer.

He made it clear that he intends to exert the utmost pressure on the MacDonald government instead of allowing it to have a free legislative hand such as it has enjoyed.

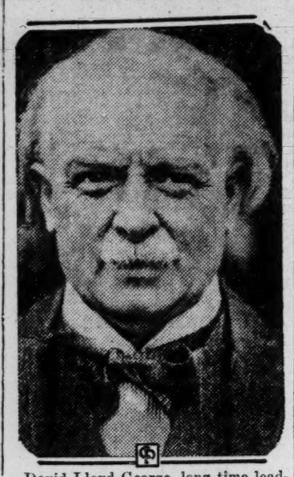

Epigrams and telling phrases came from his lips today as of old. Sir John Simon, he said, still was on the fence as he always had been, and the "feebleness and poltroonery of the last weeks on the vital question of the far east has done more than anything else to damage the prestige of the League of Nations." He blamed Sir John because he is the foreign secretary.

Concerning Prime Minister Ramsay MacDonald, Mr. Lloyd George said that "no man can do nothing better and do it with a flourish."

And this was his comment on Stanley Baldwin, conservative leader and lord president of the council:

"Mr. Baldwin, whom I admire, is not a man of volcanic energy. The only thing he has in common with a volcano is that they both smoke incessantly."

Returns to Wars

David Lloyd George, long time leader of the British liberal party, Wednesday sounded a call for progressives of all parties in England to join him in fighting the present coalition government.

ROOSEVELT BACKERS OPEN BAY STATE DRIVE

BOSTON, March 16.—(AP)—Boston's militant mayor, James M. Curley, started a drive tonight for a Roosevelt delegation from Massachusetts "notwithstanding the formidable array of political generals upon the ticket pledged to Alfred E. Smith."

In launching a campaign for the Massachusetts democratic delegation to be chosen in the April 26 primary, Mayor Curley, in an address, criticized Governor Joseph B. Ely and supporters of Smith.

Backed by the formal consent of Smith himself, his supporters have completed a full slate of candidates for delegates and alternates. Heading the list of delegates-at-large are the two United States senators, David I. Walsh and Marcus A. Coolidge, and the governor, Joseph B. Ely.

Curley, in his talk tonight, criticized Governor Ely and the supporters of Smith and added:

"It is admitted by even the dearest friends of Alfred E. Smith that the nominee of a deadlock convention means four years more of feeble and futile leadership in Washington and continued unemployment and depression.

"Were I actuated by the motives that invariably actuate so-called politicians, I would have unquestionably attempted what to the average individual actuated solely by political expediency would appear to be both wise and logical, namely to join forces with the wreckers of the democratic party in the movement to deadlock the convention and prevent the nomination of Roosevelt."

Curley outlined the makeup of the Roosevelt-pledged ticket of delegates-at-large headed by his own name, followed by that of James A. Roosevelt, the governor's son, and asked for support for the slate.

Although the Roosevelt leaders claim they have received the governor's consent to the use of his name, as required by the state law, it has not been filed or made public yet. The candidates have until 5 p. m. March 22 to file their petitions for the primary next month. Thus far neither the Smith nor Roosevelt tickets has been formally entered.

Eleven of the first 13 counties reporting either indorsed the Hoover administration or instructed their delegates to the state convention next month to support the president's cause.

KENTUCKY SENATORS INACTIVE ON TAX BILL

FRANKFORT, Ky., March 16.—(AP)—The eve of adjournment of the Kentucky legislature tonight found the state without a budget-balancing program as the senate remained inactive on the proposed 1 per cent sales tax.

The measure is in the hands of the senate rules committee, and, although its supporters claim enough votes to pass the bill, they admit they do not have the majority necessary to take it from the committee for consideration on the floor.

The sales tax bill was passed by the house, but met with a storm of opposition from merchants throughout the state. The senate rules committee has since held the bill.

The body will be sent to Booneville, N. Y., tomorrow for burial, following funeral services here.

RUN-OVERS NEEDED IN DOUGLAS COUNTY

DOUGLASVILLE, Ga., March 16. The largest vote ever polled in Douglas county was cast in Wednesday's primary, in which several runover races will be necessary, it was decided tonight. Mack Abercrombie defeated Sheriff A. S. Baggett for that office: T. L. Pittman was winner over his two opponents for ordinary, as was J. W. Baggett for tax collector, while a runover will be necessary to decide the race between W. H. Brown and J. W. James for tax receiver.

W. R. Thomas was nominated school superintendent, defeating the incumbent, J. W. Shadix. In the first district a runover will be necessary for commissioner. M. J. Morris and T. L. Verner, the incumbent, being the outstanding candidates. H. M. Barrow, unopposed, remains second district commissioner, while S. H. Crooker defeated J. H. Bomar in the third district. John Hudson, the incumbent treasurer, defeated G. M. Baldwin.

REICHSBANK REPORT SHOWS GERMAN CRISIS

BY LOUIS P. LOCHNER.

BERLIN, March 16.—(AP)—The annual report of the Reichsbank for 1931, issued today, reflects in figures the seriousness of last year's economic crisis as well as the efforts of Germany's leading bank to maintain the stability of the reischsmark.

The turnover of the bank declined about 60,000,000,000 marks, as compared with 1930, to 803,736,000,000. The bank purchased 256,000,000 marks in gold from foreign countries. At the same time it lost 1,508,000,000 marks in its efforts to regulate the stability of the mark.

Porter Agrees With Key On 1 Question—Recalls

LOS ANGELES, March 16.—(AP) Mayor John C. Porter, of Los Angeles, who took sharp issue with Mayor James L. Key, of Atlanta, on the matter of drinking a champaign toast in France, today was pleased that the southern city executive had won a recall election.

Mayor Porter is himself facing a recall election May 2, the action arising partially from his frequently voiced opposition to intoxicating liquor.

"Although Mayor Key and myself disagreed on numerous ideas, principally prohibition, we certainly agree on one thing, and that is that we are both against recall elections," the Los Angeles mayor said.

Japanese in Shanghai To Stay, Capt. Phillips Tells Officers

"Japan is in Shanghai to stay, though war with one nation or a group of nations be the result," were the words of Captain Walter C. Phillips, instructor of military history at the infantry school at Fort Benning, in an address before Atlanta reserve officers Wednesday night at the auditorium of the Georgia Tech Y. M. C. A.

Captain Phillips has had unusual opportunity to become conversant with far eastern affairs, having been attached to the general staff in Washington, D. C., where he was on duty in the far eastern section of the military intelligence division for more than three years. Later he served for three and a half years as intelligence officer for Major General William D. Connor, in China.

To the oriental mind time means nothing, Captain Phillips asserted, and went on to trace the psychology of the Chinese activity of Japan, which waited, he said, until the opportunity to gain its object appeared ripe.

Japan does not need Manchuria for commercial reasons but rather as protection against invasion by soviet Russia and China, the speaker went on to say. However, Captain Phillips said, Japan does not fear Russia at present but feels that the great country of the soviets at some time in the future will be in a position to cause trouble.

Explaining China's brilliant stand against overwhelming odds in the recent fracas, Captain Phillips said that China was represented by the 19th route army of the provinces which, he said, was supported by wealthy Chinese bankers and commercial interests. China as a nation has no army of any consequence and the Japanese are fully aware of the fact, he pointed out.

"The red army of Russia, according to reports, at present has 40,000 troops equally divided between Manchuli and Vladivostock, to protect their holdings in the orient," Captain Phillips said. "The struggling nation would not be willing to move further reinforcements over the single-tracked Trans-Siberian railway, fearing collapse of government at home by such action.

"From 1922, when the arms conference held in Washington went into effect, until 1931, the Japanese have been protecting their interests in the Manchurian section by hiring Chinese troops commanded by Chinese generals to enforce their rights. Now, with the present Chinese preventing such tactics, Japan has reverted and will revert to their own army to gain their end."

FUGITIVE BANK HEAD REPORTED IN ARKANSAS

LITTLE ROCK, Ark., March 16.—(AP)—A special dispatch to the Arkansas Democrat from its correspondent at St. Joe, Ark., says A. T. Hudspeth, fugitive head of a collapsed chain of banks in northwest Arkansas, is hiding in the hills near there and is seriously ill.

The story says Hudspeth is being cared for by friends, awaiting an opportune time to return to Harrison and surrender on indictments on file there in connection with the failure of his banking chain.

FUNERAL SERVICES FOR EASTMAN TODAY

ROCHESTER, N. Y., March 16.—(AP)—Veteran employes of George Eastman filed past his rose-flanked bier at the Eastman mansion here today while the world joined them in tribute to the renowned philanthropist.

The privilege of viewing the body today was reserved for men with 30 years or more of service in the Eastman Kodak Company, the $200,000,000 corporation Eastman organized after beginning his business career as an office boy at $3 a week.

Eastman died by his own hand Monday after giving away five-sixths of what would have been his $120,000,000 fortune.

The body will lie in state until 3:30 o'clock tomorrow afternoon, when it will be taken to St. Paul's Episcopal church for a public funeral service. Eastman was an irregular attendant there.

Charles G. Dawes, former vice president of the United States, and ambassador to the Court of St. James, was announced today as one of the honorary pallbearers tomorrow. Others will include General John J. Pershing, commander of the American expeditionary force in the World War; Lord Riddell, president of the Royal Free hospital and the Eastman dental clinic in London; Dr. Carl W. Ackerman, Eastman's biographer and dean of the Pulitzer School of Journalism at Columbia University; Frank E. Gannett, publisher of the Gannett newspapers; Sir Edward Levy, of the Royal Free hospital, London, and Charles and Theodore Edison, sons of Eastman's friend and co-worker, the late Thomas Alva Edison.

Attractive Sub-Debs To Sponsor Fashion Show at Georgia Tech

A group of charming sub-debs will act as sponsors for the fashion show to be staged at the Georgia Tech Y. M. C. A. Friday evening, March 18, at 7:30 o'clock by members of the Pi Delta Epsilon honorary journalistic fraternity. This fashion display is an annual event in which local merchants will co-operate, displaying the costumes to be worn by the well-dressed college man this spring. The show is under the direction of John Ingle, president of the fraternity, and Bill Horne, vice president.

Officers of five clubs of the younger contingent will be the attractive sponsors, who will assist the members in entertaining the spectators. These sponsors include Miss Mary Cobb Hunnicutt, president of the Pirate Club; the officers of the Phi Pi Club, Misses Louisa Robert, Anne Alston, Frances Weinman and Joyce Smith; Pi Pi Club officers, Misses Helen Parker, Maude Thompson, Leone Brooks and Marian Clarke; O. B. X. Club officers, Misses Laura Troutman, Kathryn Jetton, Mary Dean and Virginia Simms, and Sigma Delta Club officers, Misses Alice Davis, Margaret Huffman, Lawson McAfee and Aline Timmons.

A "proper dressing" contest will be conducted, in which prizes will be awarded to the persons finding the glaring errors purposely made in one ensemble in each display and who most nearly estimates the total values of all the displays. The first prize will be a suit of clothes, the second will be a senior class ring, and several other prizes will be awarded. Refreshments will be furnished by local firms and an entertainment will be given by members of the Fanchon & Marco cast playing at the Fox theater this week.

The chaperons will include Dr. and Mrs. M. L. Brittain, Dean and Mrs. Vernon Skiles, George M. Sparks, a former national president of the Pi Delta Epsilon, and Mrs. Sparks, Mr. and Mrs. Philip Naramore and Mrs. Charles Northern. Tech students and members of the younger contingent are cordially invited.

Will Reside in Atlanta

Mrs. Ralph Wingo, of this city, who was before he recent marriage Miss Thena Alexander, of Palmetto and LaGrange, the attractive daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Alexander, of Palmetto.

Mrs. DeGive Presents Study Course Programs

Mrs. Julius DeGive presented the sixth of the study course programs before the Atlanta Music Club in the Woman's Club auditorium Wednesday morning, giving a program on the lives and works of Ethelbert Nevin and Edward MacDowell, foremost among America's composers, introducing a representative group of Atlanta musicians in an ensemble program. This program, from every angle, interesting and artistic, proved to be one of the highlights of the current season's study course programs. Mrs. Walter H. Bedard is president of the club, and Mrs. Grace Lee Townsend, general chairman of the study course.

Mrs. DeGive prepared informative synopses of the lives of MacDowell and Nevin, which were read by Mrs. Thad Morrison. Nevin was characterized as "a miniaturist of mood and fancy," and MacDowell as "a listener to the winds—a poet of nature with a musical speech definitely his own."

Mrs. Lillian Rogers Gilbreath played the first movement—Langhetto Calmato—of MacDowell's "Concerto in D Minor," playing with brilliance and temperament and authority. Mrs. Gilbreath's playing possesses a certain musical enthusiasm that is delightful and contagious. Mrs. Thad Morrison gave a lovely background with orchestral effects at the second piano, playing the accompaniment from memory.

A group of singers chosen from the Atlanta philharmonic chorus to present the vocal group under the capable direction of Lawrence G. Nilson, included Misses Katherine Boyer, Helen Riley; Mesdames Grace Lee Townsend, Charles Chalmers, Mabel Daniel, David Rouse; Messrs. Lucas, Allen, Gloer and Kee. Their first contribution was a lovely eight part chorus, "Barcarolle," by MacDowell, with an unusual accompaniment, a piano duet played by Mrs. De Give and Mrs. Morrison. The second number, MacDowell's "Pilgrim's Hymn," contrasted well with Nevin's "Rosary." In all the choruses the preeminent features were fine attacks and artistic phrasing with well blending parts throughout.

Two greatly loved numbers of Nevin's, "Venetian Love Song" and "Mighty Lak' a Rose," were played by the Atlanta Philharmonic string quartet, whose personnel is Miss Ruth Dabney Smith, first violinist; Miss Rose Thompson, second violin; Miss Senta Mueller, viola, and Tom Hutcheson, 'cello. Their renditions depicted fine ensemble with lovely tone quality, bespeaking the forward strides that this group of young players are making.

Mrs. Bedard, president, made two important announcements which should be remembered: First, the membership drive will be held the week of April 4-9; second, an important meeting of all present members of the club will be held at the Woman's Club Thursday morning, March 31, at 11 o'clock, at which time all members will report renewals and new memberships obtained to that date.

MOZELLE HORTON.

Skalmer—Tyler.

Of interest to a wide circle of friends in several states is the recent wedding of Miss Helen Irene Skalmer, of Jersey City, N. J., and Earle Lamar Tyler, of New York, formerly of Broxton, Ga., the wedding having taken place at West End Episcopal church in New York city at high noon, March 5, with Rev. George A. Trowbridge officiating.

The bride, an attractive blond, is the daughter of J. A. Skalmer, of Jersey City, and the sister of Mrs. Harold Luedeke, of New York. Because of her lovable personality she has many friends there and at West End, being a member of the younger popular social set while in New Jersey.

Mr. Tyler, a graduate of Clemson College, is the only son of Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Tyler, of Broxton, and a grandson of the late Dr. B. G. Poer. He is prominently connected with the Shephard's of Liberty county, being a nephew of B. M. Poer, of Arlington, and Mrs. R. O. Moss, of West Point; and a brother of Misses Leman and Helen Tyler, of Broxton. He holds a position with the National Broadcasting station WJZ.

Three-Act Comedy.

Georgia Avenue P.-T. A. will present "Courting," a three-act musical comedy, Friday and Saturday evenings, March 18 and 19, at 8 o'clock at the Georgia Avenue school auditorium. The proceeds will be used for food and clothing for the students whose parents are in needy circumstances. Miss Edith Woolsey is directing the play and Mrs. T. A. Wallace is the accompanist.

There are 100 children taking part in the prologue. Twenty-four beautiful chorus girls will be featured.

Mr. and Mrs. Knox Are Supper Hosts.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Knox entertained at a buffet supper at their home on Greenwood avenue last evening honoring Miss Georgia Knox and J. T. Cobb, whose marriage will be an event of March 23.

The guests will include Miss Eleanor Williams, Miss Georgia Knox, Mrs. Charles Knox Jr., J. T. Cobb, Dan Knox and Ernest Littleton.

Stock-Reduction Sale

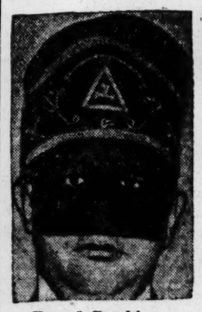

Just a Short Time More!

¶Reductions of 33 1-3% on every piece of diamond goods . . . (nothing withheld) . . . and on every watch . . . (excepting those with manufacturers' fixed prices) . . . in the extensive stock of Maier & Berkele-Gorham. Convenient and extended terms may be arranged.

¶For years Atlanta folks have enjoyed the friendly service of this fine old store, have depended on its economic leadership, its vast resources. For the past year, Maier & Berkele-Gorham has again demonstrated leadership in so quickly repricing retail stocks as the wholesale market dropped, thus passing the savings on to Maier & Berkele-Gorham customers. These sale prices represent substantial additional reductions that bring them far below these low 1932 levels! Just a few days more . . . then prices go back to regular, for every piece of merchandise in the sale is regular Maier & Berkele-Gorham stock!

*First, measure the sweater—then make lukewarm Lux suds and press them gently through—don't rub the least bit! Rinse in 3 lukewarm waters, pin flat on a board to dry, shaping to the measurements you made at first.

This easy way preserves "elasticity"—leaves your sweater soft, perfect-fitting—like new! Ordinary soaps—cakes, powders, chips—often contain harmful alkali which shrinks wool and fades colors, too. Lux has no harmful alkali. Anything safe in water alone is safe in Lux!

Dr. and Mrs. Dewey Will Be Honored Before Departure

Dr. and Mrs. Malcolm H. Dewey have engaged passage on the steamer Statendam and will sail Wednesday March 23, for a six-month tour of Europe. Dr. Dewey, director of the Emory University Glee Club and orchestra and professor of fine arts, is one of the Emory professors awarded a traveling fellowship by the Rosenwald Foundation.

Before departing from Atlanta on Friday, March 18, they will be entertained at a series of social affairs by Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Stoghill, Dr. and Mrs. Thomas H. English, Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Boyleston, Dr. and Mrs. T. H. Jack, Miss Margaret Hecht, Mrs. Joel Hunter, Mrs. Robert Martin, Dr. and Mrs. Comer Woodward and others.

Dr. and Mrs. Dewey will stop at Lawrenceville, N. J., to visit Tel Kimball, a graduate of Emory University, and a close friend of these Atlantans. In New York a group of Emory alumni is planning a dinner Monday, March 21, in honor of Dr. and Mrs. Dewey. Among those expected to attend are Mr. and Mrs. Alton O'Steen, Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Paty, James Dombrowsky, Luke Clegg, Douglas Walters, Bowie Millican, Neely Peacock, Byron Warner and others.

Dr. and Mrs. Dewey will go directly to Florence, and will visit places in Italy for six or seven weeks and will go to Paris and spent six weeks traveling in France. While in England they will visit Ernest S. Howlett, in Norwich, who will be remembered by the friends he made during his visit to Dr. and Mrs. Dewey last year.

Dr. and Mrs. T. H. English entertained in honor of Dr. and Mrs. M. H. Dewey Wednesday evening at their apartment on Montgomery Ferry drive. The guests included Dr. and Mrs. J. S. Nelms, Miss Margaret Jemison, Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Styles, Mr. and Mrs. Herbety Gailey, Mr. and Mrs. Lewis H. Moss and Dr. and Mrs. M. H. Dewey.

Mrs. Daingerfield Calls Meeting on April 1.

Mrs. L. G. Daingerfield, president of The Planters Club, calls a meeting of chairmen of the committees of the colonial exhibit of 27 garden clubs of Atlanta and of other organizations to attend a meeting to be held Friday afternoon, April 1, at the Piedmont Driving Club. This meeting will be for the purpose of furthering arrangements for the colonial exhibit at which The Planters will entertain Sunday afternoon, April 17, at the High Museum, in honor of delegates of the Garden Club of America, who meet here April 18, 19, 20, as guests of the Peachtree Garden Club, with Mrs. R. L. Cooney, president.

This April meeting was decided at a meeting of the executive board of The Planters held Tuesday at the home of Mrs. Daingerfield in Valley road. Additional plans were made for the exhibit at the museum which will be Sunday, April 17, from 5 to 10 o'clock. Mrs. Daingerfield is planning to have the adequate arrangements made to have the exhibits protected while in the museum.

Mrs. J. Houstoun Johnston, chairman, with Mrs. Sam Evins and Mrs. W. L. Barnes as co-chairman, are in charge of the exhibit, one of the most artistic affairs planned for the visitors. Chairmen of committees are requested to report at the April meeting with a list suitable to make selections therefrom, to be placed in the colonial exhibit to be sponsored by The Planters.

For Mrs. McKenzie.

FRIENDLY COUNSEL

BY CAROLINE CHATFIELD

Problems of general interest submitted by readers will be discussed in this column. Correspondence invited. Your name held in confidence. Write Miss Chatfield, care The Atlanta Constitution.

How do you use your voice of authority? "I have none," you reply. But you have. If anyone loves you, you have authority over that one. If you are a parent, you have authority over your children. If you are a business man, employing men and women, you have authority over them. If you are a housekeeper and hire a cook, or a maid, you have authority over her. It matters not, either, how you came by this authority, whether by wealth, position, family relation or love relation, the manner in which you exercise it determines if you are entitled to it and if you are to keep it.

Only broad-minded people can exercise authority without being inflated by it. Only well-balanced men and women can assume the responsibilities of great wealth without being spoiled by it. Only sturdy souls can bear the weight of great power without being toppled over by it.

Perhaps you have seen some primitive creature carrying a heavy burden on her head. It looks like a simple trick. But it is quite a feat and one you can't perform unless you happen to be a trained athlete or an acrobat. If you want to know what a feat it is suppose you fill a basket with some precious material, set it on your head and attempt to walk off with it. The basket will surely fall off as soon as you begin to walk and just as surely will you lose the precious contents. Men and women who misuse their authority have a similar experience. They lose the love of those they would control and, in consequence, they lose the power once exercised over those lives.

There are on my desk at the moment several letters from girls protesting against the authority of unreasonable parents. One of these is from a girl whose father took her out of school at the age of 14 and put her to work. He formed the habit of taking her weekly pay envelope.

This girl is now 19 years old and has never had enough of her own earnings to buy herself a dress or any of the cosmetics so dear to the feminine heart. Another letter is from a girl of 20 whose father refuses to let her have a date. If she goes to a party her brother must take her and he must also bring her home. The father says he is afraid she will meet some man, fall in love, and get married. This young woman works and furnishes the cash for his drinking sprees. For that selfish reason he is determined to keep her under his roof until her youth is passed and her chances for a life of personal happiness are few and far between.

There are in this country at the moment hundreds of business firms that are unable to weather the storms of the depression because in the times of prosperity they misused their voice of authority and power. And the reverse is equally true. I talked to a girl worker in a fur establishment. Said she, "My weekly wage is one-fifth what it was in the old days, but I keep the books and I know the inside of this business. When times were good Mr. R. paid us well, he gave us privileges that most working girls don't have, and now that times are bad I am going to stick to him as long as his doors are open."

CAROLINE CHATFIELD.

KEEPS little AILMENTS from growing into BIG ONES!

It may be just a coated tongue tonight . . . with dull eyes, bad color and breath. But by these symptoms Nature is telling you that you may have a sick child tomorrow.

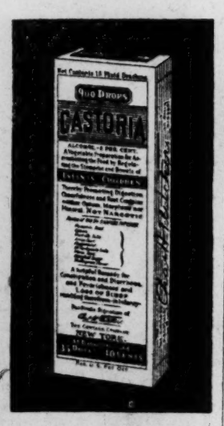

Help tonight is simple. Tomorrow it may be harder. A single simple dose of Castoria is usually all that's needed to bring relief; it often keeps a serious illness from developing.

Castoria, you know, is the children's own remedy—made specially to give the gentle help their delicate organs must have. It is a pure vegetable preparation; contains no harsh drugs, no narcotics.

In any starting illness such as a cold, a little fever, a food upset, a first-aid dose of Castoria is always a wise precaution.

It's never hard to get children to take Castoria. They love its taste, and are grateful for the relief it always brings to tied-up systems.

For babies or for older children, depend on Castoria's gentle regulation. It has kept many a little ailment from growing into a serious one! Genuine Castoria always has the name Chas. H. Fletcher on the package.

Culbertson on Contract

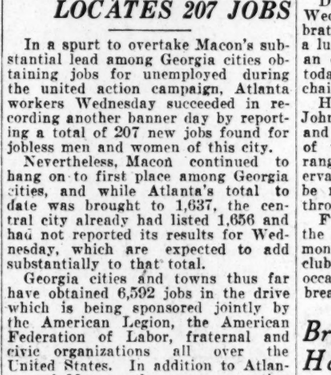

A Squeeze Plus an End Ply

BY ELY CULBERTSON.
World's Champion Player and Greatest Card Analyst

Duplicate Contract has been making vast strides in popular favor. Perhaps this is in a measure due to the depression, because Duplicate offers the substitution of competition between players in place of stakes. However, Duplicate Contract is a fine game in itself and really requires no explanation whatever for its tremenodus popularity. The Interclub and in some cases Intercity competition fostered by Duplicate brings to light many interesting hands and furnishes to the Bridge analyist much interesting material.

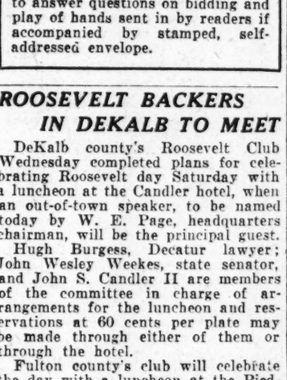

The hand below was the dramatic climax of a team-of-eight Duplicate match played in Louisville, Ky., between teams representing the Fourth Estate and University Clubs of that city.

South—Dealer.
Both sides vulnerable.

At all four tables the final declaration was three notrump with North the Declarer. When East selected the fourth best heart for an Opening lead, North was confronted with a rather difficult problem and only one of the players was able to make his contract. In reaching this result he had to make both a squeeze and an end play.

West won the Opening lead with the Ace of hearts and returned the Knave. The Declarer, from the Opening lead, was able to read the division of the heart suit and to see that without trouble he could make 8 of his required 9 tricks. He had four clubs, two diamonds, one heart and one spode. The game trick appeared not too remote in the diamond suit, but the distribution of his own and the Dummy hand warned him that the distribution of this suit, as of the heart suit, might be unfavorable. North refused to win the second round of hearts, but won the third with the King, having his last heart as a card of exit in order to place East in the lead at the end, to lead spades in the event that it should become necessary to make the spade Queen to fulfill his contract. East covered the diamond Queen, forcing the Ace in Dummy, and when North return to his own hand with a diamond Knave, West's club discard disclosed the complete distribution of the opposing hands. North then led his Ace of clubs and followed with a small club to Dummy's King. As the suit was continued, North discarded a spade on the fourth round and East was "on the spot." The situation then was:

When the club 5 held the trick and North discarded the spade 2, East was forced to choose between unguarding the spade King and thus allowing the Declarer to make his contract by taking both the Ace and Queen of spades, or to surrender one of his three high cards. In the actual play he elected to discard the heart Queen. The Declarer then stuck him in with the diamond and won the last 2 tricks with his spade honors.

TODAY'S POINTER.

Duplicate Contract i sa splendid game and offers an opportunity for the substitution of competition for any form of a stake.

ATLANTA SPURTS TO CATCH MACON, LOCATES 207 JOBS

In a spurt to overtake Macon's substantial lead among Georgia cities obtaining jobs for unemployed during the united action campaign, Atlanta workers Wednesday succeeded in recording another banner day by reporting a total of 207 new jobs found for jobless men and women of this city.

Nevertheless, Macon continued to hang on to first place among Georgia cities, and while Atlanta's total to date was brought to 1,637, the central city already had listed 1,656 and had not reported its results for Wednesday, which are expected to add substantially to that total.

Georgia cities and towns thus far have obtained 6,592 jobs in the drive which is being sponsored jointly by the American Legion, the American Federation of Labor, fraternal and civic organizations all over the United States. In addition to Atlanta and Macon, other towns reporting were as follows:

Savannah, 1,198; Valdosta, 421; Augusta, 298; Albany, 220; Cedartown, 57; Thomaston, 171; Gainesville, 127 Newnan, 105; Fitzgerald, 88; Milledgeville, 90; Decatur, 200; Barnesville, 11; Dalton, 76; Griffin, 125; Moultrie, 14; Marietta, 70; Rome, 34; Americus, 46; College Park, 7; Tallapoosa, 76; Athens, 15; Cochran, 25; Milner, 5 Waynesbro, 17. Columbus had not reported its total through Wednesday.

ROOSEVELT BACKERS IN DEKALB TO MEET

DeKalb county's Roosevelt Club Wednesday completed plans for celebrating Roosevelt day Saturday with a luncheon at the Candler hotel, when an out-of-town speaker, to be named today by W. E. Page, headquarters chairman, will be the principal guest.

Hugh Burgess, Decatur lawyer; John Wesley Weekes, state senator, and John S. Candler II are members of the committee in charge of arrangements for the luncheon and reservations at 60 cents per plate may be made through either of them or through the hotel.

Fulton county's club will celebrate the day with a luncheon at the Piedmont at 1 o'clock Saturday. Both clubs will make their plans on these occasions for getting out a record-breaking presidential primary vote.

Bridal Couple Honored at Dinner.

A compliment to Miss Cora Martin and F. C. Ragsdale, whose marriage will be a social event of March 19, was the lovely dinner at which Inman Ragsdale and Winfrey Ragsdale entertained Sunday evening at the Henry Grady hotel.

The guest list included Miss Cora Martin, Mrs. H. H. Jenkins, Misses Ola Mann, Julia Ragsdale, Evelyn Powell, Jean Ragsdale, F. C. Ragsdale, H. H. Jenkins, I. M. Starr, F. R. Chapman, Inman Ragsdale and Winfrey Ragsdale.

Macon Visitors Will Be Honored By Tri Deltas

The Atlanta Alliance of Tri Delta, international sorority, will entertain at a bridge-luncheon Saturday, March 19, at the Piedmont hotel, in honor of Mrs. Charles C. Hinton and Mrs. P. O. Holliday, charter members of the Delta Delta Delta sorority, at Wesleyan College, Macon, Ga.

The Wesleyan alumnae of the alliance are acting as hostesses for the occasion and an interesting program has been arranged. There will be an important business meeting from 12:30 until 1 o'clock, at which hour luncheon will be served. Reservations may be made by calling Mrs. Walter D. Phillips, Hemlock 4217, or Mrs. Warren Woodward, Hemlock 6128-J.

Miss Garrett Weds Lorain B. Hess.

Miss Constance Eleen Garrett and Lorain B. Hess were married at the manse of the Unitarian-Universalist church on February 29. The ceremony was performed by the bridegroom's father and witnessed by immediate relatives.

The bride is the daughter of Dr. and Mrs. H. L. Garrett, of Atlanta, and is a popular member of the younger social set and being a musician, has a large acquaintance among the musicians of this city. Recently she returned from Chicago, where she studied pipe organ under Mr. Beck.

Mr. Hess is a son of Dr. Aubrey F. Hess, who is pastor of the Unitarian-Universalist church of Atlanta. He received his literary and musical education at Adrian College and the University of Michigan. During his school days, he was an active member of the Sigma Alpha Epsilon fraternity. For the last few years Mr. Hess has been employed as organist for the Publix theater, playing in Detroit, Houston and other cities.

Mr. and Mrs. Hess left after the ceremony for Charlottesville, Va., where the bridegroom is organist at the Paramount theater.

Piano School Recital At Mrs. Collins' Home.

Bell Carroll Piano school, Mrs. Armond Carroll, director; Miss Lucile Williams, assistant, presents the following pupils in recital Friday evening, March 18, at 8:30 o'clock, at the residence of Mrs. Louis M. Collins, 624 Rockmont drive: Anne See, Hugh Howell, Billie Baker, Emily Anderson, Mildred Collins, Charlotte Michael, Catherine Tift, Douglas Lyle, Virginia Wright, Elise Merriam, Mary Cile Proctor, Lois Merriam, Ina Morgan, Edith West, Mary Campbell, Margaret Morgan and Nona Early.

Feted at Dinner.

Mr. and Mrs. John L. Conner entertained last evening, honoring Mr. and Mrs. Monroe Butler, at their home in Ansley Park. Mrs. Butler was the former Miss Ruth Key, daughter of Mayor James L. Key. The guests included a group of close friends.

Mrs. Ben Parker Calls Meeting.

Mrs. Ben Parker, president of the Young Matron's Circle of Tallulah Falls school, calls an important meeting of the membership for Friday morning, March 18, at 10:30 o'clock at the Piedmont Driving Club. Every member of the organization is requested to attend, as Mrs. Parker states that matters of great importance will be discussed.

Dr Evans To Speak To Jewish Council

Council of Jewish Women meets Monday afternoon, March 21, at 8 o'clock, at the temple house on Peachtree road. Mrs. Ernest Morrison, program chairman, announces that Dr. Mercer G. Evans, professor of economics at Emory University, will speak on "Proposals for Unemployment Relief." Dr. Evans, who received his doctor's degree at the University of Chicago, has been associate professor of economics at Emory for the past eight years and has studied widely in his field of work and research. He is now secretary of the Southeastern Economic Association and is well able to discuss the economic conditions in this section of the country, which question he will include in his address Monday.

Before the last congress convened Dr. Evans was invited to speak before the unemployment conference called by the joint committee on unemployment. This committee is composed of 12 national groups, among which are represented the conference of American rabbis, conference of Methodist Episcopal church, League for Industrial Democracy and the League for Independent Political Action. This conference was the movement behind the La Follette bill on unemployment. In his talk Dr. Evans will also discuss measures introduced at the conference to alleviate unemployment.

Dr. Evans is an authority in his subject, and presents his story with interest and enthusiasm. His talk will not only be one of interesting ideas, but also of practical value from actual experiences and contact.

Miss L'Engle To Be Honored.

Mrs. Philip L'Engle will entertain 125 members of the younger dancing set Friday evening, March 18, at Margaret Bryan's dancing school, in compliment to her daughter, Miss Margaret L'Engle. The hostess and honor guest will be assisted by Miss Elizabeth L'Engle.

Comedy Drama.

"Tea Toper Tavern," a sparkling comedy drama, will be given at the College Park Woman's Club Friday evening, March 18, at 8 o'clock. This play is being capably directed by Miss Juliana Trowbridge, a graduate in dramatic arts from Oglethorpe University. The play is given under the auspices of the College Park Woman's Club and Samuel R. Young school. Admission 15 and 25 cents.

A's Take Final 'Spring World Series' Game From Cards, 6-3; Cracker Yannigans Beat Jackets, 6-4; Johnny Chapman Signs

A'S BEAT CARDS IN FINAL GAME OF SERIES, 6-3

Bishop Gets Revenge With Deciding Blow With Bases Filled.

BRADENTON, Fla., March 16.—(AP)—Max Bishop, the last man at bat in the 1931 world series, couldn't puncture the St. Louis defense last October, but he came through today with a booming blow while the bases were full and clinched the final game for the spring series between the Athletics and Cardinals.

The Athletics, aided and abetted by the loose fielding and pitching of the world champions, won by 6 to 3. The victory was their third straight and gave the house of Mack the spring "world series" by a margin of three games to one. The Cardinals' only victory was in the ten-inning game that opened the series a fortnight ago in Miami.

DECISIVE WALLOP.

Bishop's decisive wallop came in the sixth inning with the score tied at 3-3 and Sylvester Johnson on the mound for the Cardinals. With perfect support Johnson would have retired the side in order in the frame but a boot by Walker on Miller's grounder and a muff by Watkins on Madjeski's high fly, followed by a pass to Kain filled the bases. Bishop's line single to left tallied Miller and Madjeski.

As a parting salute, Bing Miller rapped one of Paul Derringer's curves to the trees in right-center in the seventh inning and galloped around the bases for a home run, the final score of the game.

The Cardinals squeezed three runs off the delivery of Eddie Rommel, the old knuckle-baller, in the first four innings but were easily pacified in the last five frames by the speedy stuff exhibited by Merrit (Sugar) Cain, stocky young right-hander from Harrisburg, Pa. Cain yielded only three hits, including a triple by George Watkins that was wasted in the seventh.

RETURN.

Frank Frisch and Sunny Jim Bottomley returned to the Cardinal lineup for the first time in the exhibition warfare, collecting one hit apiece. Jimmy Wilson backstopped for four innings and made two hits.

Bill Hallahan, twice conqueror of the A's in the last world series, had one of his wild afternoons. The southpaw ace pitched the first three innings but issued five walks. These, coupled with doubles by Mule Haas and Ed Madjeski, rookie catcher, helped the A's tally their first three runs.

YANKS 8; BRAVES 5.

ST. PETERSBURG, March 16.—(AP)—With Babe Ruth playing his first exhibition game of the season, the New York Yankees came from behind to defeat the Boston Braves, 8 to 5, in 11 innings today.

Frank Crosetti, Pacific coast rookie, led the Yankee attack, however, coming through with a single, a double and a triple. Hits by Pinch Hitter Hoag, Saltagaver and Gehrig in the eleventh off Ed Brandt gave the Yanks their winning margin.

The Babe failed to get a hit. He was called out on strikes twice, got on base twice as the result of a base on balls and an error, flied out once and grounded out his sixth time at the plate.

When 52 coveys of birds were found and handled by the dogs in one day's running of the Southern Amateur Field Trial Club near Albany, Ga., a modern record was set.

When the last state trial was held at Waynesboro the top was 19 coveys in one day. In the recent central Alabama trials the top was nine in one day. This is no reflection on those sections, which have always produced good bird hunting, but rather a vivid illustration of what can be done by property owners who go into the matter of game conservation and propagation.

The very startling facts of the southern amateur were that in addition to the 52 coveys handled by the dogs, the gallery and handlers flushed at least 15 or 20 additional coveys which did not come under judgment. And so actually about 75 coveys of birds were found. And there were, of course, many more there that went unmolested.

Judge R. W. Bingham, on whose Pineland plantation, the hunt was held, has carried out some ideas of his own, they having been put into effect before the recent agitation on the part of the state's very fine game commissioner, Pete Twitty. Hence their unusual interest to hunters and field trial men.

Judge Bingham cleared from his land all the persimmon trees which give food to opossums, a great foe of quail. He also cleared plenty of land so that there was lots of sage grass fields for them.

Over the thousands of rich acres are scattered homes of colored tenants. They were encouraged, by the placing of a bounty, to bring in the heads of snakes, owls, hawks and other preying animals. 'Wild house cats were also slain when found on the plantation. Feed was assured for the birds.

With the decrease of snakes and preying foes of the quail they have flourished in an almost unbelievable manner. One of the curious facts about the plantation is that there is practically no open water on it. The birds do not seem to miss it, evidently getting their water from dew and what other sources are available.

On the plantation of W. C. Potter, adjoining the Pineland plantation, additional measures have been used. Many hedge rows have been planted to give the birds protection. And sections of bramble and briars have been encouraged.

The two plantation owners have, of course, bought quail and placed them on their places, but they would have game in great plenty without having placed birds there. Their natural supply has been encouraged and protected.

Robert Woodruff, of Atlanta, is another whose game preserve in southern Georgia shows just what can be done.

The Albany section seems to be out in front in the matter of progressive protection of its game. The wild turkeys are plentiful in the swamps and other game is doing well.

At any rate, it can be done. And the southern amateur trials, which will be modeled after the famous Virginia amateur, will always have a great field trial course.

ST. PATRICK'S DAY IN THE MORNING.

Comes a card from Billy McCarney, joint manager with Joe Jacobs of Max Schmeling, the world's heavyweight fighting champion. The card, in green, of course, carries a photograph of Billy with St. Patrick. And Billy is giving his patron saint a pat on the shoulder.

"Sure and it's me that's the happy one today—wishing you the same with a wee drop of the stuff that cheers real handy, in case you feel a bit droopy. Dating from this grand and glorious day, my day, may you never know hardship or worry," reads the card.

Billy and Joseph are pretty happy. Der Maxie is due within a few days and then will come the old steam-up, which they both love, and the fight with Sharkey in June.

HAPPY BIRTHDAYS TO YOU.

And this department takes this opportunity to congratulate two men whose birthday this is—Bobby Jones and Edward Friend Danforth.

Saluta!

And many of them.

ALBANY HOSPITALITY.

Once in Albany to attend a golf tournament or field trial, the entertainment comes so frequently that one finds it difficult to get away.

For the recent meet there were two great dinners and the magnificent barbecue which Judge Bingham gave on his plantation. A barbecue that was one.

MR. RIGHT-FIELD FENCE.

Mr. Freddie Russell (Nashville Banner) reveals that the lowly Vols (Oh, so lonely) have had the leading home run hitter for the past four consecutive years. The record:

1931—Clabaugh, 23.
1930—Poole, 50.
1929—Poole, 33.
1928—Wade, 24.

And the secret of it all, friends, is that right-field fence is just a handspring away from the plate. The same gents, who were howitzer guns in Sulpher Dell, were just pop guns in other parks.

Dobbs Hopes To Land Job in Baseball Soon

Johnny Dobbs came to Atlanta yesterday, but only as a visitor, he explained.

The ex-manager of the Crackers talked with officials of the Atlanta club while here and watched some of "Red" Barron's youngsters during the game with Georgia Tech.

When queried about his plans for the future, Dobbs said that he did not have anything in view at the moment but hoped to be back in baseball this summer.

"It's tough to stay idle after having been in the game for all these years," Dobbs told newspapermen.

The former Cracker chief also stated that he felt sure that the Atlanta club would not stand in his way should he make some new connection. Dobbs is still technically under contract to the Crackers for the season of 1932 at a salary of $9,000.

RUTH ACCEPTS $75,000 TERMS FOR ONE YEAR

Yankee Star Signs Paper That Reduces Salary $5,000.

Babe Collects $757,500 in Salary

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla., March 16.—(AP)—Including his new $75,000 contract for his 13th season with the Yankees, Babe Ruth will have collected $757,500 in salary from the New York club.

Here's the chart on the home run king's pay checks:

1920—$20,000.
1921—$30,000.
1922-26—$52,500.
1927-29—$70,000.
1930-31—$80,000.
1932—$75,000.

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla., March 16. (AP)—To the accompaniment of sound effects in a garden setting of tropical beauty, the great man of baseball, George Herman (Babe) Ruth, magnanimously accepted a $5,000 salary cut today and signed a one-year contract for $75,000.

For the sixth time in the 13 years he has been with the New York Yankees, the Babe put his signature to a document that keeps him in a class by himself among ball players and assures him for 1932 the same salary paid the president of the United States. Colonel Jacob Ruppert, the Yankee owner, won his point about signing Ruth for only one season but went half way to reach a compromise on the figures.

ORIGINAL OFFER.

The club's original offer was for $70,000 for 1932 only. The Babe had rejected this and countered with a demand for the same salary he has been getting for two years, $80,000, unless the Yankees would give him a two-year contract.

Both declared they were thoroughly satisfied with the agreement, which cuts Ruth's salary for the first time since he became a Yankee in 1920. His first salary with the club, $20,000, was quadrupled within 11 years.

On no previous occasion of the sort has the home run king forsaken the holdout ranks with more flourish. The Babe has wielded his fountain pen on a contract in hotel rooms and in a brewery. Shortly before noon today he and Colonel Ruppert went through the formal business in the flowered, pretentious patio of the Rolyat hotel where the Ruths are living.

OLD WISHING WELL.

They sat in tapestried chairs before a carved table, decorated with a bowl of petunias. Behind them was an old wishing well, into which they dropped coins and wished luck for Ruth, a pennant for the Yankees. Before the ceremony, for the benefit of the cameras, the Babe, in natty striped trousers and sport coat, escorted friends about the premises with the air of a country squire. Afterward he was host at a luncheon before going to the ball park to play in his first exhibition game against the Boston Braves.

"Well, boys, I am glad this is all over," remarked the Babe, doing his very best to bear up under the reaction of his long vigil as a holdout. "I am pleased with the terms. I think the cut is fair enough in times like these, even though I had a great year in 1931. The Yankees have always treated me very fair and I always give them my best. The pennant race ought to be a breeze for us this season."

"Babe, I wish you success for this year and for many years to come," the colonel remarked, for the sound picture recording machines. "I hope and believe that with you and the young talent we have on the club, the Yankees will win the pennant."

Grace Beaten By Federals, 41 to 33

Scoring a 41-to-33 victory over Grace Methodist Sunday school Wednesday night on the Y. M. C. A. court, the Federal Employes gave further proof that they are the Class B basketball champions of Atlanta. Grace was not entered in the Class B tourney sometime ago but challenged the winners for a game. Federal won out over the T. N. T. class of the Baptist Tabernacle and accepted the Grace challenge.

Starting slow, the Federal team trailed Grace throughout the first half, but early in the second period staged a spurt that gave them an advantage that was never attained by the challengers.

Although Bellamy and Payne scored 34 of the 41 Federal points, they were not outstanding in the victory. Allgood, Dean and Katz figured materially in the win with some excellent guarding and accurate passing. Ability to follow the ball every minute also aided the Federals' chances.

In a preliminary game, the Old Gulf quintet defeated the Y. M. C. A. Triangles, 50 to 39. Bynum played for the Gulf.

MRS. HILL BEATS MRS. KEELER, 9-7

All Favorites Advance in Augusta Woman's Tournament.

AUGUSTA, Ga., March 16.—(AP)—Mrs. O. S. Hill, of Kansas City, whose fine 81 brought her medal honors in the qualifying round yesterday, downed Mrs. O. B. Keeler, of Atlanta, in the first round of match play today in the Augusta women's golf tournament, 9 to 7.

All favorites came through with ease today as the annual tournament passed into its second round over the stiff hill course at the country club.

Miss Maureen Orcutt, of Englewood, N. J., and Miss Ben Gottlieb, of New York, looked upon as probable troublemakers for Mrs. Hill in later rounds, won handily today. Both had 96's yesterday, and were tied for second place in the qualifying round.

Miss Orcutt defeated Mrs. Montgomery Harrison, of Augusta, 5 and 4, while Miss Gottlieb beat Mrs. B. H. Namm, of Augusta, 7 and 6.

The Virginia champion, Mrs. Harold Kersten, of Richmond, was carried to the last green before winning 1-up from Mrs. Reginald Maxwell, country club champion here. Miss Peggy Wattles, young Buffalo, N. Y., star, downed Mrs. Charles McGhee, of Augusta, 7 and 5.

Miss Sarah Jones, of Augusta, forced Mrs. Thomas Wallace, also of Augusta, to the 19th hole before she bowed by a 1 up score. Mrs. R. E. Drennan, the Oklahoma champion, defeated Mrs. J. Marvin Haynes, Washington, D. C., star, 2 up, while the Cleveland, Ohio, city champion, Mrs. Charles Harbaugh, won from Mrs. Weber Thomas, of Augusta, 4 and 3.

Tomorrow Mrs. Hill encounters stiff opposition from Mrs. Gersten, while the match between Miss Wattles and Miss Gottlieb is expected to be close. Miss Orcutt is favored over Mrs. Thomas, but the other engagement between Mrs. Drennan and Mrs. Harbaugh is expected to be hard fought.

Pro-Amateur Play Scheduled Today

Jimmy Livingstone, representing the Atlanta Golf Association, will be host to the regular semi-monthly pro-amateur golf tournament scheduled for this afternoon on the Ingleside Country Club course. The event was postponed from last Thursday due to the severe cold wave.

Every golf professional and their assistants, together with the amateurs, are invited to participate in today's event.

Cash prizes will be given to the pros, while suitable golf equipment will be given to the amateurs finishing first and second.

Any two amateurs can team together and handicaps will apply to both of the simon pures.

Bulldogs To Play For Sportlight

ATHENS, Ga., March 16.—The Georgia football team, which ceased spring training activities last week, will go into action for one day during the first week in April, when movie cameramen will take pictures of the Bulldogs putting on their act.

The pictures will be made for Grantland Rice's famous Sportlight series of athletic films. Head Coach Harry Mehre received a letter yesterday asking that his Bulldogs perform for the Sportlight.

CLUB OFFICIALS ARE SPECTATORS AT ROSE BOWL

Young Players Look Good; Hammond Bangs Long Triple.

By Jimmy Jones.

Bobby Dodd trotted out his Georgia Tech Yellow Jackets as opposition for the Cracker Yannigans yesterday afternoon and the latter came out victorious in a lively seven-inning scramble on the Rose Bowl diamond by a score of 6 to 4.

It was the second game of the nature in which the Atlanta juveniles had taken part and the first practice appearance of the season for Dodd's team.

Jack Sheehan, who was the generalissimo of the Cracker crew for the afternoon, made Dodd the loan of a pitcher, Jim Hyder, who went six innings for the collegians.

MITCHUM WORKS.

Mitchum, one of Dodd's varsity right-handers, pitched the last inning.

The Tech team, which has had very little practice, put up a pretty good brand of opposition to the Cracker fledglings. Bobby Dodd has worked hard with his team and although his squad was badly depleted when four talented players left school to turn pro, he seems to be doing a good job of coaching.

Lefty Waldrep, a reformed outfielder, played first for the Jackets and was the hitting star of the game with a double and two singles.

Jim Hammond, young Cracker first baseman, poled the longest hit of the day, a lusty drive against the right-field scoreboard for three bases in the fourth inning with big Freddie Sington on base.

Carter and Elrod divided the pitching for the Yannigans.

EXECUTIVES WATCH.

The entire Cracker executive staff watched the game from the dugout, including President L. W. Robert, Vice President Bobby Jones, Chick Roos, business manager, and Red Barron, manager.

They had as their guest, Johnny Dobbs, ex-pilot of the Crackers, who drove over for a conference with the Atlanta officials and stayed to watch the game.

Following the contest, Coach Dodd, of Tech, said that he was well pleased with his team's appearance in their first game. His infield has not been able to get in much practice due to the cold and his pitchers are not yet in shape.

Several sophomores, who came up from Roy Mundorff's freshman team, broke in, including Spradling and John Ferguson, outfielders, and Parris, shortstop.

Waldrep and Bill Hogsett, at third, were the only Tech veterans starting the game. "Tub" Wilson, reserve receiver of last year, caught the entire game.

Manager Barron, of the Crackers, sent his other players through a regular practice at Ponce de Leon park yesterday. They did not play a practice game but all went out to watch the Yannigans in the afternoon.

Johnny Chapman signed his contract yesterday and put on his uniform for the first time since reporting.

AUBURN SLATES PRACTICE GAMES

Minneapolis Scheduled in One Series; Planning for 'A' Day.

AUBURN, Ala., March 16.—The Minneapolis Millers, who are managed this year by the colorful Donie Bush, generalissimo of the Chicago White Sox last season, have been signed to play a brace of games with the Auburn Tiger diamondeers, 1931 champions of the Dixie league and Southern conference.

Bush's hired hands will be encountered for the first time this year at Cramton bowl, Montgomery, March 28, and the return conflict will be played here on Drake field, Saturday, April 2, as the feature attraction on Alabama Polytechnic Institute's annual "A" day program.

Unless other exhibition contests are scheduled with Fort Benning, Bowdon State College and Lindale, the championship Plainsmen club will make its 1932 debut against Minneapolis in the Capital City. The Millers are training at Cramton bowl.

While the complete bill for "A" day has not been completed, it is known that this year's program will list the usual large number of interesting events, which will start in the morning and terminate in the evening with an "A" club dance in alumni gymnasium. The students will be given either a whole or half-holiday for the mammoth occasion.

According to Jeff Beard, of Greensboro; Jack Stewart, of Anniston, and Dewitt "Bull" Stier and Duck Riley, of Birmingham, the tentative plans call for a mock track meet between all of the fraternities, boarding houses and dormitories in Auburn, a greased pole event, a greased pig race, a fashion show, and three boxing bouts with a triumvirate of amateur champs participating.

The trio of amateur boxers who have signified intentions of entering the boxing carnival are Buddy Hyman, of Memphis, Tenn.; Tony Stover, of Copperhill, Tenn., and W. C. Vickery, of Birmingham. Hyman is a light-heavyweight, Stover a heavyweight, and Vickery a middleweight.

Moose Plans To Lead In Home Runs Again

NASHVILLE, Tenn., March 16.—(AP)—Moose Clabaugh, the husky Nashville outfielder, expects to be the Southern Baseball Association home run king again this season.

John William Clabaugh, the big Moose, led the Southern sluggers last year year with 23 homers. He anticipates another good season—"If I don't hit 35 home runs I'll call it a bad year," he says.

And Clabaugh did some figuring before he set his mark at 35. "You know I missed the first 40 games in 1931 and still managed to hit 23. Seems like I ought to get at least a dozen more if I play all the time," he commented.

The Nashville home lot is built to suit Clabaugh. The right field wall is just low enough to allow his drives to hop over. And then, of course, there are other parks in the circuit where he finds the distance from home plate to the outer fences arranged to his specifications.

The big fellow is in good shape. He spent the winter playing basketball in Indiana. Manager Joe Klugman is pleased with his early work in practice at Sulphur Dell park.

Should Clabaugh top the sluggers again, it would mark the fifth successive year that Nashville has boasted the association home run pace-setter. Dick Wade led in 1928 with 24, Jim Poole followed with 33 in 1929, and 50 in 1930, for a record, and Clabaugh polled out 23 last season.

Dempsey Involved In Old Damage Suit

CHICAGO, March 16.—(AP)—Jack Dempsey, former world's heavyweight champion, was held responsible for approximately $100,000 in expenses incurred by the Chicago Coliseum Club in 1926 when he repudiated a contract to fight Harry Wills, negro challenger, in a ruling handed down today by the appellate court.

The opinion, delivered by Judge Francis Wilson, reversed a judgment in the circuit court and remanded the case for a new trial.

Suit for $500,000 was brought against Dempsey, who was champion at the time, by the Coliseum Club, which alleges Dempsey caused the club great loss by his failure to go through with the contract. Judge Sterling H. Pomeroy, in the circuit court last year, ordered the jury to bring in a directed verdict, finding Dempsey not guilty.

ATHLETIC HEAD.

MACON, Ga., March 16.—(AP)—Miss Carolyn Roth, Jacksonville, Fla., will head the Wesleyan College Athletic Association during the coming year. Miss Rhetta Bailey, Cochran, Ga., is the newly-elected vice president. Miss Betty Stager, Tampa, Fla., is secretary, and Miss Floy Simpson, Washington, treasurer.

Cardinals and Athletics Are Odds-On Favorites To Repeat

BUCK, ROBERTS SIGN CONTRACTS WITH MONTREAL

Silsby Joins Reds at Tampa; Boys Accept Pro Status.

By Jack Troy.

Contrary to prevailing beliefs, Shaw Buck and Q. I. Roberts, University of Florida athletes, have signed contracts with Montreal of the International league. Bill Ferrazi, a teammate, is a tryout. A fourth Florida player, Link Silsby, is trying out with the Cincinnati Reds at Tampa.

Buck, utility infielder, a sophomore; Roberts, star shortstop, a junior; Ferrazi, pitcher, a sophomore, and Silsby, pitcher, a senior, have all accepted professional status, according to reliable reports, and will not be eligible for further athletic competition at the university should they later decide to continue their studies. That's the important thing.

JOIN MONTREAL.

Buck, Roberts and Ferrazi are en route to Hot Springs to join Montreal in spring training.

The loss of Silsby, in addition to the other three, leaves Coach Brady Cowell's Dixie league team in an admittedly sad plight. Not, however, that the club will fail to offer strong competition, for the nucleus of a good team is left despite all.

Louis Galuzian, Bob Pittman and Jack Mizell remain as the infield nucleus, with Ed Sauls, Charlie Clark, Bill Bradley and Spurgeon Cherry as leading outfielders.

Louis Tofaletti, Ben Clemons and Al Rogero are three veteran pitchers, while there are a number of promising recruits coming up from last year's freshman team.

Captain Vernon Clark, Griggs and Van Landingham are the catchers.

LOSSES HURT.

Losses of Buck, quarterback, and Ferrazi, center, will be keenly felt in football as well as baseball. Roberts was not a football player and Silsby, a star fullback for three years, would have finished his career at the close of the baseball season.

The fight against campus recruiting, started by Georgia Tech and carried to the highest tribunal of baseball—squarely before Judge Kenesaw Mountain Landis—likely will receive added impetus by the developments at Florida. The situation is ripe for a thorough session of spring "house-cleaning."

The Dixie college league, first threatened with extinction by declining football receipts, caused by a "depression," now faces a new and formidable enemy in campus recruiting. A complete investigation has been promised by Judge Landis.

Dixie Umpires For 1932 Season

MEMPHIS, Tenn., March 16. (UP)—The following umpires will officiate in the Southern association during the 1932 season, President John D. Martin announced today:

W. M. "Bick" Campbell, an American league umpire last year.
Jim Scott, National league last year.
Harry "Steamboat" Johnson.
H. T. "Buck" Campbell.
Bill Brennan.
Hadley Williams.
Johnny Quinn.
Bob Higgins, formerly with the Cotton States league.

BELL DEFEATS BOROTRA, 6-2, 6-4

NEW YORK, March 16.—(AP)—America eliminated France today in the national indoor tennis tournament assuring an all-American final the last of the week.

Berkeley Bell, Gregory Mangin and Julius Seligson eradicated the foreign threat abruptly.

Bell, the diminutive Texan, attended to the great Jean Borotra, France's second ranking star and defending champion, 6-2, 6-4, in a spectacular quarter-final match.

Mangin, pride of Newark, N. J., turned back Christian Boussus, third-ranking Frenchman and prospective Davis cupper, 6-3, 6-4, and Seligson, pudgy New Yorker, subdued Antoine Gentien, 6-3, 6-4, both in the fourth round.

George Lott Jr., of Chicago, advanced by defeating Eddie Jenkins Jr., of New York, 8-6, 6-4; Frank Shields, of New York, erased Eugene McCauliff, of New York, 6-4, 6-4; Sidney Wood Jr., New York, won from Harold Gerkin, New York, 6-4, 3-6, 6-4, and Frank Bowden, New York, outlasted Lincoln Halberstadt, New York, 3-6, 6-4, 6-1.

Extend Entries For Tournament

Entries for the Georgia Sunday school basketball championship tournament, scheduled for March 26 on the Y. M. C. A. court have been extended to Saturday, March 19, it was announced Thursday at the "Y." The time limit was extended in order that some of the teams finishing up their regular schedules this week could enter.

Any church team in the state or those sponsored by the Y. M. C. A. are eligible and invited to participate and entries are being received by L. H. Cunningham, physical director at the club.

Dodson To Battle New Orleans Boy

"K. O." Dodson, Atlanta, has been matched with Ceal Yancey, New Orleans, in a six-round feature of a boxing show to be presented Monday night at the Hunter Street gymnasium.

Others on the program are Gene Uhlman, Jim Kocher, Mike Carmichael, Bill Evans, Joe Reddick, Ormond White, Ray Mitchell, Paul Gardner, Henry Clyatt and Max Stovall.

PHILLIES 10; REDS 5.

WINTER HAVEN, Fla., March 16. (UP)—The Phillies made it three out of four in the grapefruit league, when they hammered out a 10-to-5 victory at the expense of the Cincinnati Reds today. Ed Holley held the Reds to four widely scattered hits in the first five innings, but Grabowski was hit hard in the final innings, giving way to a rescue hurler in the ninth. Meanwhile the Phillies pounded three Cincinnati hurlers for 12 hits that included two triples and four doubles. Mallon was again a factor in the offense of Shotton's men.

Score by innings:

Cincinnati	000	000	302	—	5	10	0
Philadelphia	300	002	14x	—	10	12	1

Hilcher, Frey, Kolp and Manion; Holley, Grabowski, Todd and McCurdy.

GIANTS 5; CUBS 4.

LOS ANGELES, March 16.—(AP)—Successive doubles by Johnny Vergez and Francis Hogan in the sixth inning off Charles Root, gave the New York Giants a 5 to 4 victory over the Chicago Cubs in the last of their exhibition series here today.

The win gave the Giants a 5 to 3 edge in the series. A double by Critz, Koenecke's single, a walk and a passed ball, gave the Giants a three-run lead in the first inning at the expense of Pat Malone. Chicago scored twice in the third on singles by Hack and Cuyler, and a double by Richbourg.

Two singles and an error added another run in the fourth to tie the count while a fourth run was chalked up in the sixth on two singles.

Score by innings:

Chicago Cubs	002	101	000	—	4	10	1
New York Giants..	300	002	00x	—	5	9	1

TIGERS 7; OAKLAND 1.

OAKLAND, Cal., March 16.—(AP)—High calibre pitching by veteran Vic Sorrell and Recruit Izzy Goldstein and timely batting enabled the Detroit Tigers to defeat Oakland of the Pacific Coast league, 7 to 1 today, for the second straight victory.

Sorrell allowed three hits in five innings, two of Oakland's three hits off Goldstein came in the sixth and, with a pass, filled the bases but the young hurler pitched his way out.

Score by innings:

Detroit (A)	000	031	003	—	7	10	0
Oakland (PCL)	000	010	000	—	1	6	2

Sorrell, Goldstein and Ruel, Weiss; Daglia, Ludolph and Read.

INDIANS 7; PELICANS 6.

NEW ORLEANS, La., March 16.—(AP)—Eddie Montague's home run clout over the left field fence in the fourth inning with Luke Sewell on base, gave the Cleveland Indians a 7 to 6 win over the New Orleans Pelicans today. Eddie's homer was the first of the Indian exhibition series.

Today's game was also the first in which the Indian pitchers have not held the upper hand. None of the three Tribe hurlers proved effective. The Pels gathered three runs off Belve Bean in the fourth and sixth and two more in the seventh when Monte Pearson walked four men and then cut loose with a wild pitch.

SENATORS 6; ORIOLES 3.

GULFPORT, Miss., March 16.—(AP) Smart pitching by a promising young rookie and bunching of hits in the seventh inning enabled the Washington Senators to win their second game of the season from the Baltimore Orioles today, 6 to 3.

Monte Weaver, whom the Senators got from Baltimore last year, not only held the Orioles scoreless the three innings he was on the mound but did not let them even reach the bases. Carl Fischer, regular of whom big things have been expected this season, let the Baltimore club have their three tallies.

In the seventh, with Baltimore ahead, 3 to 2, four hits and a base on balls brought Washington three more scores to which the sixth was added in the final inning.

The score:

Washington (A)	010	010	301	—	6	13	0
Baltimore (IL)	012	000	000	—	3	7	1

Fischer, Weaver, Delaney and Maples; Richmond, Holloway, Smythe and Danning, Kenna.

RED SOX.

SAVANNAH, Ga., March 16.—(UP)—The Boston Red Sox yannigans defeated the regulars, 4 to 3, today. Johnny Reder, former professional soccer goalie of New Bedford, Mass., won the game for the yannigans in the ninth by smacking out a homer with one man on base. Al Van Camp also hit a homer for the regulars in the ninth.

Yannigans	000	000	202	—	4	6	0
Regulars	010	000	101	—	3	11	0

MacFayden, Russell, Weiland and Storie; Donohue, Michaels, Lisenbee and Connelly.

MISSIONS 2; PIRATES 1.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 16.—(UP)—The Mission Reds turned on the Pittsburgh Pirates today and took the second game of their exhibition series—a 10-inning pitchers' battle—by the score of 2 to 1.

Pittsburgh	000	001	000	0	—	1	6	3
Missions	000	100	000	1	—	2	7	3

French and Finney; Lieber, Pillette and Ricci.

WHITE SOX.

SAN ANTONIO, Texas, March 16. (UP)—Manager Lew Fonseca will take his Chicago White Sox to Austin, Texas, tomorrow for their first exhibition game of the season against the University of Texas. The game will be part of Austin's St. Patrick's Day celebration.

Georgia Nine Slates Tigers

ATHENS, Ga., March 16.—Georgia's baseball Bulldogs will open their season in Clemson, S. C., Friday, March 25, when they meet the Clemson Tigers in the first of a two-game series.

Two games with South Carolina in Columbia for March 26 and 28 have also been tentatively arranged. The series will be played during spring holidays at the university. The Bulldogs will open their Dixie College league series April 8 in Auburn.

DOBBS SEEKING BASEBALL JOB

very badly," Dobbs added. While he mentioned no names of clubs, Dobbs is sure that he would be in baseball in some position if he could effect a settlement with the Cracker club.

He has been mentioned as a coach of the Chattanooga Lookouts, but this Dobbs denied very emphatically yesterday. "There's nothing to that," he said. "Some of my friends want me there but so far nothing has been done."

The meeting between Dobbs and Atlanta officials was cordial enough. He was with President Robert and Bobby Jones all afternoon and expressed deep interest in Red Barron's success as manager. Dobbs, incidentally, is very fond of Barron and says that he was one of the most loyal ball players he ever had.

"I wish for him and his club all the luck in the world," he declared.

Dobbs planned to return to Chattanooga early last night.

Before leaving, he stated that if he made a new connection, announcement of it would come in a very short time, possibly in the next two weeks.

Bulldogs, Comets Lead Volley Ball

The Bulldogs and the Comets retained first and second place, respectively, in the Y. M. C. A. volley ball league with victories Wednesday night. The Bulldogs beat the Celtics, 16-14 and 15-6, while the Comets won a double-header over the Robins, 15-11 and 15-5. The Comets are still one game behind the Bulldogs.

WINTER BOOKS FAVOR TICK ON AND TOP FLIGHT

Mrs. Kaufmann and Whitney Entries Led in Filly Earnings.

NEW YORK, March 16.—(AP)—Once again the bugle call of "Boots and Saddles" has summoned the nation's finest thoroughbred three-year-olds.

There may be no Twenty Grand or Gallant Fox in the group, but a dozen colts and fillies, rating consideration on the basis of two-year-old performances, forecast a brilliant battle in the rich stakes for the three-year-old title.

C. V. Whitney's Top Flight, with a record of seven successive victories, easily outclassed the juvenile field last year but Top Flight is a filly and a filly's performance in the early spring races is never certain.

On the other hand the brilliant daughter of Dis Donc-Flyatit, which earned $219,000 as a two-year-old, may be another Regret, the only filly ever to win the Kentucky Derby.

Regret won the 1915 renewal of the race for the late Harry Payne Whitney, father of the present master of the famous Eton blue and brown capped silks.

TOP FLIGHT FAVORED.

The future books for the Preakness and Derby, which will be run May 7 and May 14, respectively, are quoting Top Flight a slight favorite at 6 to 1.

If Top Flight wins the three-year-old title she must accomplish the feat in the Kentucky Derby, Preakness and Arlington classic, for she is not eligible for the rich three-year-old events at Belmont Park and Saratoga. Young Whitney thought so little of the filly as a yearling that he failed to name her for the Withers, Belmont stakes, Travers and Lawrence realization.

On paper Top Flight's principal rival appears to be Mrs. Louis G. Kaufmann's Tick On, the only colt that furnished the Whitney filly any argument last year. The son of One Watch and Sox picked up 119 pounds, even weight with Top Flight, and raced the Whitney miss to a neck decision in the Pimlico Futurity.

Tick On Earnings.

Although winning only three races in ten starts, Tick On accounted for $77,350, principally because of his unexpected victory in the Hopeful at Saratoga. He finished second in three other races.

Tick On was a slow starter last year but Twenty Grand also was usually among the last to leave the barrier. In the Hopeful, like a Twenty Grand, Tick On came up from fifth place at the head of the stretch to defeat several high-class juveniles. Top Flight and Burning Blaze were not in the Hopeful.

'Y' Triangles Honored Here

Members of the Atlanta Y. M. C. A. basketball team which won 16 and lost only one game during the past season, were honor guests at a dinner Wednesday night at Verner's on Marietta street.

Oscar Brock, manager of the team, was toastmaster and introduced every member of the team in addition to Coach Rufus Bass, who spoke of the excellent spirit of the players throughout the season. L. H. Cunningham, physical director of the Y. M. C. A., and newspaper representatives also were called on for short talks.

In winning 16 and losing only one game, the Triangles averaged 47 points against 27 for their oponnents per game.

Those players on the team are Phillips, Brock, Fincher, Reeder, Bynum, Cordell, Strickler, York, Towery and Merritt.

KNUCKLER.

Cy Moore, veteran Brooklyn pitcher, is trying to master the knuckle ball. The Dodger management believes that if Cy masters the delivery he may prove a good winner.

THE SPORTLIGHT By Grantland Rice

Carey's Belief in Teaching Baseball.

While Max Carey is decidedly optimistic over the Brooklyn Dodgers' chances, basing his hopes on Hack Wilson's training camp display and the splendid showing of his young pitchers, Carey feels his pattern of strategy is likely to be guessed wrong.

"Just because I was a base stealer and like to see smart baseball," Max says, "everybody thinks Brooklyn will play that sort of ball this year. But you must work with what you have, and there aren't so many likely base runners in the lot."

Although his present stock doesn't offer great opportunities, Carey's ideas promise a development in the direction of smarter base running. In the first place Max sizes up his chances in these words:

"Despite what all the old-timers say, I think you can teach hitting as well as base running, provided you have the right timber. I haven't the least doubt about teaching hitters. I was a natural right-hander, but couldn't drive a ball to right field, and I became a good turn-around hitter."

Max was just about the best turn-around hitter in the leagues for a time.

"And Glenn Wright, when he came to the Pirates, couldn't take a ball in his hand and hit it to right field," Max continued, "but Glenn learned, and I had something to do with teaching him. Now he can hit a curve to right without any trouble. And that's the trade mark of a real hitter. That's what I tell the youngsters. You can't be a real right-hand hitter till you knock a curve to right."

The Brooklyn club has no turn-around hitters, and Carey has no illusions about making Ben Chapmans out of Hack Wilson and Lefty O'Doul.

"When I'm looking for a man to teach, I first look upstairs," says Max. "He must have a certain amount of speed, but he's got to have brains."

A leader like Carey, who thinks a lot of baseball is played with the head and not the hands and feet, has his task at Ebbets field.

Infield and Pitching.

The former Pittsburgh flyer feels much better now about his infield and his pitching. The addition of Cucinello and Stripp will build up his inner wall and also leave him with some reserve strength, which is always a big factor.

In regards to his pitching, Max feels with such veterans as Vance, Lefty Clark, Heimach and Quinn, he also has a flock of good rookies in Van Mungo, Mattingly, Gallivan, Kreider and one or two others. If two from this younger crop come bounding through, the Dodger staff will be above the average.

"I don't believe in class lessons," Carey adds, "but I am a big believer in physical condition. And when I see a chance to improve some player's style we'll go into a huddle together and see what we can work out. It's easy enough to see where physical condition counts with 154 games to face, a fast competitive job practically every afternoon from April to October."

Pleasing Factor.

One factor that has pleased Max Carey more than a trifle is the keenness displayed by Hack Wilson and Dazzy Vance, two of his big cards.

These two veterans have been hustling to the limit to get ready. Both know that 1932 is the big spot, one of the main sectors along the front, as far as they are concerned. Carey put on his broadest smile recently when Hack hammered a home run against the Phillies with the bases full.

Vance expects to have one of his top years. The dazzler knows he isn't far from the end of the road and he wants to turn in at least one more outstanding season before he retires to his Florida farm.

Wilson and Mayor On Fishing Trip

Tommy Wilson, professional at the Ansley Park Golf Club, together with J. P. Womack and Mayor James V. Key, will leave the city today for the east coast of Florida for a four-day fishing trip.

Due to a strenuous campaign against the recall forces, in which he won out Tuesday, Mayor Key accepted the invitations of Wilson and Womack for a brief fishing trip to Florida.

Skeet Shooters Plan Homecoming

"Homecoming" will be observed at the Atlanta Skeet Club traps Saturday afternoon in a regular weekly shoot. It will also be a practice affair for the tri-state shoot scheduled Sunday afternoon at Chattanooga, Tenn., in which many of the local clay "busters" will take part.

IT'S EVEN MONEY CLUBS WILL WIN 1932 PENNANTS

Odds Offered on Their Finishing Second, But No Lower.

ST. LOUIS, March 16.—(UP)—The St. Louis Cardinals and Philadelphia Athletics are odds-on favorites to repeat their major league baseball championships, and there is little betting except on these clubs, Tom Kearney, veteran St. Louis betting commissioner, told the United Press today.

It's even money that both the Cards and A's win the 1932 pennants. You can get odds of 1 to 4 that the A's will finish second, but you can't even get a bet that the A's will finish any further down the list. It's 2 to 5 that the Cards finish second, and 1 to 5 that they are third.

The current betting odds:

GOLF FACTS
Editor's Note: This is the first of a series of golf lessons by Alex Morrison, golf's star teacher. These lessons appear in The Constitution's Sport Pages twice a week. Watch for the next.
By Alex Morrison,
Written for Central Press and The Constitution.

With all that has been said about the right and wrong thing in golf, you, Mr. Golfer, are still left in the dark about what you should do or have done with a golf club.

Success in golf is mainly a matter of having the correct swing. It is simply the application of a scientific principle. Through my discovery of this fact and knowledge of the practical application of this principle in swinging a golf club I am able to present a simple description of the muscular action that takes place during every successful golf swing.

There is only one way for the average player to make a successful swing and that is by performing the muscular action which I will endeavor to outline.

Every golfer knows what it means to "groove" his swing, that is to have the head of his club travel in the right path, but he doesn't know how to bring about or repeat such a result. Yet any person, regardless of age or size, can make the correct swing!

It's simple and it's easy. In fact the only thing difficult about the correct swing is its simplicity.

I will endeavor to set forth the facts about the successful golf swing as accurately and as simply as I possibly can. In addition to this I will show you how to acquire the correct swing and how to execute it in playing any type of shot. If you properly apply the information and instructions supplied in these columns I can guarantee that you will play better golf.

You can't turn kids loose with just any sweet. But with Dr. Pepper it's perfectly safe. Here's why: the sugar content is diluted 5½ to 1—and this sugar is invert (practically predigested). It's instant, effective energy. It corrects exhaustion quickly, with no tax on the "tummy" at all. . . . .

BY JOHN COOLEY.

NEW YORK, March 16.—(AP)—Adverse dividend and trade news imposed on today's stock market a weight of evidence which Wall Street was unable to counterbalance with any favorable arguments.

The decline was quiet, but it also was steady after a brief period of firmness following the opening. Bonds had a very dull time of it although a new high-grade issue was quickly oversubscribed.

Heaviness of stocks was general. Rails gave an unfavorable performance, yet on the average did better than either industrials or utilities.

International Match preferred lost 4 1-2 when its directors omitted the $1 payment, an action that had no official explanation. Kreuger & Toll was offered in substantial volume when it was learned that the Stockholm exchange, on its reopening next Monday, would remove the issue from trading there.

General Motors slipped into new low ground under afternoon selling. United States Steel, American Can and Sears, Roebuck, were off 1 or more. Baltimore & Ohio preferred was taken off a dividend basis after the close, and had a fractional loss. Turnover was 1,464,264 shares.

One of the day's chief disappointments came in the weekly steel production estimate of Iron Age. This review placed current operations at a 25 per cent national average, a reduction of 2 points, which meant that the industry had settled back to a basis approximating last December's level. Motor car demands have fallen far short of expectations. Ford has not yet placed the large orders which seemed to be assured a few weeks ago.

America's favorable foreign trade balance last month was $24,000,000. Exports exceeded January's for the first time since 1916, the gain being $5,000,000. Heavy cotton shipments and the rush to beat England's new tariff it was assumed had accounted for the improvement.

STOCKHOLM EXCHANGE REMOVES KREUGER STOCKS

STOCKHOLM, Sweden, March 16.(AP)—The Stock Exchange committee announced tonight that quotations of Kreuger & Toll shares and participating debentures as well as the company's 5 per cent loan of 1929 (its dollar loan) will not be listed when the stock exchange reopens Monday.

The stock exchange was ordered closed after Ivar Kreuger, head of the vast Kreuger interests, committed suicide in Paris on Saturday. The company at that time announced its affairs were being examined and that Mr. Kreuger's act was attributable to overwork.

The Swedish riksdag passed a measure of temporary relief for all debtors, including the Kreuger & Toll interests.

Foreign Markets

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS.

LONDON—Further confident buying caused a general improvement on the stock exchange with gilt-edged securities leading. Imperial Chemical benefited by satisfactory earnings report, while Kreuger & Toll was weak. Market closed steady and fractionally under the best.

PARIS—Trading on the bourse opened well but sold off later. Chemicals were hesitant and international issues showed slight differences. Closing was heavy.

BERLIN—Prices were generally firm in view of the proposal of a 12 per cent reichsbank dividend. Kreuger Svenskas was weak declining 8 points and closing at its lowest.

ATLANTA SPOT COTTON.

Atlanta spot cotton closed steady, unchanged, at 6.65. Receipts, 200; shipments, 2; stocks, 167,106.

NEW YORK, March 16.—(AP)—Early advances of several points in cotton today were followed by reactions on realizing combined with some local or commission house selling.

May contracts closed at 6.88, with the general market closing steady, net 1 point higher to 3 points lower.

The opening was steady, at unchanged to an advance of 4 points on some trade and commission house buying.

Little southern selling was in evidence. Active months worked about 4 to 7 points net higher during the early trading.

The advance extended to 7.13 for July and 7.34 for October, but at these levels met more cotton. Early advances were lost with July selling down to 7.04 and October to 7.26 for net declines of 2 to 4 points on active months. Closing prices showed rallies of 2 to 3 points from the lowest.

Reports of a small spot demand in the south were coupled with indications of light offerings and a steady basis.

Exports today 36,894, making 6,420,261 so far this season. Port receipts, 26,082. United States port stocks, 4,574,720.

PROFESSIONAL SELLING WIPES OUT EARLY GAINS

NEW ORLEANS, March 16.—(AP) Professional selling during the late session caused early moderate gains in cotton prices today to be completely wiped out, final figures being unchanged to 1 point net up on the day. The market had opened moderately higher and soon afterward advanced to net gains of 7 to 8 points for best levels of the day on good trade buying and a little short covering. Later in the day this support was withdrawn and though offerings were light during mid-day. Small recessions occurred. When stocks declined in the afternoon, the selling pressure became more pronounced, resulting in declines of nearly a half dollar a bale from the morning highs.

Port receipts 24,048; since Friday 82,181; since August 1, 8,806,444; last year, 8,352,336. Exports 37,028; since Friday 115,576; since August 1, 6,306,006; last year 5,209,926. Bright Spots in Business

BY THE UNITED PRESS.

America's export trade during February was $5,000,000 greater than January, the first increase for February over January since 1916, according to the commerce department.

Columbia Pictures Corporation gives work to 2,000 persons by reopening Hollywood studios on a production schedule of 26 features and 110 short subjects.

Alaska Juneau Gold Mining Company reports profit for 1931 amounted to $1,070,391, compared with $831,085 in 1930.

Production of electricity in the United States during the week ended March 12 showed the second consecutive weekly increase, according to the National Electric Light Association.

Two hundred and five industrial enterprises served by the Associated Gas & Electric System expanded their operations during 1931, the system reports.

Connecticut Electric Service Company's report shows earnings for the year ended February 29 were equal to $3.74 a share, against $3.64 a share in the preceding fiscal year.

Brokers' Views

Stock Letters.

FENNER, BEANE & UNGERLEIDER.

NEW YORK, March 16.—Renewed appearance of unfavorable trade reports provided the disquieting influence to which stocks responded in today's sharp downward movement.

Beginning the session with the necessity for absorbing unfavorable car-loading figures reported overnight, as well as apprehension concerning the possibility of further developments in the Kreuger & Toll situation, the market was obliged to meet further adverse news during the day. This took the form of a decline in estimated steel operations, additional dividend reductions and omissions and notable weakness in motor issues.

The breaking of the February 23 resistance level must be recognized as a somewhat disconcerting event and one which would call for increased caution pending indications of exhaustion of the current downward movement and of influences by which it apears to have been induced.

COURTS & COMPANY.

NEW YORK, March 16.—The stock market was slightly more active today, but the activity was at the expense of prices and the market closed at a lower level. The heaviness in rails Tuesday was a disconcerting feature and it was in evidence again Wednesday, caused in the main by the exceedingly light traffic conditions now prevailing and the subsequent poor earnings. International Match preferred passed its dividend, as did B. & O. preferred. It does not seem likely that the Kreuger & Toll episode will have any serious consequence here, but it was enough to jolt confidence at an imopportune time, and has led to a revival of skepticism if not pessimism, with attention turned to the slack railroad and business conditions. It is one of the swings of which we have had several in recent months and probably will have to run its course before confidence picks up again.

LIVINGSTON & CO.

NEW YORK, March 16.—Inability of the market to rally from its support level of late February brought out large selling in the afternoon, which carried stocks generally through yesterday's lows and into new low ground for the move. Railroad stocks have been running ahead of the general list on the reaction and are now very close to their January 5 record lows for the bear market. Should they break this level, a test of the record lows for the industrials might be in order.

While we are not bearish, we are allowing for the probability for some further selling, which may carry through off and on for the rest of the week.

DOBBS & CO.

NEW YORK, March 16.—Liquidation was general in today's stock market session as evidenced by the fact that 28 out of the 30 industrials used in the compilation of the Dow-Jones averages were lower for the day and two were unchanged. In the rail group, moreover, 16 out of the 20 stocks used to compile the averages were lower, three were unchanged and only one was fractionally higher. The general decline took both industrials and rails into new low ground on the current movement, the industrials registering a low point of 78.76 and the rails a low point of 32.56. At these levels the industrials stand approximately 9 points above the bear market low and the rails approximately 1½ points above their bear market low.

We think it is altogether likely that the Dow-Jones industrial averages will meet sufficient resistance at the 75-level to induce a rally of at least 5 to 7 points.

BEER & CO.

NEW YORK, March 16.—After a half-hearted early rally this morning offerings of large blocks of stock, much of which apparently came from foreign sources, unsettled the list generally and the market declined quite sharply all around. The industrial averages closed at a critical point and look lower before any sustained rally. There will, however, undoubtedly be excellent trading opportunities during next several days, even though for only narrow turns. Since the higher rate of tax for stock transfers went into effect the stocks of low par value are increasingly attractive for trading turns.

Cotton Letters.

FENNER, BEANE & UNGERLEIDER.

NEW YORK, March 16.—The market advanced to net gains of 4@7 points on active months in early trade today, later sold off to net losses of 2@5 points, and ended one point higher to three lower. It thus presented a rather firm front, considering the pronounced weakness in securities, which brought more or less liquidation as well as selling for the decline by professional operators.

Until sentiment regarding the value of securities and also regarding general business undergoes a change for the better, it is naturally going to be difficult to advance cotton. However, we continue to doubt an appreciable decline and feel the accumulation of contracts for speculation and investment is justifiable on periods of easiness.

HUBBARD BROS. & CO.

NEW YORK, March 16.—Liverpool cables were three to four points better than due this morning and our market reflected this upturn in opening several points above last night's closing figures. From all indications, it appears that the market is very much improved technically, because today, in face of an easier security market, cotton closed unchanged from last night's figures.

Price fixing was evident today as well as trade buying with offerings from the south extremely limited.

We still continue to advocate the purchase of cotton on all setbacks.

Liverpool futures are due Thursday: May 5.16, July 5.15.

LIVINGSTON & CO.

NEW YORK, March 16.—Cotton advanced 2 to 7 points during early trading on scattered buying by Jap brokers, Wall Street and some demand from wire houses in small lots, but the market eased during the afternoon, influenced by the weakness in stocks and grain which brought in increased selling orders with the result that final prices showed a net loss of 1 to 3 points.

The feature of the early trading was the buying of about 10,000 bales by Munds. Market is largely a local affair. There was no material pressure from southern sources.

BEER & CO.

NEW ORLEANS, March 16.—Liverpool cables came in about 4 penny points better than due. The local cotton market opened about 5 points up from previous close but eased off after the opening with a weak stock market.

Foreign news in general is better and China and Japan appear to be patching up some sort of a peace arrangement. There are rumors floating around that a secret agreement on reparations has been reached in Europe. Washington appears more cheerful. In the face of all this, however, general industry is showing no actional expansion, which is the main thing. The increase in the Garside estimate for first six months' consumption of American cotton, coming at the same time as Volkart Brothers' estimate of the season's consumption of 13,600,000 of American cotton, lends some encouragement. A good Easter would probably act as powerful stimulant to general business. All markets were weak during the afternoon and cotton closed unchanged from Wednesday.

Grain Letters.

FENNER, BEANE & UNGERLEIDER.

CHICAGO, March 16.—Our market in a general way repeated its performance of the last two days, holding steady during most of the session on strong foreign news and breaking in late trading following renewed weakness in stocks. The much better character of buying on breaks, however, was indicated by a sharp rally just before the close, when wheat was difficult to buy. Export trade failed to show the snap displayed yesterday, but there was good volume of orders just under the market and sales were reported of 500,000 bushels, which included 120,000 hard winters, in addition to which it was claimed seaboard exporters had taken fair quantities from leading holders. Liverpool again showed strong tone in the face of weakness on this side.

NEW YORK.

NEW YORK, March 16.—Bleachable cottonseed oil today closed weak at new lows for the season and unchanged to 18 points net lower on the largest turnover in any single session in weeks.

Sales were 82 contracts, equivalent to 12,300 barrels. Liquidation by Wall Street interests, with a barely steady lard market, and further weakness in hogs depressed the list.

A large part of the day's business consisted of exchanging, this amounting to 38 contracts. Crude oil was 3½ nominal in the southeast to 3 to 3½ in the valley and nominal in Texas.

Bleachable spot closed 3.75; March 4.00; May 4.03; July 4.23; September 4.34. There were no sales in the prime summer yellow contract, with closing prices as follows: Spot 3.75; March 3.75; May 3.85; July 4.05; September 4.20; October 4.20.

Earnings.

NEW YORK, March 16.—A net loss of $23,670,052 for 1931 was reported today by the Gulf Oil Corporation. This compares with net income of $10,625,252 in 1930.

A decrease of 8.2 per cent is shown in electric power output for the week ended March 12 as compared with a year ago. Total production of 1,538,452,000 kilowatt-hours was moderately above that of the preceding week. The central industrial region ran about 11 per cent below last year, and that of Atlantic seaboard was off about 3 per cent.

Money Market.

NEW YORK.

NEW YORK, March 16.—Foreign exchanges were generally irregular today. Continued recovery of Swedish currency indicated a prevailing belief that effects of the Kreuger affair would be less disturbing than had at first been thought probable. Kroner again crossed 20 cents, closing with a gain of 25 points.

Changes elsewhere were narrow. Sterling cables eased half a cent net to $3.62½. French francs finished unchanged. German marks firmed moderately.

Great Britain in dollars, others in cents: Great Britain, demand 3.62½; cables 3.62½; 60-day bills 3.59½; France, demand 3.93 15-16; cables 3.94; Italy, demand 5.18½; cables 5.18½.

CHICAGO, March 16.—(AP)—Despite setbacks in securities, grain values tended upward today, stimulated by fresh export purchases of wheat grown in the United States.

Wheat closed unsettled at almost the day's top, 3-8 to 5-8 over yesterday's finish, corn 1-4 to 5-8 up, oats unchanged to 1-8 higher, and provisions unchanged to 5 cents off.

Word that George S. Milnor, head of the United States Grain Stabilization Corporation, was on his way to Europe simultaneously with a leading Chicago exporter, attracted much notice. Mr. Milnor's departure was looked upon as an effort to stimulate export demand for farm board wheat.

Corn and oats were responsive to wheat strength.

Provisions were easier, reflecting downturns in hog values.

COTTON EXPORTS RECORD INCREASE

WASHINGTON, March 16.—(AP)—Cotton exports jumped almost 25 per cent during the first seven months of the cotton season as compared with the previous season.

The textile division of the commerce department announced today that 5,925,000 bales had been exported from August, 1931, when the cotton season opened, to February. This was an increase of 1,013,000 bales over the exports for the first seven months of the previous season.

The far east, the division said, continues the principal factor in the larger shipments. Japan took 1,695,000 bales during the period, compared with 732,000 the previous year, and China's takings were about three times as large as previously. No figures were given for China.

Italy increased its takings by 97,000, but the United Kingdom took 863,000, the same as last year. Exports to Germany and France were smaller, shipments to the latter country totalling 247,000 bales against 787,000 the previous year.

Exports for January and February were 1,890,000 bales compared with 966,000 for January and February, 1931. The value of cotton exported during the first two calendar months of 1932 aggregated about $73,000,000, as compared with $56,000,000 for cotton exported during the first two months of 1931.

CAROLINA LEAF PRICE DECREASED IN 1931-32

RALEIGH, N. C., March 16.—(AP) North Carolina farmers received $41,348,656.21 for 466,689,122 pounds of tobacco during the 1931-1932 season, according to the state crop reporting service.

The average price per 100 was $8.86 as compared with $12.84 the previous season. During 1930-1931 growers received $72,331,187.44 for 563,327,005 pounds.

Sugar, Coffee, Rice.

SUGAR.

NEW YORK, March 16.—Raw sugar was steadier today. At the close sugars were available at 2.77. Sales reported were 20,000 bags of Cuban, 28,700 bags of Porto Rican for prompt shipment at 2.78 and 5,000 bags of Porto Rican at 2.77 to local refiners and operators.

Early upturns in futures attracted increased liquidation and hedge selling and were followed by reactions with the market closing net unchanged to 2 points lower.

Reports claimed that Cuba was showing increased willingness to restrict her crop to 2,500,000 tons provided Java would restrict her exports, and that Java was in a receptive mood.

Approximate sales 25,600 tons. March closed .73, May .77, July .83, September .89; December .95; January 97.

In refined a fair hand-to-mouth inquiry was reported and prices were unchanged at 4.00 for fine granulated.

BY VICTOR EUBANK.

NEW YORK, March 16.—(AP)—The bond market drifted feebly today. The buying urge was absent in most categories and prices sagged.

The session was the dullest of the month, sales totaling only $9,362,000. The average for 60 principal domestic loans was off 4-10 of a point.

There were some rallying attempts at various periods, but most of these died in their youth. Announcement that the International Match Company, one of the Kreuger concerns, had omitted preferred and common dividends appeared as an unsetting factor.

Missouri Pacifics staged the most cheerful performance of the rails. Most of these liens advanced from 1 to 2 3-4 points. Some quarters expected that the road's financial needs for 1932, totaling some $23,000,000, would be arranged by the Reconstruction Finance Corporation and interested bankers.

The utilities and industrials, on the whole, were irregular and moderately lower.

The United States government list maintained a relative firmness throughout and prices were not fractionally under those of yesterday.

The foreign group was sluggish. German government 5 1-2s dropped 3 7-8 points.

British 5 1-2s were slightly lower and Japanese loans declined moderately.

FOREIGN TRADE SHOWS FAVORABLE BALANCE

WASHINGTON, March 16.—(AP)—The United States had a favorable foreign trade balance of $24,000,000 during February.

The commerce department announced today that preliminary figures showed exports were $155,000,000 and imports $131,000,000. Exports in February, 1931, were $224,346,000 and imports $174,946,000.

Gold exports during February totaled $128,211,000, compared with $14,000 in February, 1931. Imports were $37,585,000, against $16,156,000.

Exports of silver were $942,000 in February, compared with $1,638,000 in February, 1931. Imports were $2,009,000, against $1,877,000.

ARGENTINA'S COMMERCE WITH U. S. SHOWS DROP

BUENOS AIRES, Argentina, March 16.—(AP)—Argentina's January exports to the United States totaled $1,803,000 as compared with $2,356,000 in January, 1931. Imports from the United States were $2,024,000, as compared with $5,467,000.

In view of recent marked weakness of rail issues, Wall Street is not inclined to look for anything particularly cheerful in the forthcoming statements for February. The 10 per cent wage cut will make the figures better than would otherwise have been the case, but with traffic continuing at its present low level net income can be lifted only through intensive economies.

CURB LIST DRIFTS TO LOWER LEVEL

BY CLAUDE A. JAGGER.

NEW YORK, March 16.—(AP)—The curb market remained under moderate selling pressure today.

The list gradually drifted lower in sympathy with the heaviness of the big board. Trading quickened a little, turnover aggregating 200,000 shares. Electric Bond & Share issues were again sold in some volume. The common dipped a fraction to a new low at 7 1-2.

Gulf Oil's report showing a large deficit for 1931 appeared to have been anticipated, for the stock declined only 1 1-2 points to 26 1-2, then closed at 27. Oils generally were somewhat inclined to sag.

A notable firm spot in the industrials was United Shoe Machinery, which advanced a point to 40 1-4, best price of the year.

The trend in general was downward in the industrial group.

DIVIDEND IS OMITTED BY KREUGER CONCERN

NEW YORK, March 16.—(AP)—Directors of the International Match Company, at their meeting today, omitted action with regard to payment of quarterly dividends on the preferred and common stocks. The dividends are ordinarily payable April 15. Previously the company paid $1 quarterly on each class of stock.

Failure of the management to act on the dividends was ascribed by Wall Street to the unsettlement growing out of the suicide of Ivar Kreuger on Saturday. International Match Company is one of the principal units of the Kreuger & Toll organization. All of the common stock is held by the Swedish Match Company, the main holding company for the Kreuger & Toll match manufacturing enterprises.

BALTIMORE & OHIO OMITS $1 DIVIDEND

NEW YORK, March 16.—(AP)—Directors of the Baltimore & Ohio Railroad Company voted to omit the $1 quarterlyl dividend on the preferred stock.

MACY PAYS DIVIDEND ON CAPITAL STOCK

NEW YORK, March 16.—(AP)—R. H. Macy & Co. today declared dividend of 50 cents a share on the capital stock. The dividend is payable May 16 to stock of record April 22.

Highlights of Wall Street

BY CHARLES W. STORM, Editor, the News Service of Wall Street.

NEW YORK, March 16.—An unusually large number of dividend reductions and omissions, some unexpected, accelerated the sale of stocks today.

Weakness in the pivotal stocks was due largely to sympathetic selling arising out of losses caused by sharp breaks in Macy, International Match preferred and a further decline in Kreuger & Toll and affiliated companies' securities.

Trade reports continue to direct attention to the absence of improvement in business. The weekly trade review reported a decrease in steel oprations for the last week.

Sentiment is becoming bearish regarding the outlook for the railroads and this was given added color by the announcement of omission of the dividend on the Baltimore & Ohio preferred stock.

Apprehension regarding Kreuger & Toll and its affiliates was increased by the omission of the dividends on the preferred and common shares of International Match. The Kreuger development has brought about a cessation of the buying of American stocks which had been under way.

SHORTS COVER.

Continuation of the downward movement in the general market facilitated covering of short commitments by professional operators. The shorts experienced no difficulty in buying back stocks recently sold at higher prices.

The question has been raised as to what will support the market against further liquidation now that the short interest has been reduced, thus removing a substantial amount of potential buying power.

BETTER BANKING SITUATION.

It is encouraging to note that there is really some improvement occurring in the banking situation.

While the railroads are receiving relief from the Reconstruction Finance Corporation, the recent amendments to the federal reserve act are not yet in operation. When they begin to function it is believed there will be further expansion in the ease of money which should have a beneficial effect on banks and result in abandonment of their policy of keeping as liquid as possible.

J. J. Pelley, president of the New York, New Haven & Hartford railroad, indicated today that the road was discussing measures for some reduction in its bank loans, which amount to about $12,500,000. The road has no present intention of seeking a loan from the Reconstruction Finance Corporation, he said.

TARZAN AND THE ANT MEN No. 46

By Edgar Rice Burroughs

Presently Tarzan from his greater height as he looked across the rolling country, saw the advance of the Veltorismakusians. He watched their various movements for a few moments and reported them to the Ant Men's prince. "They are coming in long lines across a wide front," he called down. "Your first line will be overwhelmed." At this news, Komodoflorensal gave a sharp command. A thousand mounted men leaped forward, urging their diadets into bounding leaps that cleared six or seven feet at a jump.

Another thousand moved quickly toward the right and another toward the left. Tarzan kept reporting the conflict as it clashed and surged in the distance. The prince explained the Ant Men's complicated method of warfare and ended: "It is time you returned to the rear. Soon you will be surrounded by the enemy if you remain here. There will be plenty of hand-to-hand fighting if they still intend to enter our city. You must get back to the city if already it is not too late."

"I think I shall remain here," replied the ape-man. "But they will take you prisoner, or kill you!" warned Komodoflorensal. Tarzan of the Apes smiled at the very idea of these diminutive men capturing him. "I do not fear them." "That is because you do not know them," replied the prince. "Your great size makes you overconfident. Remember, you are only four times the size of one Minunian. There may be 30,000 seeking to overthrow you." "I will risk it," answered the ape-man.

The Veltorismakusians were driving rapidly forward. The prince could give no more time to a futile attempt to persuade Tarzan to retreat. While he admired the strange giant's courage, he likewise deplored his ignorance. He had grown fond of their strange guest and would have saved him. But now he must turn to the command of his troops since the enemy was almost upon them. As he alloped away, Tarzan, left alone, watched the coming of the little enemy men on their agile, wiry mounts.

BY CRAIG CARROLL

CHAPTER I.

The two slips of paper burned in Judy's pocketbook. She did not need to read either of them again. She knew every word by heart.

"Miss Allison: Report at WAOA tomorrow at 10 for an audition. Beauty Builders. Just talking. You ought to get it. Best luck.

"DICK MASON."

That was one of the messages. That was why she was on the Sheridan road bus now, going downtown in the bright, cold morning, wearing the new brown wool crepe dress, the tan lapin jacket, the new brown hat with the brown and tan bow. Wishing. Thinking about Dick Mason. Wishing.

And thinking about the other message. The telegram.

"Judy: I am not going to send you any more money. You have been in Chicago six months without getting anywhere. Now come home.

"FATHER."

That message had come first. It came about 3 o'clock the afternoon before and for a long time after that Judy had just sat looking at the message, thinking now how she would have to go home; how this had been the one chance of her life and she had failed.

She had gone downstairs to the tearoom. She sat alone at a little wall table until Mrs. Malone, who owned the tea room, said: "Do you mind letting someone share your table? It's so crowded tonight."

"No," Judy said, not looking up. "Of course, not."

A young man sat down. She noticed he had very strong hands, tanned, and that he wore a small ring on his index finger.

She went on looking at her father's telegram, not looking up, until at last she heard the man say, "May I have the sugar, please?"

She passed the sugar bowl. Somehow it slipped suddenly from her hand, tumbled upside down on the cloth, spilling sugar everywhere.

"Oh!" She felt her cheeks flaming. She looked straight at the young man. He was smiling, chuckling. He had thick hair, brushed smooth. Nice eyes.

"I'm — nervous," she explained. "Sorry."

"You look worried about something. Could I help?"

"No. No. It's nothing. Nothing at all."

The telegram lay before her. Quickly she picked it up, crumpled it, stuffed it into her jacket pocket.

She looked down now and tried to eat. She couldn't eat. She kept thinking what it would be like to have to go home a failure. She couldn't think of anything else.

"Pardon me," the young man said, after a long time. "I know this is all wrong. But—I've seen you often here. I live here, too, you know. On the fifth floor."

"Oh, I live on the third."

"My name is Dick Mason."

"Mine is—" she paused. This wasn't the thing one does. Of course not. But he had a nice smile. He looked—nice. That was the only word. All right. "Mine is Miss Allison."

He got up, made an exaggerated bow.

"Charmed, Miss Allison. Charmed, indeed!

Then they both laughed, because they both wanted laugh, and after all, it was an autumn evening, and after all—. After a while they talked. About Chicago. About how nice it was to be in Chicago.

"I'm going home Tuesday," she said dismally.

"You shouldn't."

"I have to."

"But why?"

Afterward it seemed a terrible thing to have done; but she handed him the telegram from her father, not saying anything about it. He hesitated a moment. Then he read the message.

"That's—bad. Can't you do anything to keep from going?"

"How can I? I'm an organist. There's nothing for organists."

"Isn't there anything else?"

"I can sing—a little. I used to act in school plays. That's all. I can't run a typewriter or take dictation. I can't run an adding machine. I don't know how to sell shoes or silk or—or anything."

"You have a nice voice."

"Oh—"

He added, quickly, "You see, voices are my job. I'm a—don't laugh, now! I'm a radio announcer."

"Oh!" Judy remembered all the times she had listened to the radio back in Hiawatha; heard music coming from Chicago, from New York; heard pompous, cultured voices intoning the announcements—heard, now and then, a warm, friendly, real voice. Like this voice.

"I'm on the staff at WAOA. Chief announcer," he said, with a touch of naive pride. "And I thought—I thought—wait!" His eyes sparkled. He was nice, Judy thought. "Wait a minute! I've an idea! You have a lovely voice. Really. And good diction. Gosh" He started at his wristwatch in obvious surprise. "I had no idea it was 7:20. I'm on the air in 15 minutes. Got to run. But—I'll leave a note in your mailbox tonight. About a job. A job you can get, I think. And—you won't throw me down?"

"Throw you down?"

"You'll try for it?"

"Of course. Oh, of course. But—" She ought to protest. She oughtn't to take help from a man she didn't know. Not even from such a nice man. Not even from Dick Mason. "I—"

He was already halfway to the door. It wouldn't do any good to argue. She could see what it was about later.

"Remember!" he said. "I'm counting on you! 'Bye."

"'Bye," Judy had said, in a small voice. And the young man had gone and now Judy, riding on the bus, remembered that Mrs. Malone had been smiling, had said. "Nice, isn't he? And so different from most of our young men. A really fine young man, Miss Allison." Matchmaking again, Judy had thought. The one thing Mrs. Malone loved was to see her "young people"—she called them all "my young people"—to see her young people going places together. She was proud of three marriages she personally had caused by careful introductions.

Judy had put the telegram back into her pocket, got up hastily, paid her check, gone to her room. She went out later, alone, to the arty little movie around the corner and saw a German film, and she couldn't understand German and the hero was homely. So she went home, and to bed, and tried to sleep, and tried to believe she wasn't going back to Hiawatha, after all. Sleepily she remembered that Dick Mason's hair was thick, and brown and brushed back smoothly; that his eyes twinkled; that he had a very small dimple in the exact center of his cheek, and that—

She awakened to a sharp, loud knock, and she knew at the first moment of wakefulness that only Mrs. Malone would be knocking so early? Early? The clock said 8:20. She'd been asleep for hours and hours!

"Yes."

It was Mrs. Malone.

"Miss Allison, Mr. Mason left a message for you. He said it was very important. He said he'd see you—down there. He said to be on time for sure. He said—"

Judy opened the door, saw Mrs. Malone smiling maternally, thought "matchmaker!" said, "Thank you, Mrs. Malone," closed the door, read the message from Dick Mason. He wrote with funny, big flourishes. A nice, friendly way to write.

U. S. RENEWS PROTEST ON LIBERIA'S SLAVERY

WASHINGTON, March 16.—(AP)—The United States has joined with Great Britain and other European powers in another protest against slavery conditions in Liberia.

Upon the recommendation of the League of Nations commission to make inquiry into the existance of forced labor, of which Samuel Reber Jr., is the American member, strong representations were made to Liberia on March 7 by the state department against the persecution of Liberian witnesses who testified before the commission.

GOVERNOR OF OHIO TO CALL EXTRA SESSION

COLUMBUS, Ohio, March 16.—(AP) An extraordinary session of the Ohio general assembly will be called by Governor George White to consider enactment of unemployment and poor relief legislation, the governor said tonight.

The date for the special session has not been fixed. He indicated it may be called next week.

A week ago the governor submitted a program to the special joint taxation committee which he estimated would provide $23,500,000 for relief up to March 31, 1933.

TAILORED FROCK.
Pattern No. 273-A.

The new feminine tailleur has excited Paris, and thrilled American women too. Women who desire smartness, but dislike severity, will joyfully welcome the advent of 273 A. Its modish lines are so distinctly feminine, and at the same time so smartly tailored. The skirt, front-pleated, flares slightly from knee to hem. The short, belted jacket fits snugly about the hips, and from the waist tapers into shoulder breadth. The sleeves, which are inserted straight from the shoulder, attain a bishop effect through elbow puff and long, slender cuff. Something new in scarfs is smocked to each separate shoulder and falls into a slight cowl effect by passing through the buckled belt. Designed in sizes 14, 16, 36, 38, 40, 42 and 44. Size 36 requires 4 1-4 yards of 36-inch fabric, or 3 yards of 54-inch fabric.

To get a pattern of this model send fifteen cents (15c) in coins.

Please write very plainly your name and address, style number and size of each pattern ordered.

Our new fashion magazine with color supplement and Paris style news is now available at 15 cents.

FOUNDERS HONORED IN EXERCISES HELD AT MORRIS BROWN U.

Founders' Day exercises were held Wednesday in Morris Brown University chapel. Business and professional men, educators, churchmen, the laiety of all denominations of the colored group representing workers throughout the state, and the student body heard addresses tracing the progress of the institution since its founding.

Bishop W. A. Fountain, A. M., Ph. D., chairman of the board of trustees, presided. Drs. B. G. Dawson, pastor of Big Bethel church; W. A. McClendon, Allen Temple church; D. T. Babcock, St. Paul church, assisted in the devotionals, which were followed by negro spirituals.

The principal speaker, W. H. C. Brown, Washington, D. C., was introduced by the bishop. He discussed political complications of the national life prior to 1914 and followed by the World War, the disturbing conditions of the present wars in the orient, and the modern economic stress. He concluded by paying a tribute to the founders and builders of Morris Brown.

Bishop J. S. Flipper, ex-president of Morris Brown University, told of the institution's growth. Drs. J. A. Hadley, presiding elder of the Rome district; W. B. L. Clark, presiding elder of the Atlanta district; R. J. Jefferson, presiding elder, Griffin district; B. V. Thornton, presiding elder, Monticello district; T. J. Linton, presiding elder, East Macon district; C. A. Wingfield, presiding elder, Marietta district; C. C. Ealey, presiding elder, Washington district, were other speakers.

28 Cows Ride to Town On De Luxe Dixie Flyer

When the Dixie Flyer thundered into the Union station at 6:55 p. m. Wednesday it brought to Atlanta what is believed to be the first express shipment of cattle on record—28 Guernsey cows consigned to the Irvindale dairy, of which Richard H. Hull is owner.

The cows, which were in a special express car, were brought here hurriedly from Wisconsin to meet a heavy demand for milk made by patrons of the dairy, which was short of milk-producing cows.

Mr. Hull explained that the shipment, valued at $4,000, was brought to Atlanta four days faster by express than it could have been moved by freight. It cost the dairy head $400 for express charges, $280 more than the toll would have been by freight. The cows made the journey in 23 hours, whereas if sent by freight the trip would have required five days.

Burgess Children's Stories

THE GIFT OF THE TREES.

BY THORNTON W. BURGESS.

Who gives of self no more can give,
And ask no more than thus to live.
—Old Mother Nature.

Farmer Brown's Boy loved every one of the great rough-barked maple trees. They were old friends, dear friends. They were giants, old when he was born, old even when Farmer Brown himself was a boy. Yet all these years they had been giving freely of themselves, giving, giving, giving, as if in giving they found their greatest joy in living. Farmer Brown's Boy was thinking of this as he moved from one to another collecting the sap from the pails hanging from little spouts driven into the trees and then carrying it in two connecting pails hanging from his shoulder yoke, to be emptied into a great hogshead from which it would enter the evaporator and there be boiled until it was rich, heavy syrup, and some of it until when drawn out and cooled it crystallized into brown-tinted maple sugar.

Some trees gave more freely than others of their precious sap. Some pails would be brimming full while others would be only half filled. But always there was some sap, and he knew that the tree had given what it could. Sometimes he would stop for a minute to listen to the drumming of Downy the Woodpecker or Tapper the Sapsucker and it always seemed to him that there was a joyous sound in that drumming. Sometimes he would get a glimpse of Thunderer the Grouse or shier Mrs. Grouse. Again he would stand motionless knowing that a pair of great soft eyes were watching him, and presently he would discover Lightfoot the Deer half hidden in a thicket of young hemlocks. Then he would wave to him and laugh aloud as Lightfoot bounded away, his tail erect and bobbing up and down with every jump like a white flag.

He would teast Chatterer the Red Squirrel into scolding him as only Chatterer can scold, and then toss him a cracker he had brought in his pocket. He would answer the caw of Blacky the Crow and imitate the scream of Redshoulder the Hawk. He would call Tommy Tit the Chickadee to him for a bit of nut meat and Tommy would not hesitate to take it from his hand.

So he would go among the great maple trees and as he would listen to the faint tinkle of sap dripping in the pails he would lightly touch their rough trunks and in so doing feel something of their sturdy strength in his own being, and the spirit of that perfect friendship which freely gives and asks nothing.

Thus day by day he grew richer for the gift of the trees, not merely the sweets from their freely given sap, but a growing understanding of life and the fulfillment through steadfast courage what e'er befall of the great purpose behind all living companionship. And this was perhaps their greatest gift.

Lillian Mae Patterns

MADE IN SIZES 36 TO 46.
Pattern 2305.

If you look best in dresses that slenderize your figure, this model, designed with just such details in mind, should please you tremendously. The graceful rever, the snug hip yoke and the tucks at shoulders and back neck are especially good for the matron. You may place the sleeve flares above or below the elbow, whichever is more becoming. Flat crepe in navy with beige dots, a beige rever and four attractive buttons complet the frock.

Pattern 2305 is obtainable only in sizes 36 to 46. Size 36 requires 3 5-8 yards of 39-inch fabric, 1-2 yard contrasting.

Send fifteen cents (15c) in coins or stamps (coins preferred), for each pattern. Write plainly your name, address and style number. Be sure to state size wanted.

Send for the spring fashion catalog. This beautiful, colorful book offers 32 pages of chic, authentic Lillian Mae styles for adults and children. The newest frocks for afternoon, evening and sports wear, exquisite lingerie, attractive house dresses and adorable kiddie models are featured—all personally chosen by Lillian Mae and all fashionable, practical, easy and inexpensive in make. Price of catalog, 15 cents.

CHURCH-GOING URGED TO CUT DIVORCE RATE

More church attendance to reduce the mounting divorce rate was advised by Dr. Henry Alford Porter, former Atlanta pastor, in an evangelistic message Wednesday evening at Second Baptist church.

Dr. Porter quoted the judge of a court of domestic relations in one of America's greatest cities who asserted that the first step he attempted in ironing out matrimonial difficulties was to get husbands and wives to attend church together.

"There is something in the human heart that demands the comfort that only the church can give," Dr. Porter asserted. "When this spiritual hunger goes unappeased, unhappiness follows and unhappiness is the original cause of domestic strife more often than domestic strife is the original cause of unhappiness."

Dr. Porter will preach each evening this week at 7:45 o'clock.

BEN FELD, 50, DIES AT RESIDENCE HERE

Ben Feld, 50 years old, president of the Feld Investment Company, 195 Whitehall street, died Wednesday night at his residence, 129 North avenue, N. E.

Mr. Feld is survived by his wife; a daughter, Mrs. M. Stephen Schiffer, of Atlanta; a sister, Mrs. J. Katz, of Knoxville, Tenn., and a brother, Morris Feld, of Chattanooga.

Arrangements for funeral will be announced by Sam R. Greenberg & Co.

NOTICE.

The annual meeting of the stockholders of the Atlanta and West Point Railroad Company will be held in Room No. 202, No. 4 Hunter St., S. E., Atlanta, Georgia, on Tuesday, April 19, 1932, at 11 o'clock a. m.

Protesting Democratic Councilman Forced To Attend Session in Overalls

RENSSELAER, N. Y., March 16.—(AP)—Flanked by stalwart policemen, a protesting democratic councilman in overalls, was forced today to attend a council meeting which had been powerless to function because none of the five democratic city fathers answered a roll call.

Five republican members of the council waited last night for a democrat to show up and half of today was fretted away before the patrolmen, commissioner sergeants at arms, were sent out to forcibly bring in a democrat.

They found C. W. Boos on his locomotive in the New York Central yards. Boos streaked with oil and grease was escorted to the meeting. When he tried to escape republicans blocked the doors. Legislation was put through with loud cries of "aye" from the republicans and a less voluminous "no" from Boos.

Business requiring appropriations, however, was delayed because a quorum of seven is required to pass measures demanding money.

Since January 1, the city council of this little city across the Hudson river from Albany, has been deadlocked by the evenly divided membership.

A few days ago a democratic member became ill and the opposition rubbed its hands with glee. The deadlock had been broken. But the democrats agreed to remain away until their colleague recovered. Remain absent they did until the patrolmen took Boos, a yard engine driver, off his locomotive.

Balanced Budgets, Balanced Minds Will Cure Business, Fishburn Says

Junius P. Fishburn, Virginia financier, publisher, and civic leader, Wednesday prescribed "balanced budgets and balanced minds" for the cure of economic ills. He spoke at a forum luncheon of the Atlanta Chamber of Commerce.

Mr. Fishburn is a vice president of the Chamber of Commerce of the United States, president and publisher of the Roanoke World-News, and a director of the federal reserve bank of Richmond.

The process of rescue from the present situation, he said, will be speeded if the individual will "stop waiting to be rescued and tackle the job energetically on his own doorstep. There's much that the government in Washington can and should do in times like these; there's more it might do but should not; and still other things that it cannot possibly do," he said.

"It can't, for instance, alter our state of mind," Mr. Fishburn asserted, "that's largely a job for the individual and there is evidence the average American is beginning to think straight again."

Must Balance Budget.

"One fundamental thing remains for the government to do," he said. "It must balance its budget. This, too, in the case of the federal government, at least, seems on the verge of accomplishment."

"More emphasis, however," he continued, "is being placed on budget balancing than on the method of balancing. The first step toward balanced budgets should be drastic reduction in governmental expenditures. Higher and higher taxation can't forever be the answer. Government in America costs too much money—a total of thirteen or fourteen billion dollars annually for all forms of government—a sum equivalent to about one-fourth the national income.

"The way to meet reduced income, in the face of present conditions, is through reduced expenditures, which means reduced governmental activities."

In line with that opinion, he said, directors of the national chamber have agreed to suspend any request for increased government spending.

Definite progress in combating drastic deflation is being made by such measures as the National Credit Corporation, the Reconstruction Finance Corporation, and the Glass-Steagall bill.

Organized business, he went on, is opposed to any such proposals as a dole, a huge bond issue for public works, or compulsory unemployment insurance.

Declines to Forecast.

Mr. Fishburn is a youthful-looking man of about forty, who seems to carry his burdens of business responsibility without much effort. After his address he was asked by a Constitution reporter what he thought the business future held out.

"I don't make predictions," he said. "You know what happened to a certain author who wrote a book of predictions. All of them fell flat.

"The most encouraging thing I know, however, is the sharp falling off in the past few weeks of bank failures, together with a decided improvement in credit. This is the basis of business."

He added that various forms of legislation affecting banks had had a beneficial effect.

HEAVY CROP DAMAGE DONE BY WEEK'S COLD

WASHINGTON, March 16.—(AP)—Virtual destruction of all southern early gardens and tender truck crops from Texas and Oklahoma eastward to the Atlantic by last week's biting cold was reported today by the weather bureau.

In many sections, the bureau said, low temperatures made the week the coldest March week of record. Heavy frosts and freezing weather reached all portions of the gulf coast.

Cross Sections of Life In Gate City of South

Preston S. Arkwright, president of the Georgia Power Company, is to address members of the Junior Chamber of Commerce at their Bosses' Day luncheon at 12:05 p. m. today. Mr. Arkwright's talk will be "The Crisis Has Passed." John C. Panter is on the program for a vocal number.

W. C. King Jr. Wednesday entered suit for $1,500 damages against J. Austin Dillon Company in superior court for injuries of his wife in a crash between a car she was driving and a Dillon ambulance on February 25. Mrs. King entered a damage suit on Tuesday for $15,000.

The suit of Walter S. McNeal, Alex Vaughan Jr. and J. S. Freeman versus the city board of education, asking for a judgment of $676 to then be paid back into school funds, was dismissed in Fulton superior court Wednesday when Judge Virlyn B. Moore sustained a general demurrer. The suit sought to declare certain appropriations invalid, among them one to W. W. Gaines for expenses to a meeting in California. Judge Moore also allowed 20 days for the perfection of an appeal if one is desired.

The will of Mrs. Callie B. Wimberly was filed with the ordinary of Fulton county Wednesday in application for probate in solemn form. The estate is divided among immediate members of the family and was drawn on January 1, 1932. The First National bank is named executor.

Hamilton Lee, who, according to the solicitor-general's office, is an inmate of the state farm following conviction of burglary charges at Monroe, was convicted of auto theft before Judge John D. Humphries in Fulton superior court Wednesday. He was given a sentence of 12 months.

Petition for involuntary bankruptcy was filed in federal district court Wednesday against G. J. Long, doing business as the American Printing Company.

Federal grand jury Wednesday returned one no-bill and 15 true bills. All of the true bills were for alleged liquor violations. The jury will continue its session today.

Atlanta lodge, No. 78, B. P. O. Elks, will meet at 8 o'clock tonight in the Elks home, 736 Peachtree street, N. E. Visiting members are invited to be present.

A. B. Cate, president of the Atlanta Stamp Society, will feature the meeting of the club tonight when he will give a talk on air mail stamps and display a part of his large collection of aerial adhesives. The society meets at 7:30 o'clock in 304 Peck building, Houston street at Peachtree. Visitors and collectors are invited to hear Mr. Cate and to meet the members.

R. L. Estes, 40, of Hapeville, was in a serious condition at Grady hospital Wednesday as the result of a fall in front of a street car at Hapeville Tuesday afternoon. Doctors at Grady said he had received a possible fracture of the skull. The accident occurred after Estes had stepped from a car on Central avenue near his home.

Mrs. Elizabeth Collier, 130 Gilmer street, was treated at Grady hospital Wednesday morning for poisoning said to have resulted when she swallowed a lethal dose at her home. Mrs. Collier, however, did not take a sufficiently large dose to prove fatal, and her condition was not serious. No reason could be ascribed for her act.

Board of directors, Atlantic Ice and Coal Company, Wednesday approved payment of a regular quarterly dividend of 75 cents a share on all outstanding Class A preference stock of the corporation. Stockholders of record March 21 will receive approximately $151,000 on April 1, the dividend date. The dividend rate is $6 per annum.

Money passing through the office office of a company in Georgia, even if it comes from out of the state, is taxable under the gross receipts law, the state supreme court held Wednesday. The case was an appeal of the John Read Company, Illinois corporation in Atlanta, from an assessment of $3,660.37 made by the state revenue commission.

DeKalb county grand jury for the March term adjourned Wednesday after an investigation of county officials and affairs which were declared high efficient, according to George West, foreman. Rumors concerning C. A. Matthews, commissioner of roads and revenues, suggesting irregularities in his work were declared unfounded. Mr. Matthews being praised in the presentments for reducing the tax rate and paying $338,898.69 on the county's floating indebtedness.

Colonel Frank H. Burton left Atlanta by automobile Wednesday for San Antonio, Texas, and California, to await formal retirement from the army April 30. Colonel Burton at that time will have reached 64 years of age. He has spent 34 years in military service and has been stationed at headquarters fourth area as corps area quartermaster, Fort McPherson, since May, 1928.

City Club will hold its weekly luncheon at 12:30 o'clock today at the Winecoff hotel. Hooper Alexander will speak on "Financial Conditions of Georgia."

Edward B. Moran, executive sales manager of the Bradstreet company, will address the Atlanta Association of Credit Men at 6:30 o'clock tonight at the Atlanta Athletic club, according to Fred H. Sned, secretary-manager.

Southern Academy of Periodontology held its annual meeting Wednesday at the Atlanta Biltmore. Dr. M. B. Huff, president, and Dr. E. D. Rose, of Bowling Green, Ky., made addresses. Following luncheon a clinic was held, at which Dr. Rose demostrated his method of treatment. A banquet in honor of Dr. Rose closed the meeting.

James L. Key choir will meet at 7:30 o'clock tonight at the Ansley hotel. Edgar Howerton, director, requests that all members be present.

A common law wife is entitled to government insurance left by World War veterans, the state supreme court ruled Wednesday in an appeal involving the claim of Charlotte Ramsey to the proceeds of a policy left by William Ramsey. The court upheld a ruling of Judge A. L. Franklin, of Richmond superior court.

Judge E. Marvin Underwood, in federal district court Wednesday, disposed of eight minor liquor cases brought before him. Fines and sentences were meted out to those convicted or who entered pleas of guilty.

Cases of Herman Benjamin, Albert C. Wessell, Robert Williams and Dr. John G. Wilkins, all charged with conspiracy to violate the Harrison narcotic act, were placed on the criminal calendar of federal district court Tuesday for hearing on April 11, according to Harry Moses, deputy clerk.

Atlanta Opportunity School will sponsor a leap year dance Friday night on the roof garden of the Georgia Tech evening school, beginning at 9:30 o'clock, with the Playboys, a local orchestra, furnishing the music. Admission will be 35 cents a couple.

BIG TEXAS COMPANY IN RECEIVERS' HANDS

American Republics Corporation, of Houston, Admits Insolvency.

WILMINGTON, Del., March 16.—(AP)—Three weeks after its management successfully fought a battle to retain control, the $42,000,000 American Republics Corporation of Houston, Texas, today went into the hands of receivers.

The action followed filing of a receivership bill in chancery court by John Walsh, of Washington, D. C., a stockholder. The corporation immediately filed an answer admitting insolvency.

Joseph S. Cullinan, of Houston, former president of the corporation, and Sylvester D. Townsend a Wilmington attorney, were named receivers.

The American Republics Corporation was organized in 1916 as a holding company owning or controlling 1,750,000 acres of oil lands in Texas and other southwestern states and operating concerns which produce supplies for the oil industry.

The bill of complaint filed by Walsh alleged the concern was indebted to its subsidiaries in an amount in excess of $4,500,000, all payable on demand.

In addition, the bill said, indebtedness to banks amounting to $850,000 became due and payable today and it was unable to renew the loans.

'LILY WHITE' LEADER IS SHOUTED DOWN AT MEMPHIS PARLEY

MEMPHIS, Tenn., March 16.—(AP)—C. Arthur Bruce, Memphis, lumberman and republican candidate for governor in 1930, was shouted down today when he sought to participate in organization maneuvers at the Shelby county republican convention.

Applauded by the "lily white" group, Bruce tried to nominate George H. Poole for chairman of the meeting, but the followers of R. R. (Bob) Church, negro, drowned out the sound of his voice.

Confusion followed as the "lily whites" continued to conduct their convention and the "black and tan" faction followed its own schedule. Working simultaneously in the same assembly room, the noise created by the conflicting meetings was deafening. There were no fights.

The "lily white" meeting adjourned and those supporting Bruce, including John E. McCall, former commander of the Tennessee department of the American Legion, left the room. A majority of the audience remained, and the Church convention continued.

Both groups chose delegates to the state convention at Nashville and each organized a new county executive committee.

BRITTEN PROPOSES CUT IN RUM FINES TO $500 MAXIMUM

WASHINGTON, March 16.—(AP)—A reduction of penalties that may be imposed under the Jones law was proposed in a bill introduced today by Representative Britten, republican, Illinois.

It would limit the maximum fine for prohibition law violators to $500 instead of $10,000 and the longest possible jail sentence, except for known bootleggers, rum runners and habitual prohibition law violators to six months instead of five years.

In a statement Britten said:

"My amendment will prevent heavy fines and sentences by intolerant or bigoted judges for such minor offenses as drinking in public, carrying a flask, home-brewing or distillation in quantities less than one gallon, and will prevent the heavy convictions for transporting less than one gallon of liquor in one's automobile.

"The now discredited Jones five-and-ten law was passed under the whip of Bishop Cannon and the Anti-Saloon League, and will be substantially repealed by the house if the committee on the judiciary to which my bill has been referred will report it for a vote."
